AUTUMN

HOMEcoming

"Burn Those Paper Tigers"

The diversity and originality of Tigard's 1968 homecoming brought about an explosion of school spirit.

"Mournful Monday" featured students and teachers in black in a mock wake for Newberg's coming downfall. Tuesday, Latin Club sponsored a fund-raising car bash. An early-morning continental breakfast sponsored by Tri-Hi-Y started Wednesday.

THS's story-high homecoming bonfire blazed it's way brightly into existence Thursday night in spite of an unidentified arsonist's attempt to set a torch to it the night before.

Team and spectators jointly worked for the defeat of Newberg at Friday night's homecoming game. The final score was Tigard 42, Newberg 20. Chilled football fans quickly warmed at the homecoming dance in the cafeteria.

Homecoming week was over but not forgotten. The Tiger spirit will linger in the ashes and rise to burn again next year.

THE DAY OF DOOM for the "Paper Tigers" was contemplated by teacher Larry Kott and Dave Simpson.

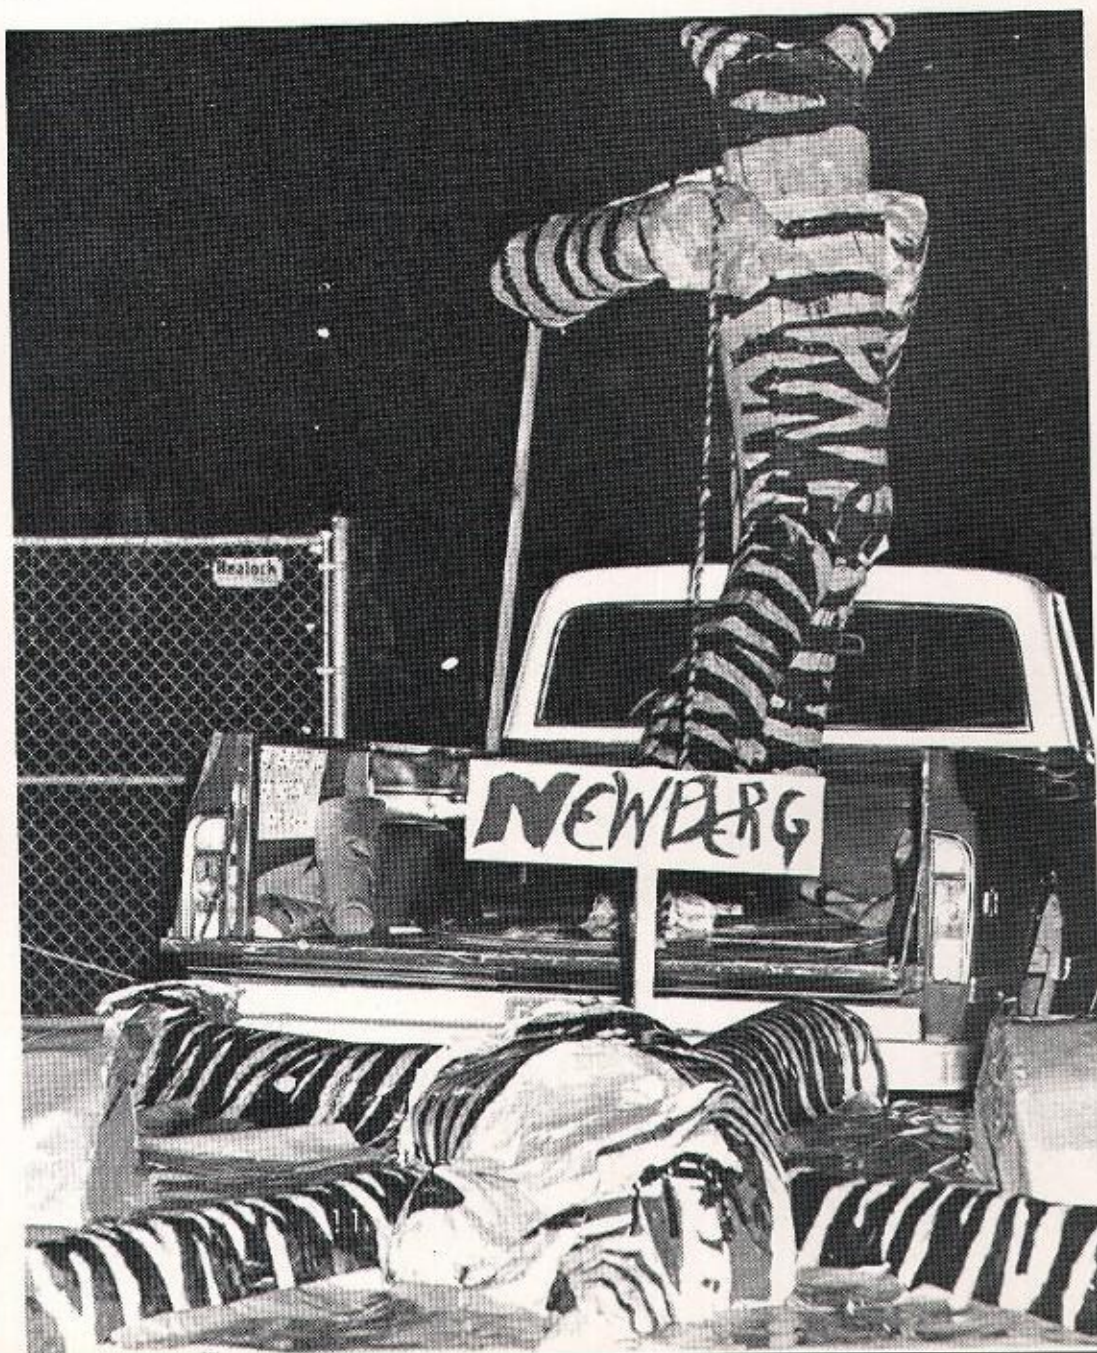

LIKE A TORCH OF VICTORY, the homecoming bonfire signaled the excitement for the upcoming game.

BRAVING THE WIND, the Varsity cheerleaders lead the four block long car rally through Tigard streets before the Homecoming game.

RALLY

Spirit Promoters Work for Unity.

"We were striving for unity in the school," stated '68 Varsity Rally Queen, Nita Flores. "We tried to decrease class competition so the kids would yell for their school and not for their class.

Tigard's '68 rally did much more for the school than support the teams. They encouraged spirit and unity in all phases of school life. To achieve these goals, the girls conducted a survey on school spirit early in the year.

Rated "One of the sharpest squads around!" by a state rally clinic, the girls worked hard for their competence.

Seniors Nita Flores, Kathy Benz, and Jan Chavez; Juniors Jenny West and Jan Carey, practiced every two weeks during the summer. Nita, Kathy and Jenny also attended a week-long rally camp in Eugene during July. After school started, each girl had a free seventh period in which to practice their numerous yells and skits.

JV RALLY

Practicing new yells and routines all summer, JV rally started the fall ready to help their varsity counterparts.

As first runner-up to the '68-69 varsity rally, Margo Havery automatically became squad captain. Jerri Parrish, as second in line, took over this job during spring.

Remaining members are: Denise Chavez, Sharon Johnson, Marilyn Johnston and Ann Jordan.

SADIE HAWKINS

Students Honor the Land of Al Capp

Hillbillies at heart, Sadie Hawkins gave Tigard students a chance to express their grubby inner personalities.

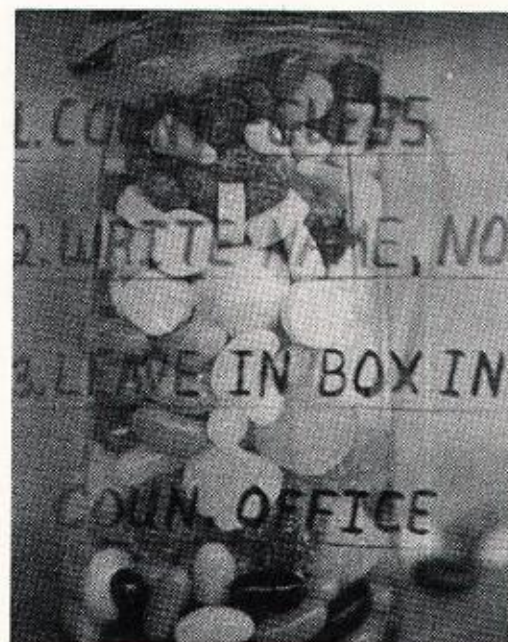

The pickle sale, jelly bean guess and ring sale launched the week's activities on Monday.

Wednesday was Crazy Hat and Shoe Day.

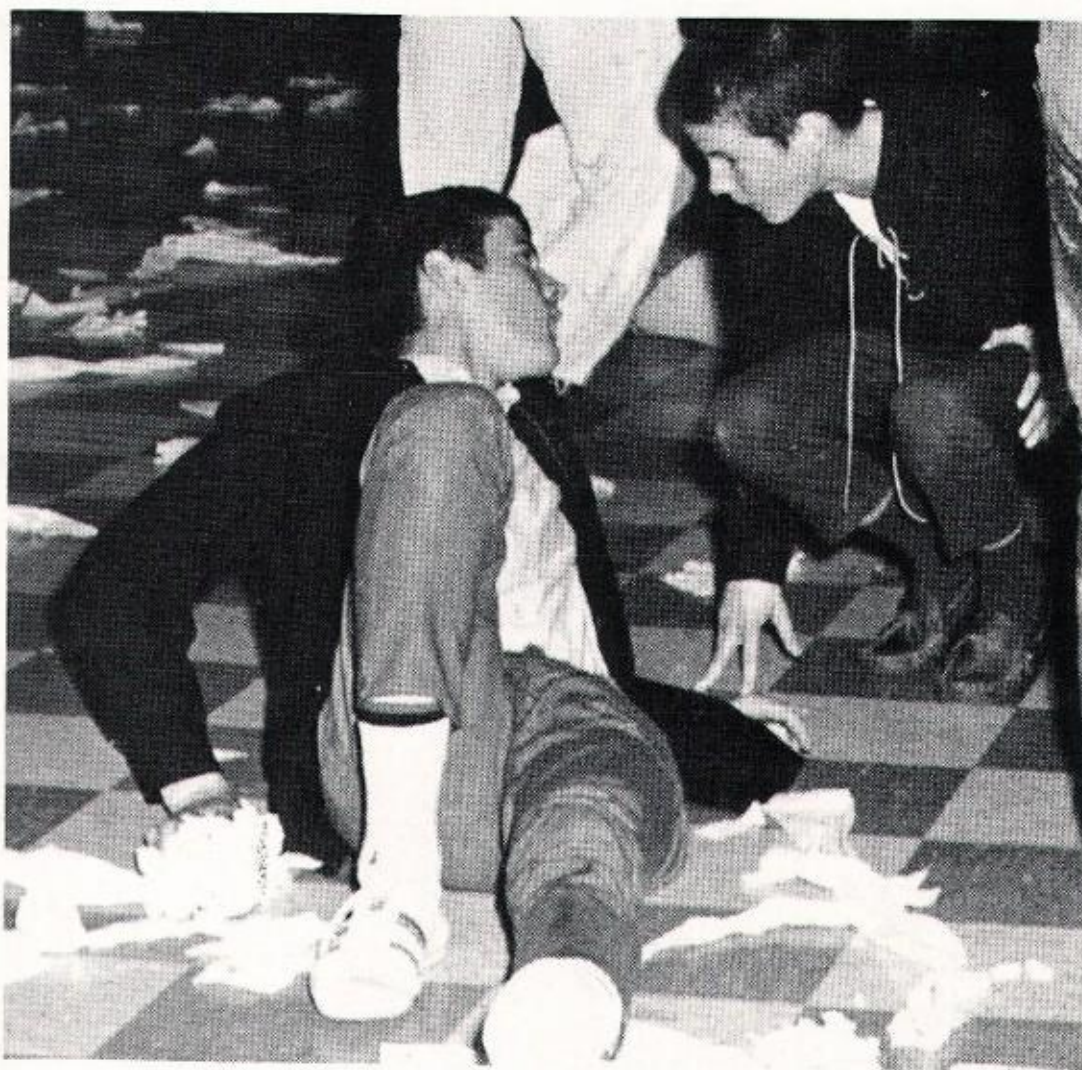

Log sawing, arm wrestling and tug-of-war contests provided opportunity for friendly rivalry during Thursday's lunch periods. Gwen Miller and Benny McQuaid won the log sawing contest. Dave Taylor was the strong man, winning four arm wrestling contests.

Workmen's overalls, cut-offs, straw hats and bare feet were typical on "Grubby Friday." A slave sale was held during the lunch hours. The most expensive slave was "Ralphina" (Ralph) Basile at $1.40.

Friday night's girl-ask-boy dance was a well attended success. Rebeca Maldonado and Carlos Rivers, Tigard's foreign exchange students, were crowned Queen Sadie and King Hawkins.

JELLY BEAN CONTEST WINNERS were Linda Harper and Daphne Bolden. Their prize: 503 jelly beans!

THE CRUCIBLE

Special Effects Set Mood For "Crucible"

Changing colored lights and dramatic music established the mood for "The Crucible."

The drama department's first production of the year, was an Arthur Miller period piece dealing with the Salem witch trials in 1692.

Leads were Pat Compton, as John Proctor, who fought for the truth about his wife, and Debi Mayernik, accused of being a witch. Steve Holgate portrayed Judge Hawthorne, who presided over the trials. Debbie Vaughan played the rival suitor and Mike Kartak was the deputy governor.

Getting the cast totally involved was Drama Coach Larry Daw's biggest concern. "The actors spent hours discussing how they wanted the audience to feel about the character they portrayed," he stated.

In the violent scenes, characters actually hit and slapped one another.

Several of the play's costumes were authentic. Debi Mayernik and Diane Bunker's dresses were 100 years old. The sets, designed by Daw, were built in Tigard's Special Education class. Excerpts from several dramatic recordings were edited for the musical background by Phil Hext.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Individuals Shine

The 1968 Tigers displayed a strong will to win. Hard-fought battles on the gridiron earned them 5 wins and 4 losses.

Starting with power, the big Green Machine defeated a highly-rated Dallas 19-13 at Dallas and then blanked Forest Grove 21-0 at home.

The Tigard eleven fell victim their next four games. They dropped a 33-21 decision to West Linn; lost to Lake Oswego (the eventual League Champion) 35-14; succumbed 22-6 to Oregon City, followed by a 33-21 loss to the Bears at McMinnville.

Determined to end the season on a winning note, the Tigers worked hard to re-establish their running game and to shore-up their defense.

This the Tigers did and made a whirlwind finish, winning their last three games in an impressive fashion. The fired-up Tigers dropped Tillamook 35-0; swept by Newberg in a great Homecoming effort 42-20; and white-washed St. Helens 20-0 in the season's finale.

The season ended with Tigard measuring up well to the other teams. Senior Grant Williams ended the season as the No. 1 quarterback in the league and second in the state with touchdown passes thrown. Junior Tim Mardock was the league's seventh Top Rusher with 576 yards gained. Senior Steve Thornbrue was the league's third Best Punter with a 36.4 yard per kick average. Having a great year, Senior Doug Vaday was the league's Top Receiver with 39 catches for the season.

Five Tigers were placed on the TYV All-Star Team. Senior Doug Vaday and Junior Tackle Bob Bachelder were named for the first team. Second Team members included Quarterback Grant Williams, Linebacker Don Silvey and Junior Center Fred Pfaffle. Vaday was also honored for his efforts by being selected to the OREGONIAN'S second team All-State Squad.

Voted the team's "Most Inspirational Player" and the "Best Blocker" was Senior Eric Knudsen. Senior Don Silvey received the "Top Tackler" award and was the team's choice as "Most Valuable Football Player."

COACHING AND COMMUNICATIONS played an important part in Tigard's football season during 1968. JV FOOTBALL

Squad Looks To Future

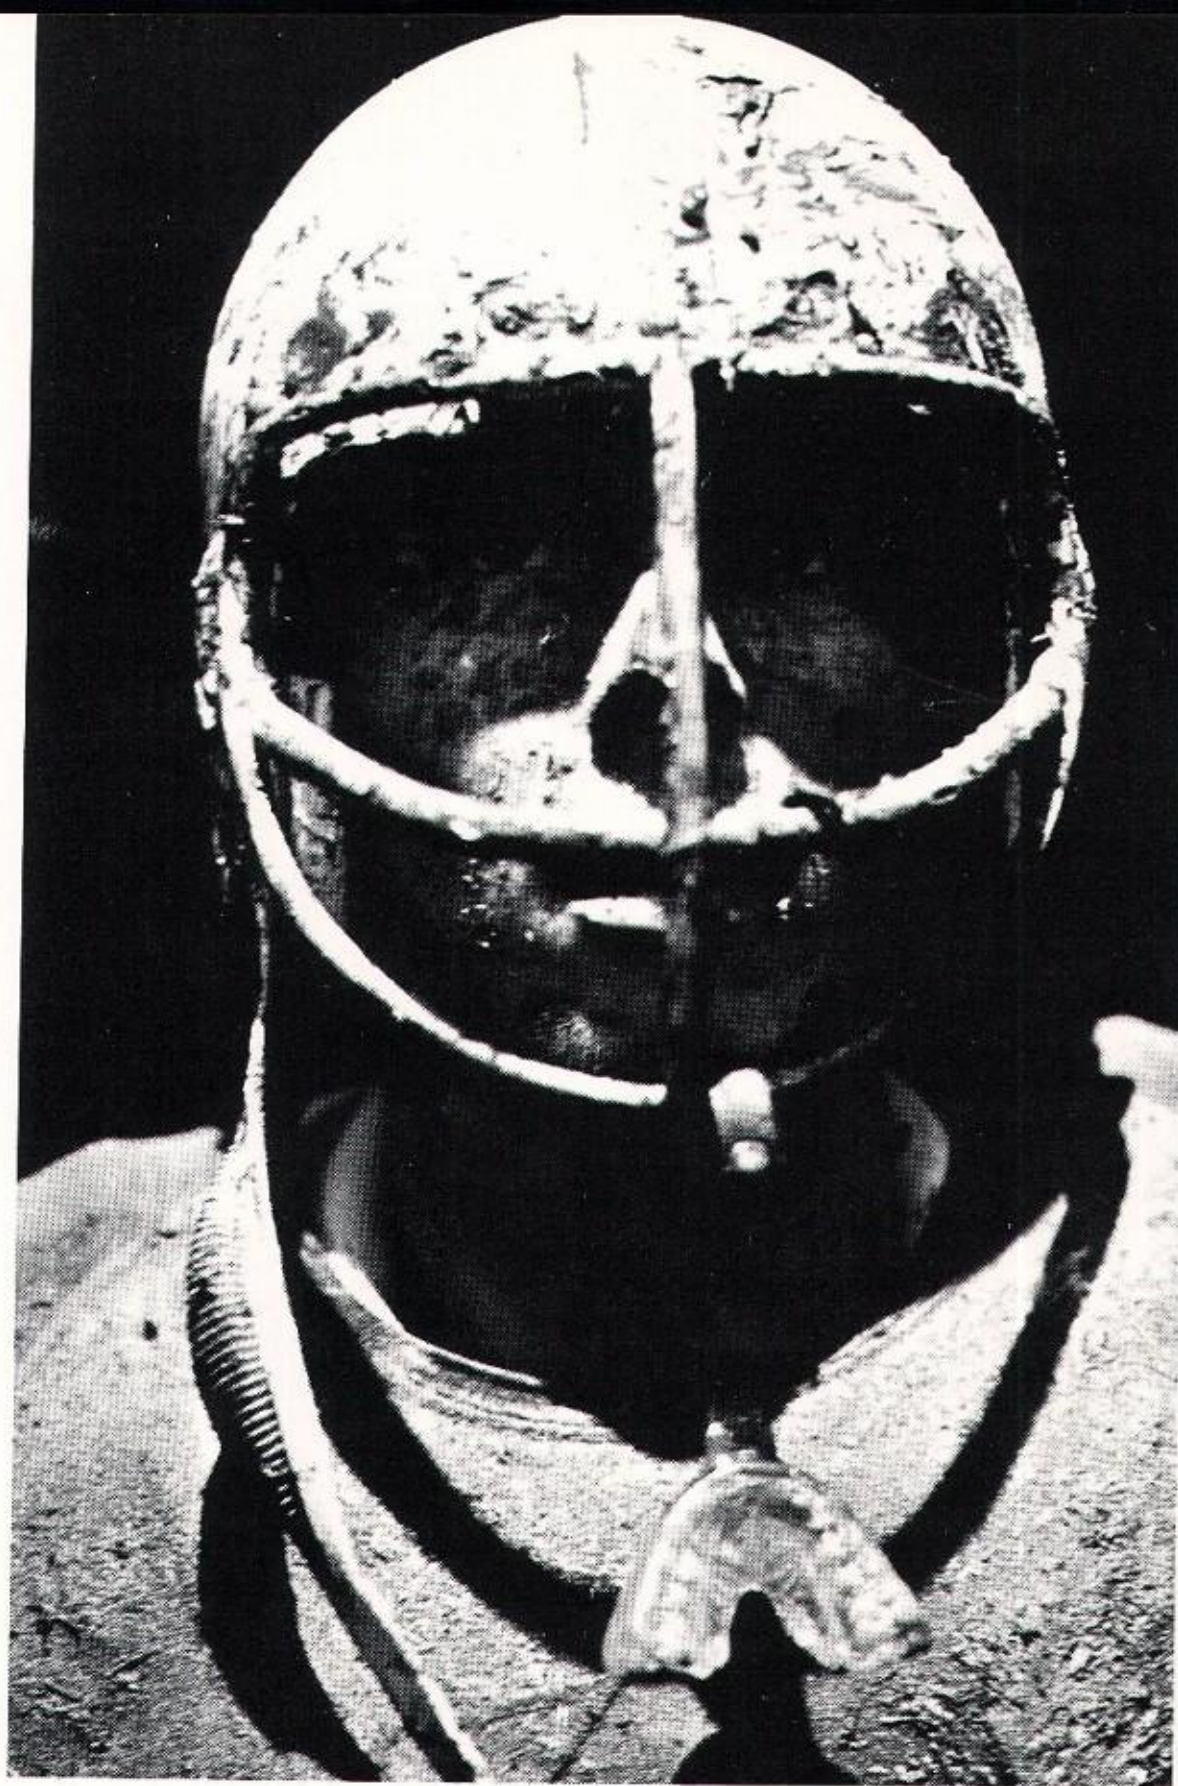

Amid paint-box bright autumn colors, Tigard's JV football team fought their way through two wins and six losses. Not an impressive record, but the talents developed will benefit 69's squad.

A skillful defense and outstanding individuals marked the '68 JV's. However, their inconsistent defense, trouble, being able to contain wise plays and receiving penalties in key moments hampered their overall success. A rib injury to crucial player Bill Olson in the third game also hurt the team.

CROSS COUNTRY

"Fantastic Four" Takes District Second

Racing their way through the artistry of autumn, Tigard's cross country squad didn't stop to catch their collective breath until second place in district was achieved.

They started the year with an impressive victory at the Tillamook early-season invitational run. The fleet-footed troupe then thundered on to win all league meets. Not the least of their accomplishments was a second place at district. This qualified Tigard's Cross Country department for their second year at state.

Called the "Fantastic Four" by their teammates, the company of Juniors Karl Lamon and Dean Clark, Seniors Jim Herbst and Tim McVicker often placed four out of the top five runners.

The remaining varsity members placed significantly high to keep Tigard on top all year. Junior varsity standouts Keith Moore and Robin Lee careened the JV squad to a third place in district.

Coach John Ulwelling summed up the season: "This was the most successful year yet. We expect to go to state again next year!"

SWIMMING

Small Squad Drowns Many School Records

Exploding past records, the '68 swim team worked harder than ever for this year's success.

Lack of experience in the boy's team posed some problems. However, team spirit was strong enough to drown these obstacles and plunged Tigard's water sprites to numerous victories.

Although the number of meets won dropped from last year, the number of records broken soared. The girl's team broke 18 individual and 5 relay school records.

District was a great success even with the girls receiving fifth place and the boys coming in seventh.

Tigard qualified three girls for state: Susan Spezza, Wendy White, and Carol Johnson. Each broke a record in the process. The diving squad also did well with Mark Blackburn, Whitney Cayton and Jody Ries placing.

While winning a meet is a team effort, swimming is an individual's sport and many excelled.

Top girl scorer was Junior Wendy White. The boy's high pointer was Junior Ken Kester. The team captains, Jeri Groce and Tom Bishop, did their part along with Tigard's exchange student from Mexico, Ricardo Morayata.

This year's lack of experience may turn into next year's glory. Only four varsity members will be leaving: Kathy Egger, Jeri Groce, Paul Rogers and Jim Snyder.

Also helping things along will be the new $350,000 swimming pool being built for next year.

TADPOLE-EYE VIEW of Sue Spezza practicing prior to state was captured by Jenny Paull in scuba outfit. It was her first photo assignment with new underwater camera.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Busybodies

Fight Apathy

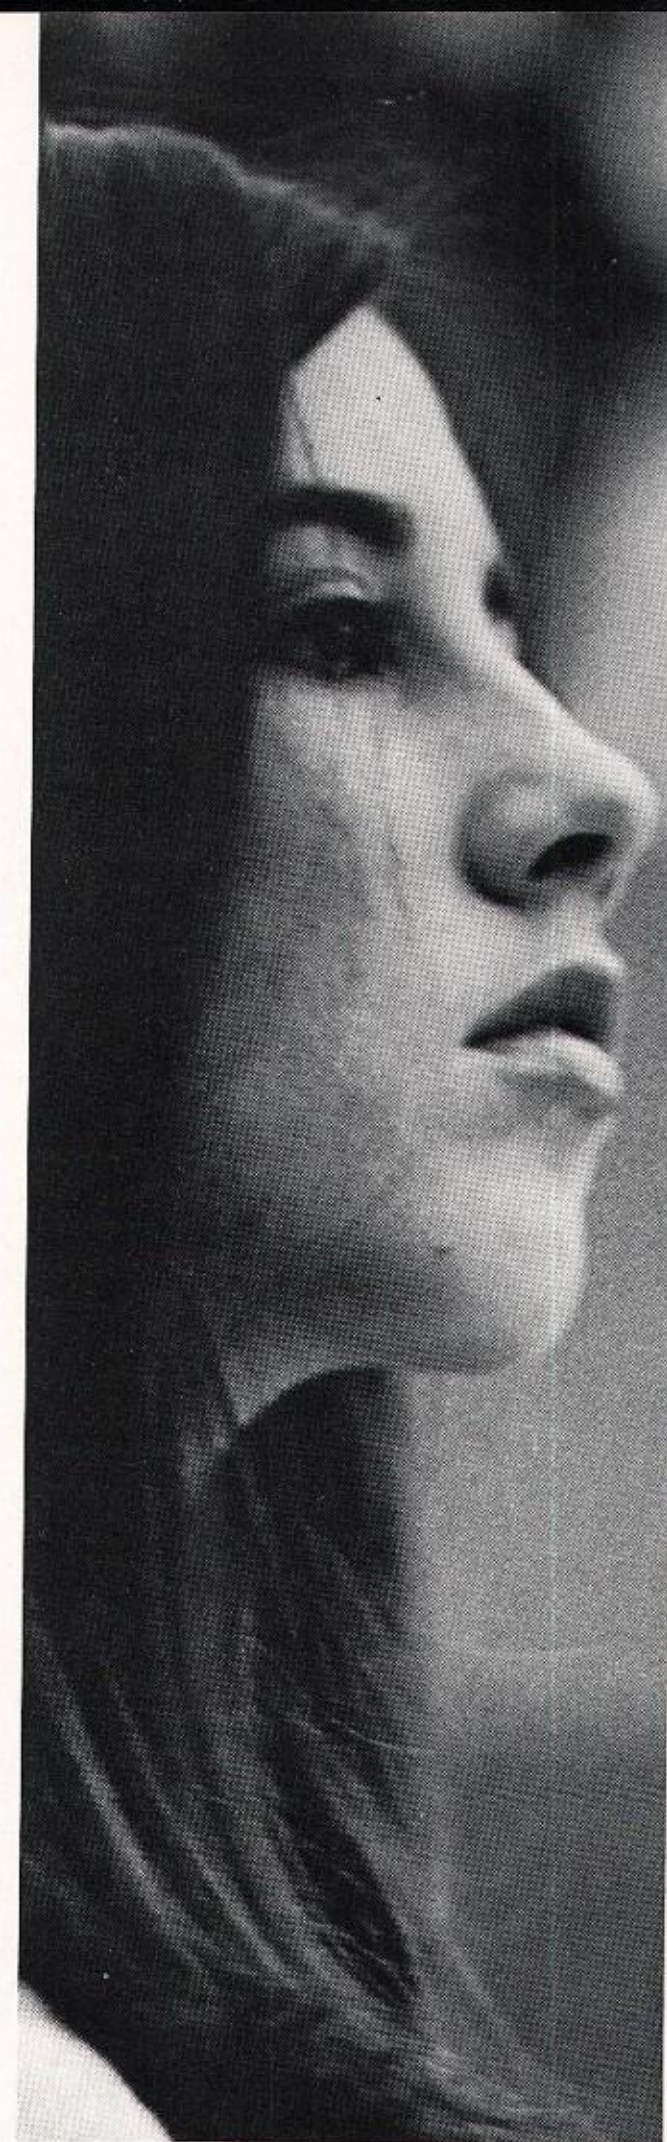

Tigard's '68-'69 student government was involved in all areas of school life.

The council was headed by student elected officials: Tom Lloyd, president; Steve Thornbrue, first vice-president; Fred Pfaffle, second vice-president; Colleen Sweeney, treasurer; Peggy Marostica, secretary; Kathy Sailing; sgt. at arms; Karen Rassmussen, assistant treasurer; Gail Matthias, activities manager; Elizabeth Eggert, asst. activities manager; Steve Waters, athletics manager; Gene Clark, chaplin.

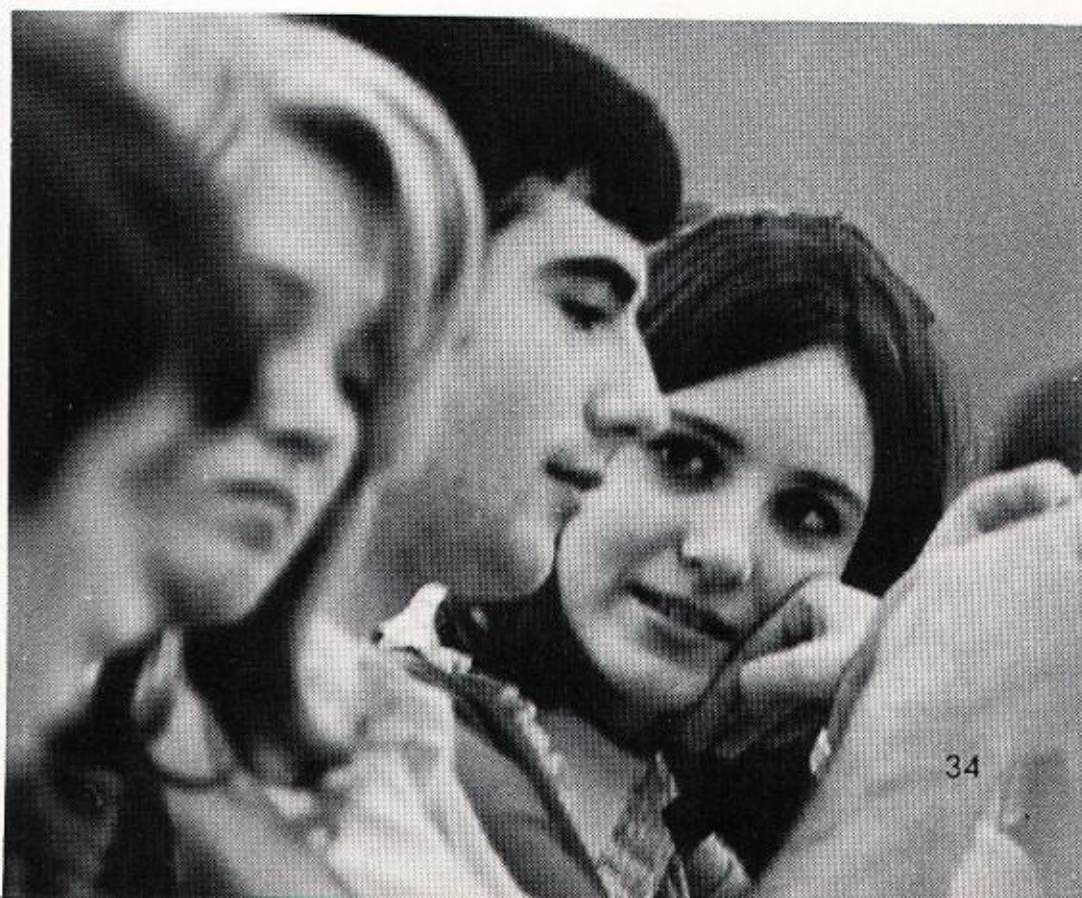

However, the 46 room representatives controlled the meetings with their vote power. They took the student grievances and suggestions to the meetings.

The standing committee held an important place in Student Council functioning. The Evaluations Committee evaluated all school functions and made recommendations to Student Council for approval. The Elections Committee was in charge of all school elections. The Assembly Committee screened all assemblies and arranged for more. The Activities Committee organized all student activities including Homecoming, Christmas Week and May Week.

Finally, the THS student government is a means to take action if students think there is a problem. This is a less publicized role, but an important one. It facilitates communication and understanding between the administration and the students.

ICC

Council Takes New Steps Forward

Coordinating the activities of Tigard's many clubs is the Inter-Club Council or ICC.

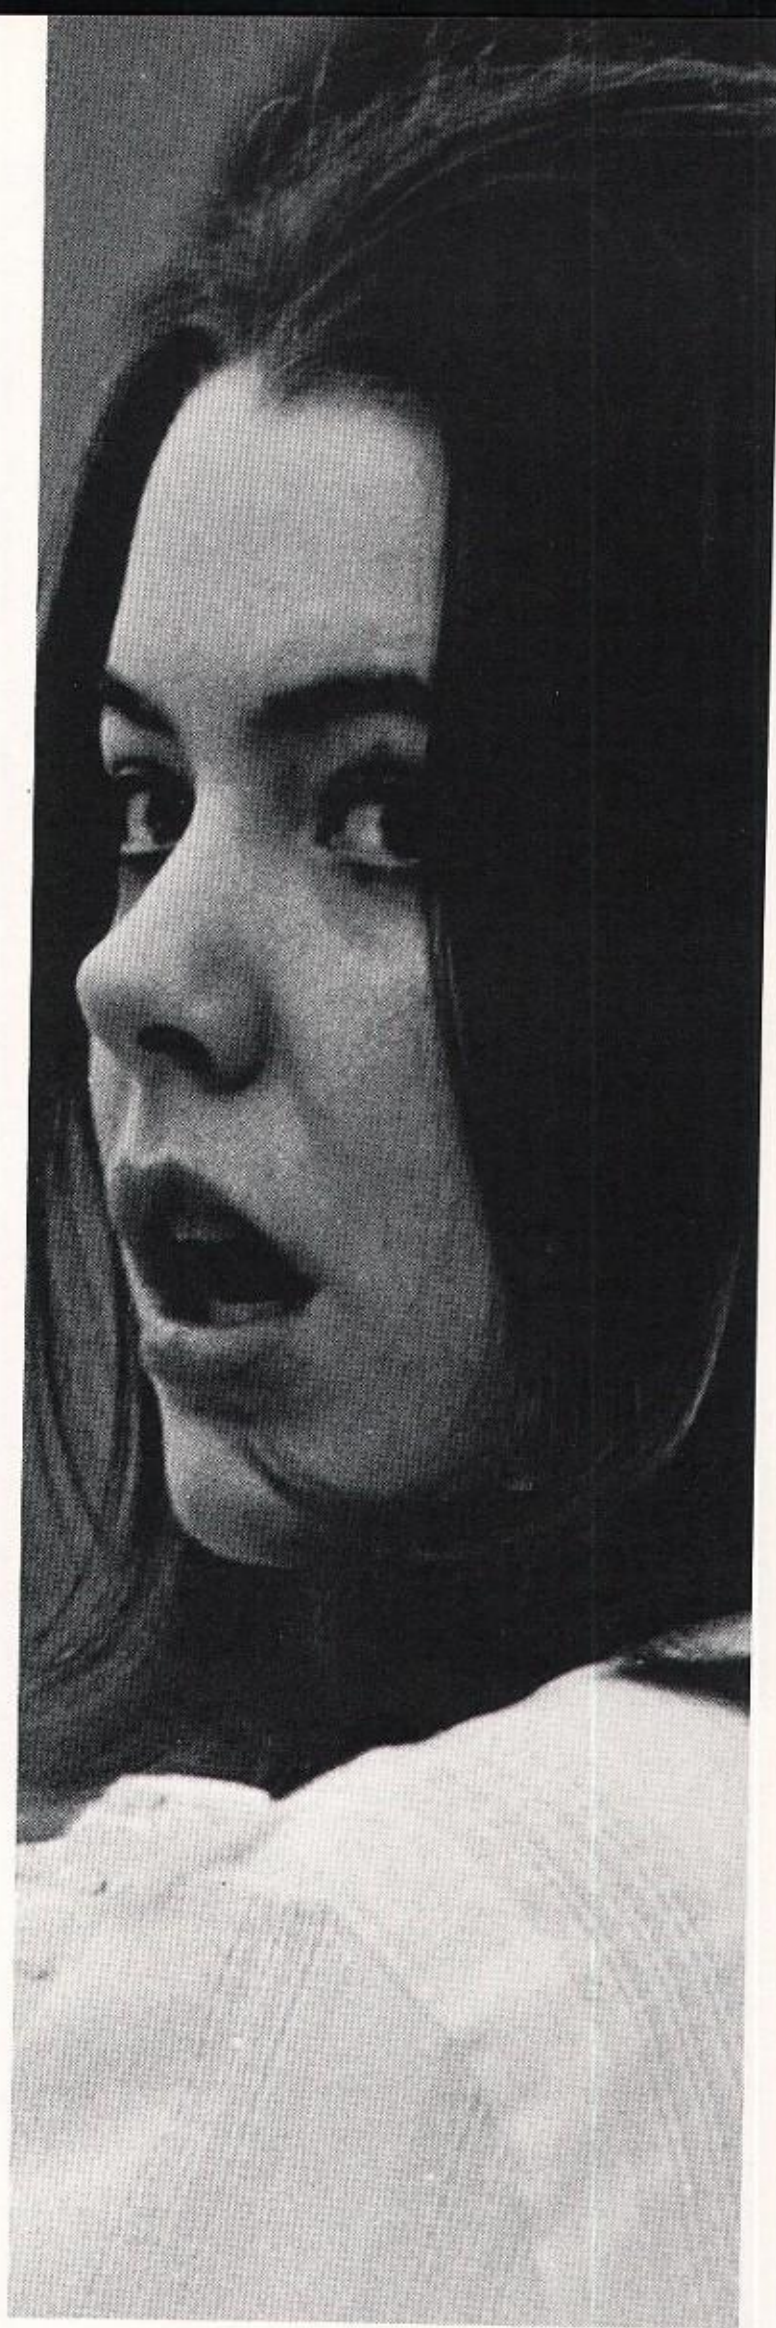

One of the club's many important activities is to select nominees for Boy and Girl of the Month.

Each club president attends the monthly meetings as a representative for his club. President of ICC is Fred Pfaffle. Bill Baker is vice-president and secretary is Kathy Benz.

Apprentice electricians, Short Circuits members kept busy all year. The boys worked on individual projects or in small groups. Their common interest in electronics kept the club together.

The club performed many services for the school. They repaired the school juke box. They supplied the Hi-Q team with practice lights and buzzers. Larry Carner, Jim Gill and Jeff Diehl provided lighting for school dances.

There were three special-interest groups within the club. One group worked with ham radios and learned Morse code. Others studied Hi-Fi equipment. The rocketry group, with a special advisor and a license, built and fired rockets.

Short Circuits performed many minor electrical repairs for staff members. They asked only a small fee for materials and time.

SPANISH CLUB

Activities Spotlight

Latin Linguists

Tigard's Spanish Club completed its second year of activities. Members ended the year with a deeper insight into Spanish speaking peoples and their culture. Mexico, Spain, Puerto Rico, Cuba, and the Latin American countries were studied in depth.

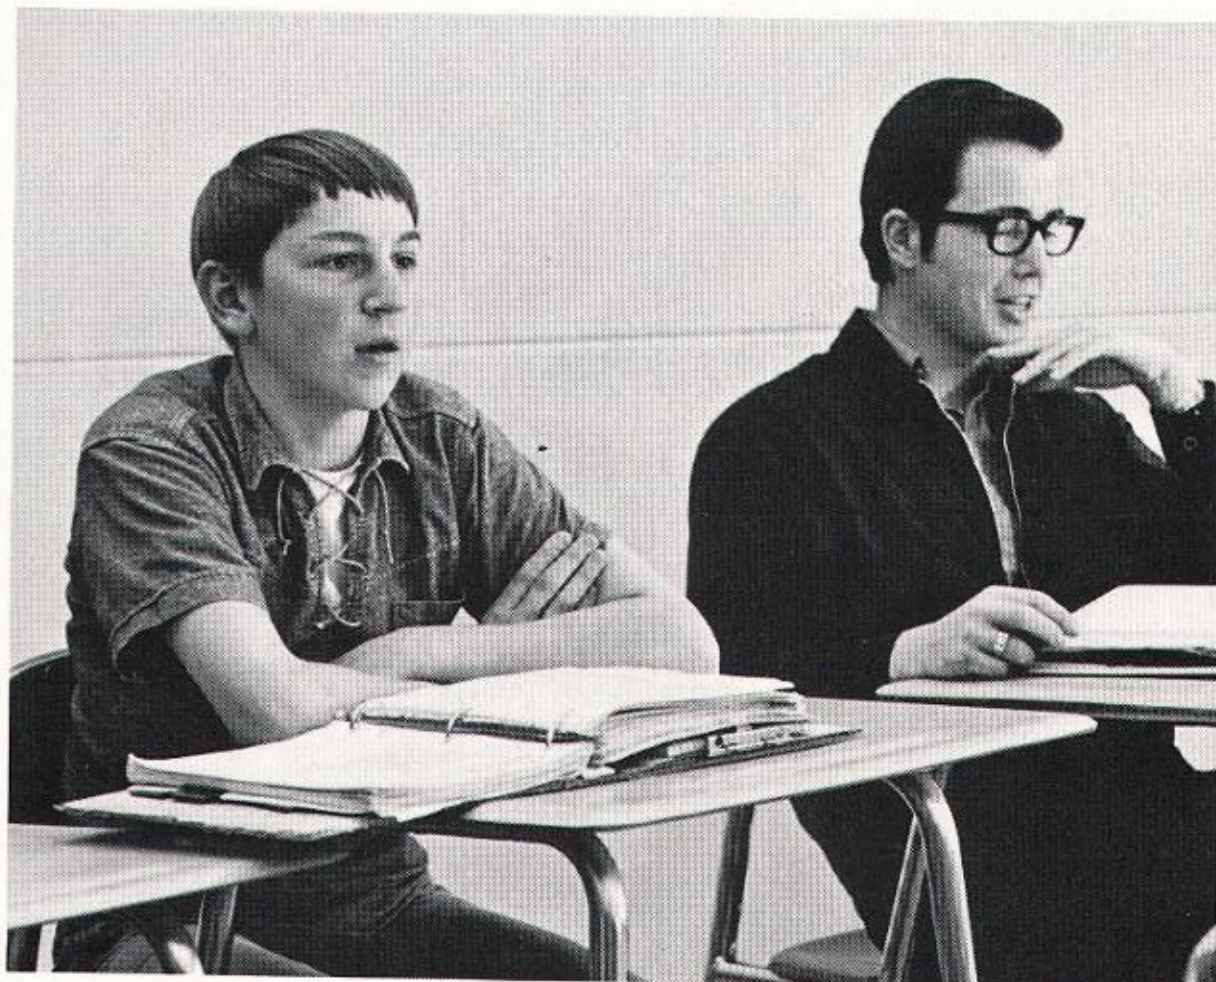

The year started with a large fiesta. Spanish food, music and games set the mood.

During Christmas, the club serenaded classes with Spanish carols. For money, candy was sold throughout the year.

Officers were: Jennifer Hanson, president; Judy Helms, vice-president; Sandi Adkins, secretary; Jane Hodges, corresponding secretary; Leona Simkins, treasurer and Margo Havery, historian.

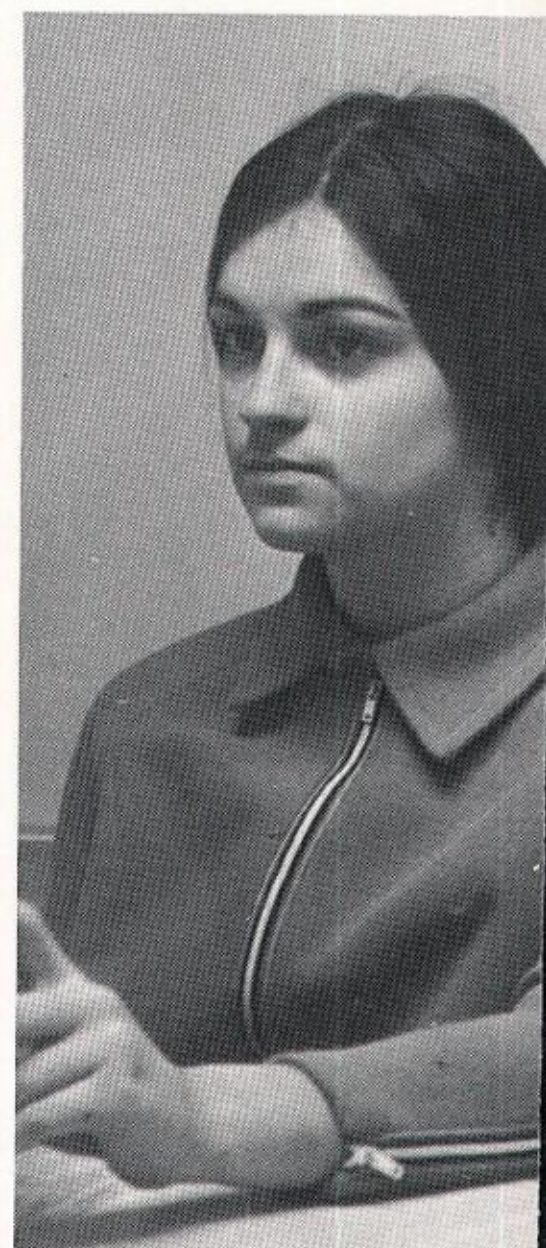

TAKING DOWN NOTES for the next meeting, Jennifer Hanson, president, works out a Spanish Club agenda and activities list.

LITERARY MAGAZIDE

Editors Quit "Quiddity"

Quiddity was scheduled to rear its attractive head the second season in a row after students pioneered an initial paperback.

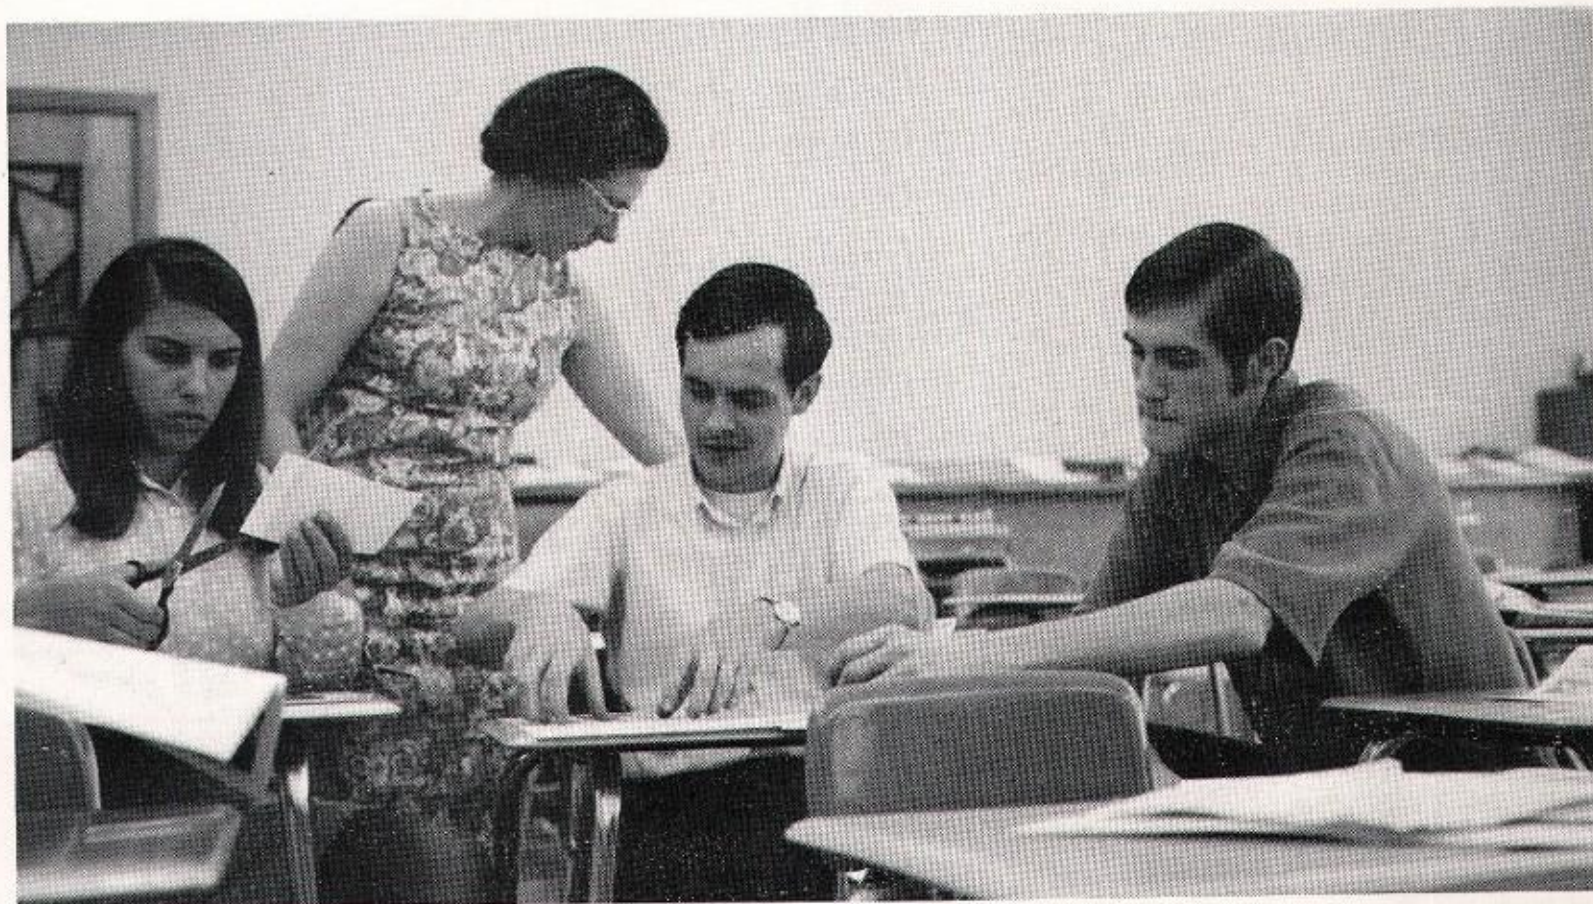

But toward publishing time, the magazine's literary effort failed.

Explained Editor, Shelley Mudrow, "The staff was too busy producing underground newspapers."

Tigard's Prince Charming, Conrad Pearson, charged to the rescue.

Allying a trio of teachers, he collected money from clubs and classes to purchase a two-page spread in the senior edition of the newspaper.

Thus the foursome rescued the remnants of Tigard's literary efforts.

HIGHLAND LASSIES

Lassies Fling A Scottish Air

Whirling and prancing, Tigard's Highland Lassies revived folk dances practiced by the Highlanders of Scotland.

With their Royal Stuart plaid skirts and traditional plaits thrown over the shoulder, the Lassies danced to bagpipe music played by Newton Muir.

Sword dances, "The Broad Sword" and "The Single Sword" were performed frequently. However, the girls perfected a new dance every two months.

Tryouts for Lassies are held every Spring and Fall. Candidates are taught a dance, then judged by the club for poise, appearance and execution.

BOYS LEAGUE

It Was An Active Year

For the first time in recent years, Boys League, under the direction of a youthful advisor, Bill Hill, exploded with serious, male-oriented programs which captured the collective attention of the student body.

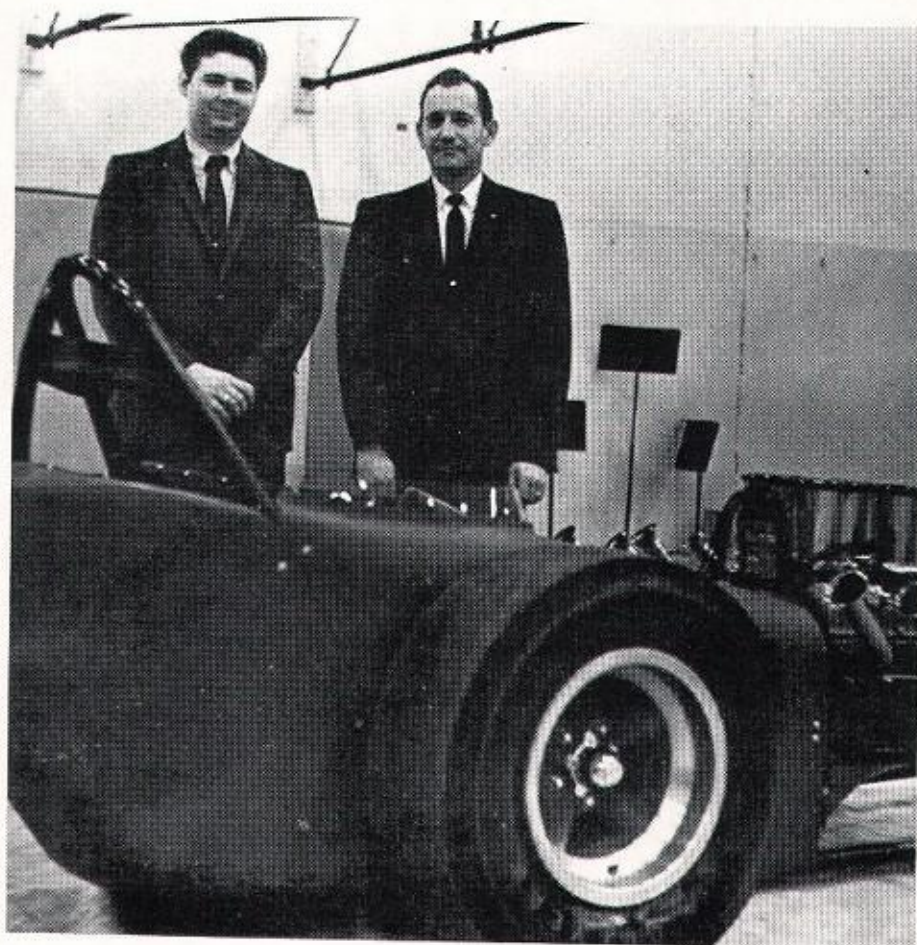

Drag racing was featured at the first Boys League assembly. Two representatives from Radke's Speed and Custom Shop in Portland came to speak.

In November, some representatives from the National Rifle Association spoke on gun safety. They ran a 20-minute film and showed guns that had exploded from accidents and improper handling.

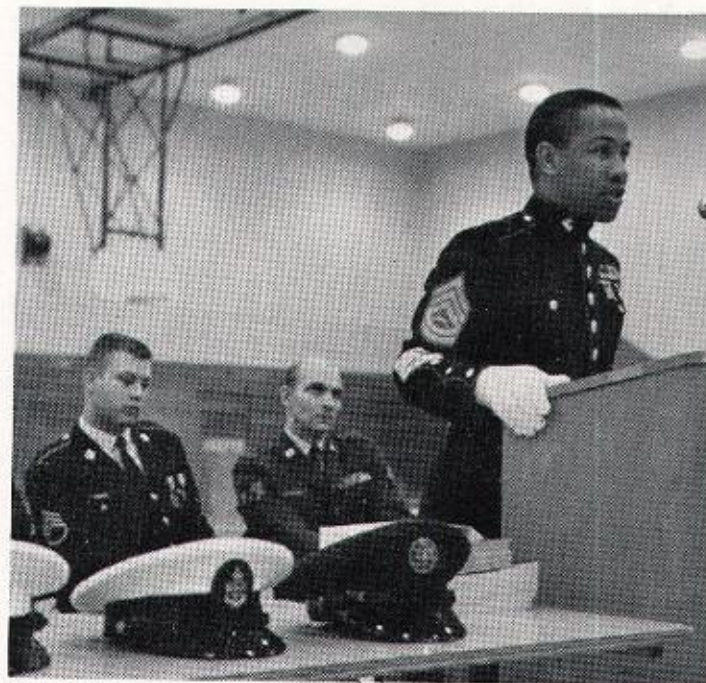

The girls were invited to the next assembly. KEX sports director, Art Eckman, gave highlights of the summer Olympics.

In promotion of "the sport of the space age - sky diving," officers of the Portland Parachute Club came. Parachuting equipment was demonstrated, and a film was shown.

A required military assembly ended the year.

DECA

Students Introduced To Business World

THS had its first year of Distributive Education Clubs of America. DECA is nationwide. Its purpose, adopted by the Tigard chapter, was to educate high school students for the world of work; to teach them how to obtain and keep jobs that are interesting and profitable.

Pat Lytle, advisor, interested students in forming the club. It started as an outgrowth of the diversified occupations program. Officers were: Shelley Boyer, president; Sue Cooper, vice-president; Patti Baughman, secretary; Carol Fulton, treasurer; Jamie Hovick, historian; Linda Rudnick, parliamentarian.

The club started an employment agency for THS students. Chris St. Clair and Kathy Harp obtained jobs at the Fabric World. Nita Flores got a job at Clarks. An employer-employee banquet was held in early May to honor the employers who had accepted untrained help from THS.

ABSORBED IN ACTIVITIES of the ICC meeting is DECA president Shelley Boyer.

CHESS CLUB

'Invincibles'

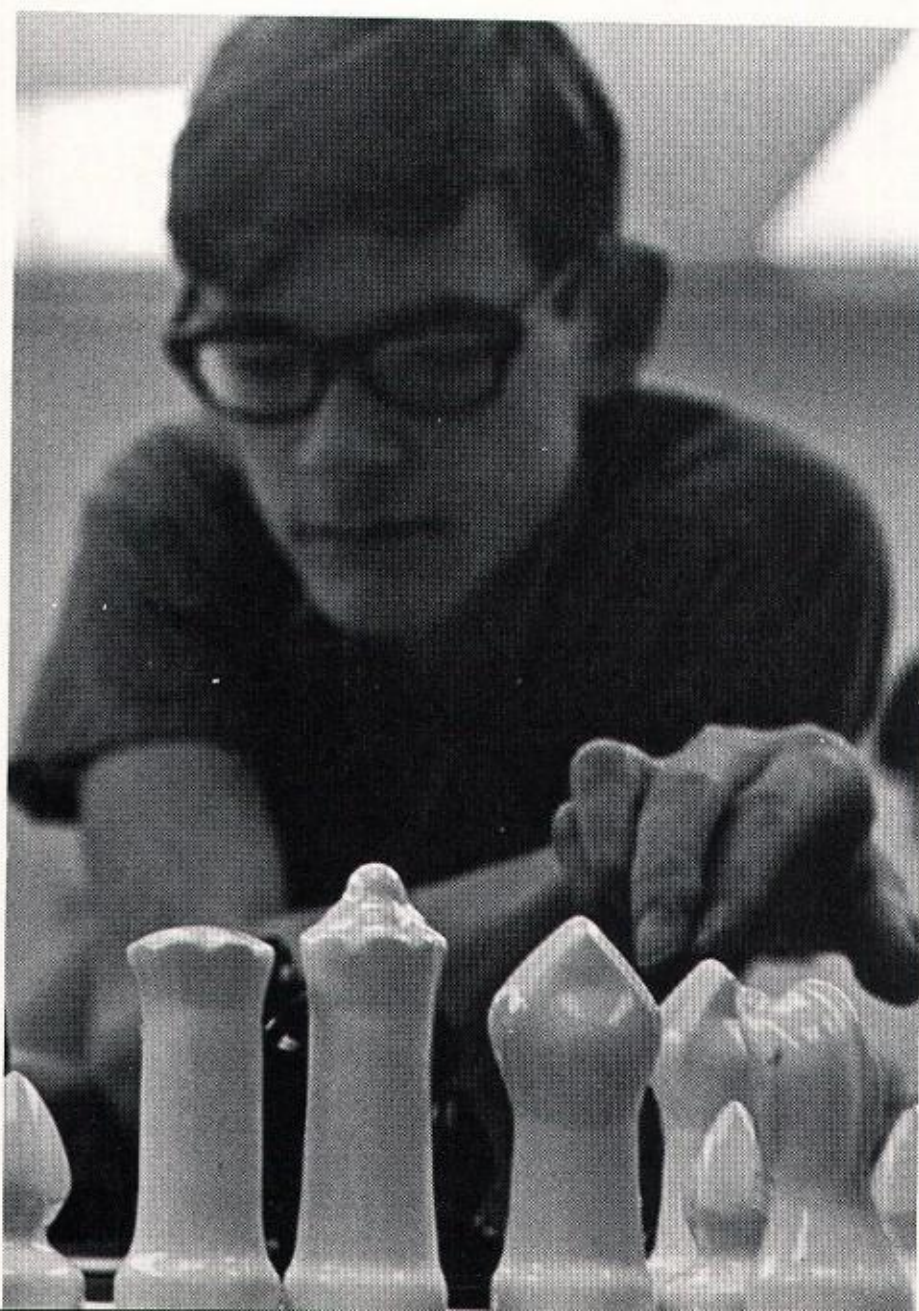

Modestly describing themselves as "invincible," the Chess Team ended their first year with only one defeat.

In an era of underground papers, they also put out THS's first successful special interest paper, the "Royal Chessman."

The eight members of the chess team pioneered the Chess Club to promote interest in chess and arrange tournaments with other schools.

Chuck Manke was president and founder of the club. Other officers included George Hoselton, vice-president; Jim Swayze, treasurer; Stephen Harrison, sergeant-at-arms.

Self-Image Is Goal

"To give each member a better understanding of herself and to help her make the best of what she has." This was the goal of THS's Future Homemakers of America Club as stated by president, Helen Bishop.

Remaining club officers: Becky Elmer, vice-president; Carmen Dalthorp, secretary; Margaret Baggenstos, treasurer; Ginny Baltzell, historian; Leota Bowser, sergeant-at-arms; and Linda Dean, reporter.

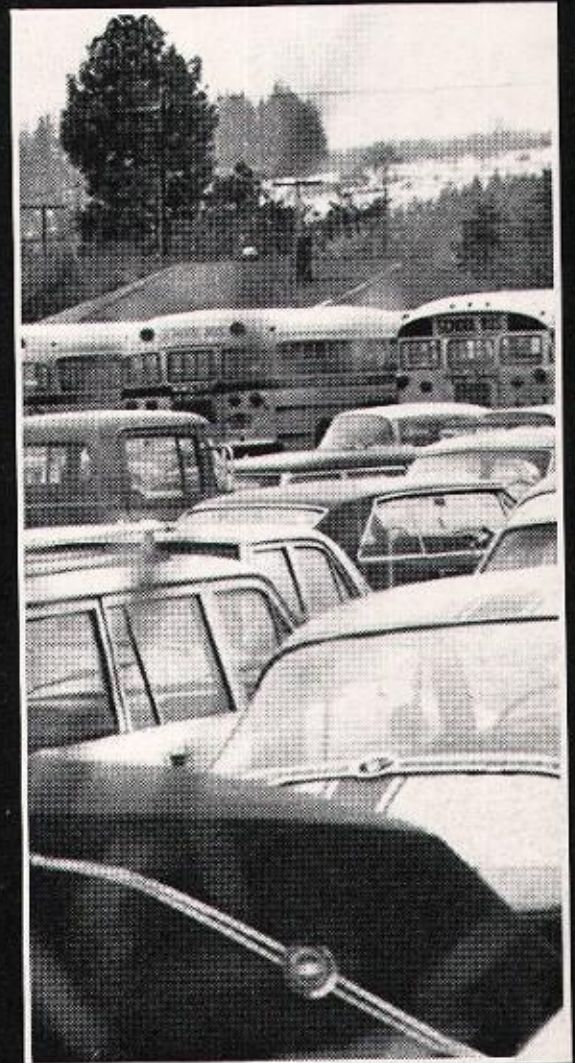

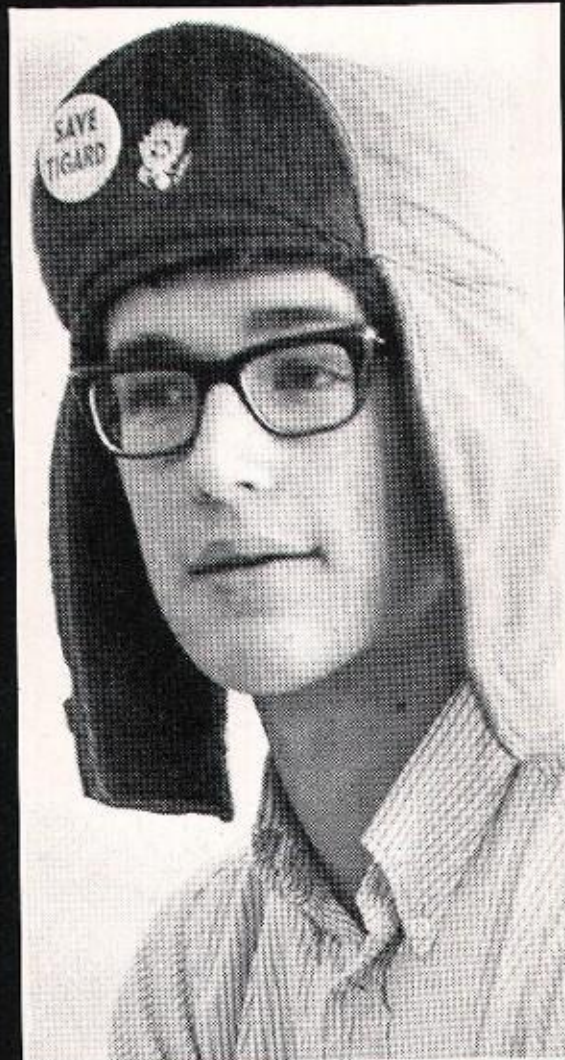

To further their goal, the club set up a self-improvement plan. They studied proper make-up, hairstyling, figure improvement and clothes selection.

Money for FHA's activities was raised by a cookbook sale and various bake sales. As a service project, the girls served at many school dinners.

WINTER

PEOPLE

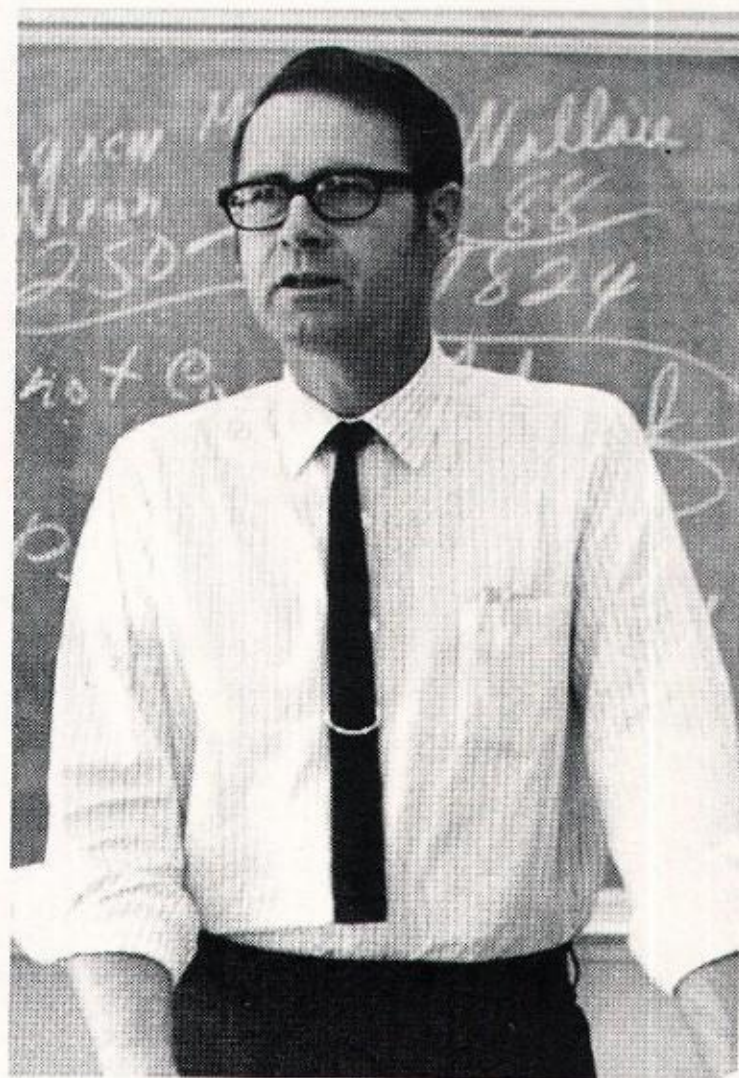

Exposing The Different

From politicians and their politics to the sounds of music of a concertband and a rock group gave Tigard students an involvement in community living.

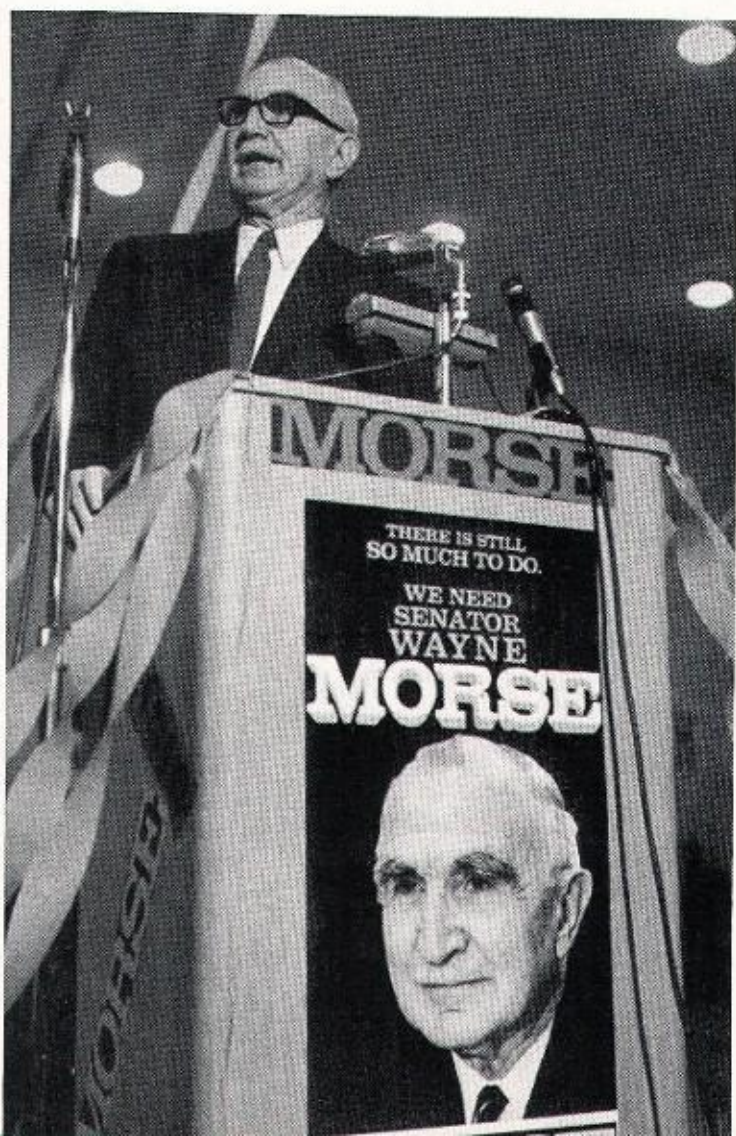

Oregon's widely acclaimed senatorial race between Senator Wayne Morse and Robert Packwood exposed students to the tongue-lashing rhetoric of the contestants. Tigards halls were filled with both verbal and graphic persuaders showing the personal feeling of students.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College and Robert Scheer, editor of Ramparts magazine verbally battled each other at the IRL convention. Held at the University of Oregon, the convention attended by a group of Tigard students had the appropriate theme "Revolution in the Twentieth Century."

Student involvement in community affairs earned them justified recognition. Each student's special talents and proficiencies were revealed by their action throughout the school year.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Livin' In The USA

"The world is our village," says Marshall McLuhan, 20th century philosopher.

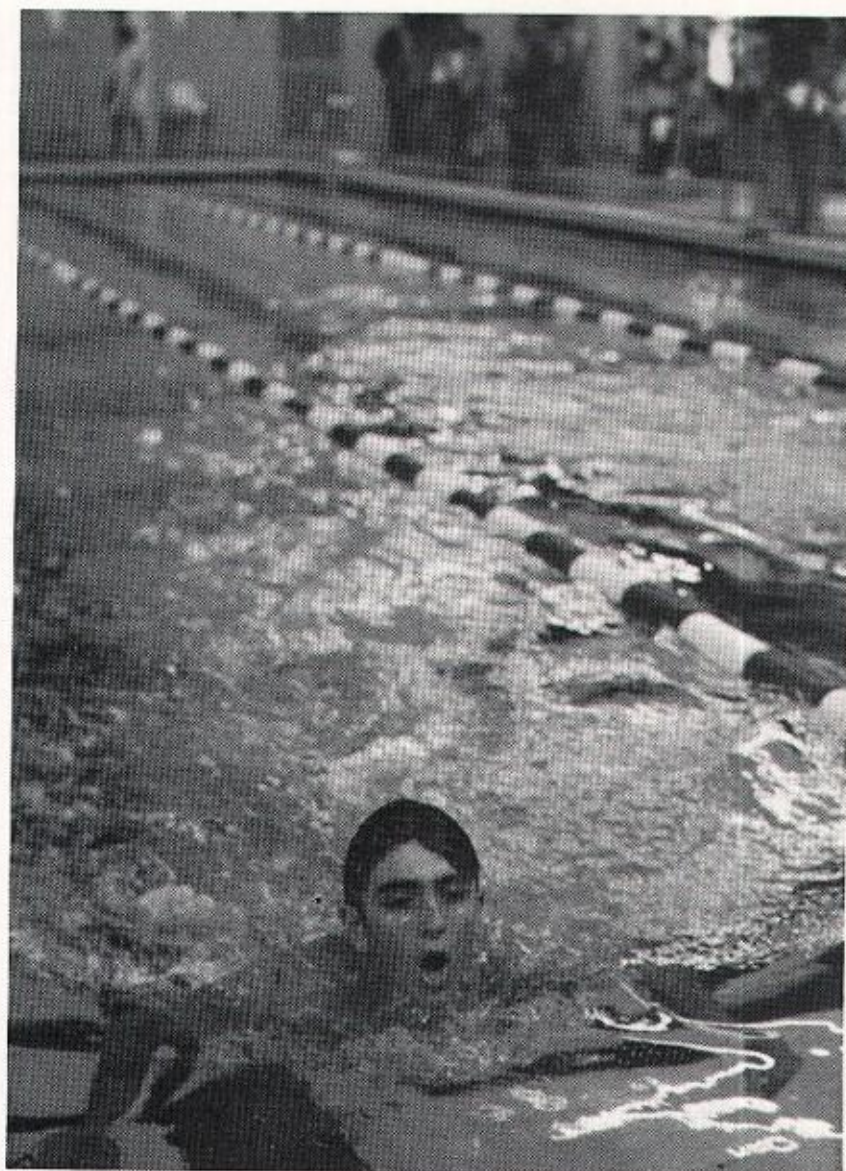

With instant telephone communication and jet planes, the people in distant countries have become neighbors. Understanding is the key to living in peace with neighbors. To further this understanding, Tigard hosted five foreign exchange students.

"I have never found any place with people so nice and so friendly as here in the United States," commented Rebeca Maldonado from Ecuador. Becky settled with the Ted Farance family for the year.

A 16-year-old Guatemalan, Carlos Rivers, spent nine weeks at THS. His hosts were the Clarence Nicoli family of Tigard.

Ricardo Morayata, a junior from Mexico City was Tigard's guest for two months. His trip was sponsored by a church program, International Exchange.

Costa Rican exchange students Nelsey Pararas and Francisco Donata spent one month in the homes of THS students. Nelsey stayed with Jennifer and Linda Hanson, Francisco with Bruce Webber. Both came through the Alliance for Progress program.

CHRISTMAS WEEK

Students deck THS Halls With Holly

Giving, the true spirit of the holiday season, was depicted by THS students during Christmas Week. Donna Hartig provided candy canes for all teachers. The Activities Committee presented large corsages to secretaries and cooks. The annual canned food drive collected provisions for needy Tigard families.

It was a colorful week. Each class decorated a hall. Small trees, mistletoe, crepe paper and Santa Clauses were strewn about the school. A 7-foot tree was provided by Girl's League officers in the cafeteria. They also provided appropriate music during lunch.

Santa Claus, (Paul Fisher) frequently roamed the halls. Students paid 50 cents during lunch to sit on his lap and have their pictures taken.

IRL classes had a "Santa Debate" over the existence of Saint Nick.

A large ball of mistletoe and holly helped decorate the cafeteria for Friday Night's "Winter Fantasy." Junior Princess Marilyn Ems and her escort, Steve Steinke, were crowned Christmas Royalty. Their class won the canned food drive earning 20 pep trophy points.

CINDERELLA

Drama Department Finds Its Glass Slipper

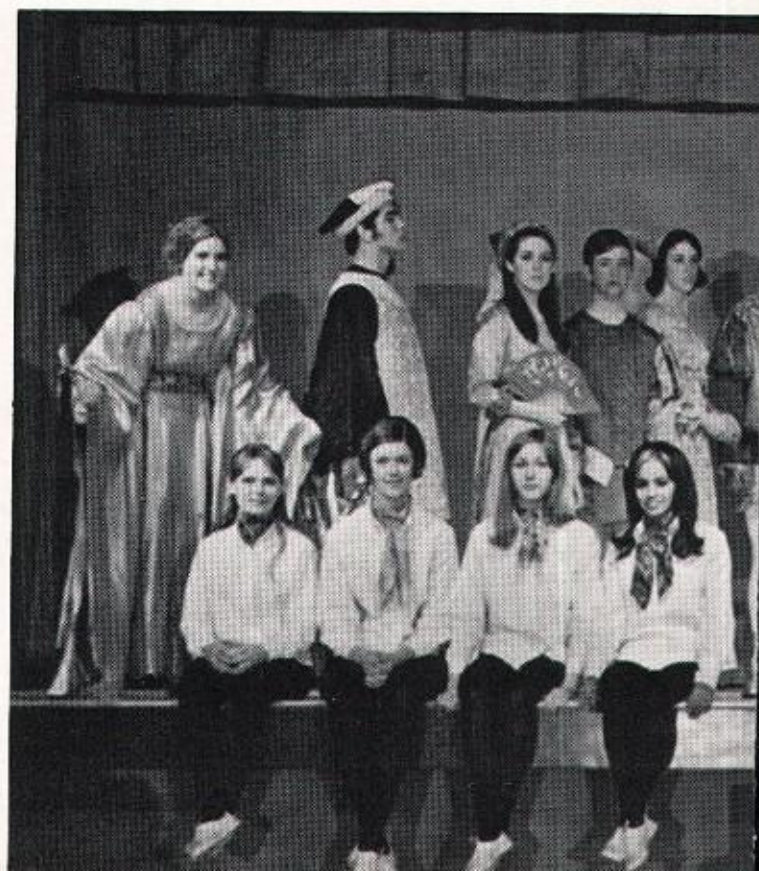

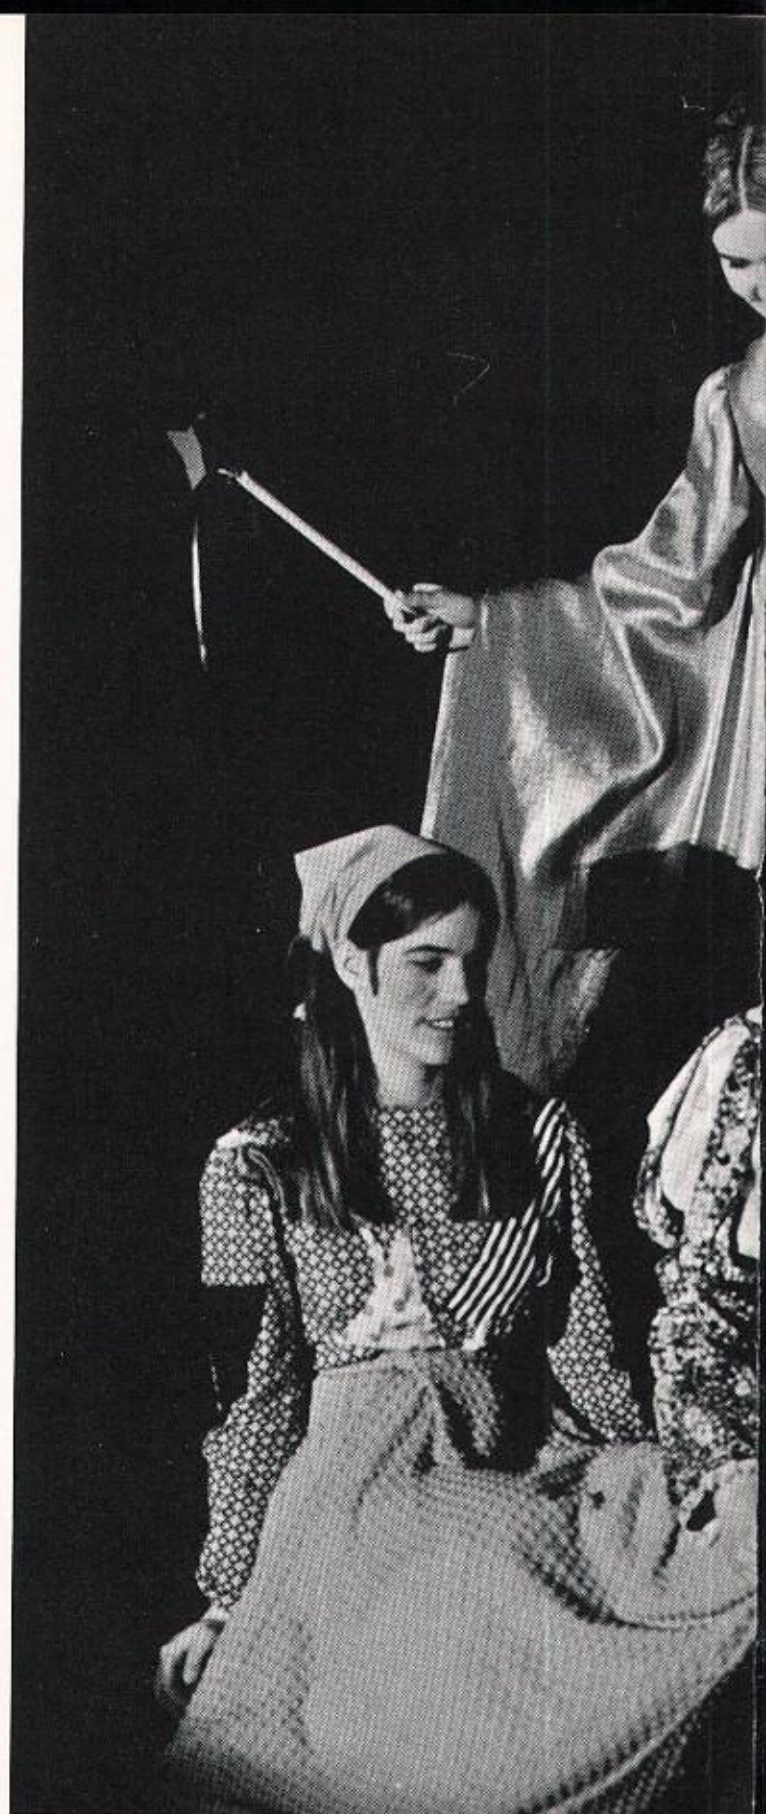

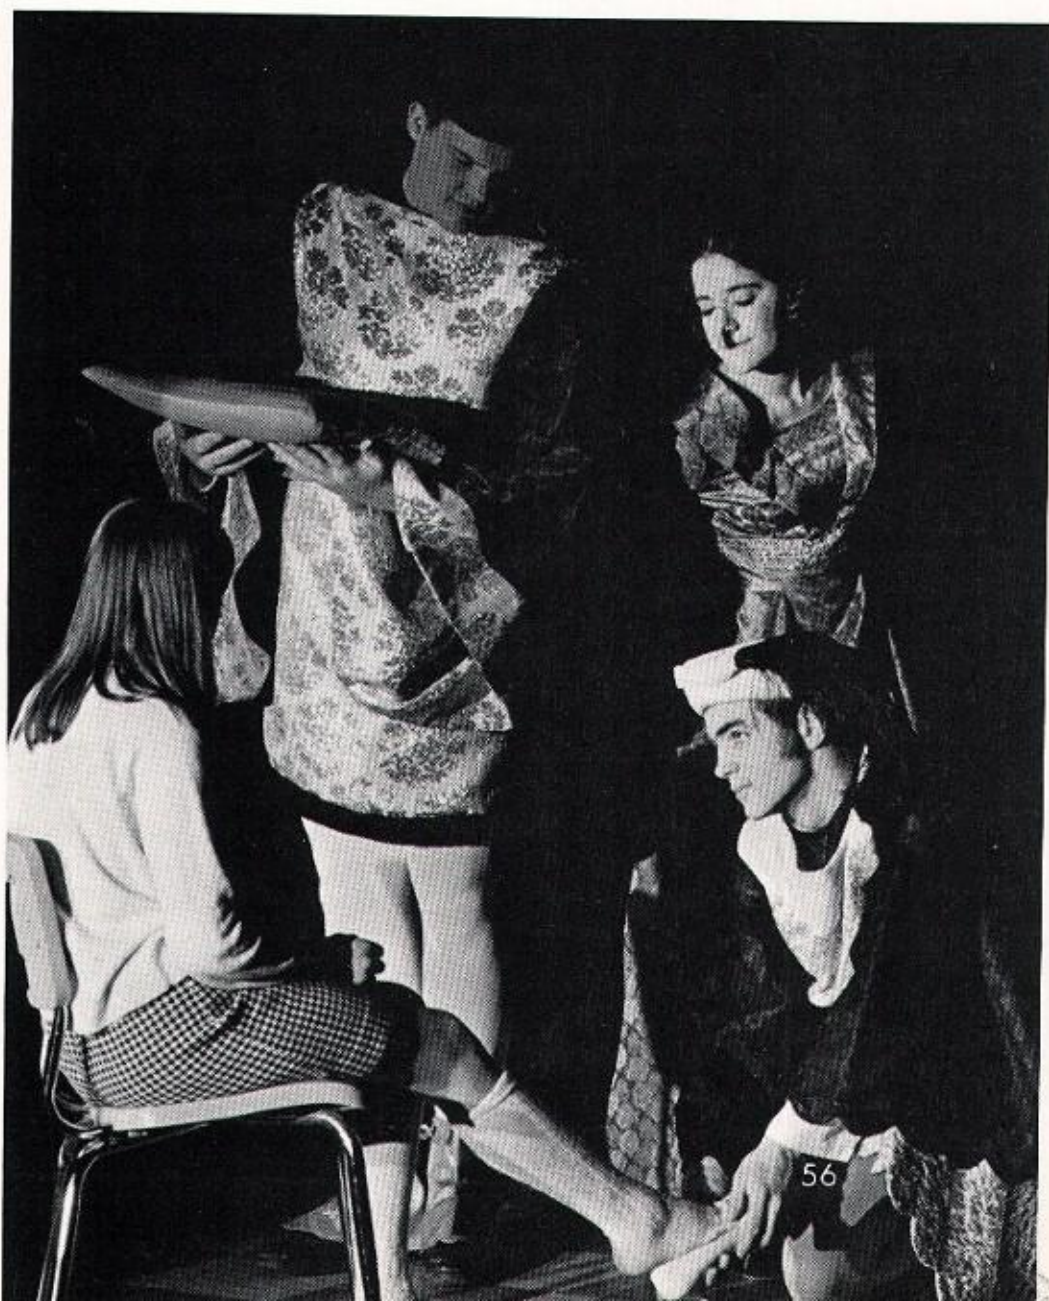

Two capacity houses measured the success of "Cinderella," a children's theater production initiated by Tigard's Thespian troupe this year.

Audience participation enriched the enchanting appeal of the fairytale for the many delighted youngsters.

Skillful discipline was mastered by the thespians as direct contact with the youthful audience was maintained in addition to character roles. Actors were challenged to expect anything from the excited youngsters as Cinderella effectively "lost" her shoe in the audience and the wicked step-sisters mingled with the crowd.

Director Larry Daw hopes to build a precedent for a children's theater in future years.

FORENSICS

Debators Go National

The Forensics squad had its shining hour during '68-'69. Eric Knudsen and Randy Fennell won the Oregon Debate championship while five other Tigard debators went to state. Overall, the squad accumulated over 27 trophies during the year.

This was a fantastic improvement. In the previous year, no Tigard speaker even qualified for state competition.

Forensics consisted of 23 members. Tryouts were held between interested speech students to pick the actual squad. They participated in some 20 tournaments lasting from Oct. 1 to the end of April. Miss Nancy Lewis, speech teacher, was advisor and coach.

Helping place trophies in forensics own trophy case were these outstanding speakers: Chele Gilham, Stephanie Davison, Franki Baccellieri, Mary Silvey, Tom Matthes and Debbie Weise.

STAGE BAND

Professionals Parade Talent

THS's first professional musical group, the stage band, paraded their talents at several school and community activities throughout the year.

Stage Band's musicians were hand-picked by Richard Powell, the director. He chose students with experience and a love for music.

Finding time to practice was made relatively easy. The front office allotted the group one class period daily. In preparing for a big performance, however, time after school was used.

Performing at all basketball games and assemblies didn't provide enough of a challenge for the musicians. They were contracted to play at Sherwood, the YMCA and various Dad's Club functions.

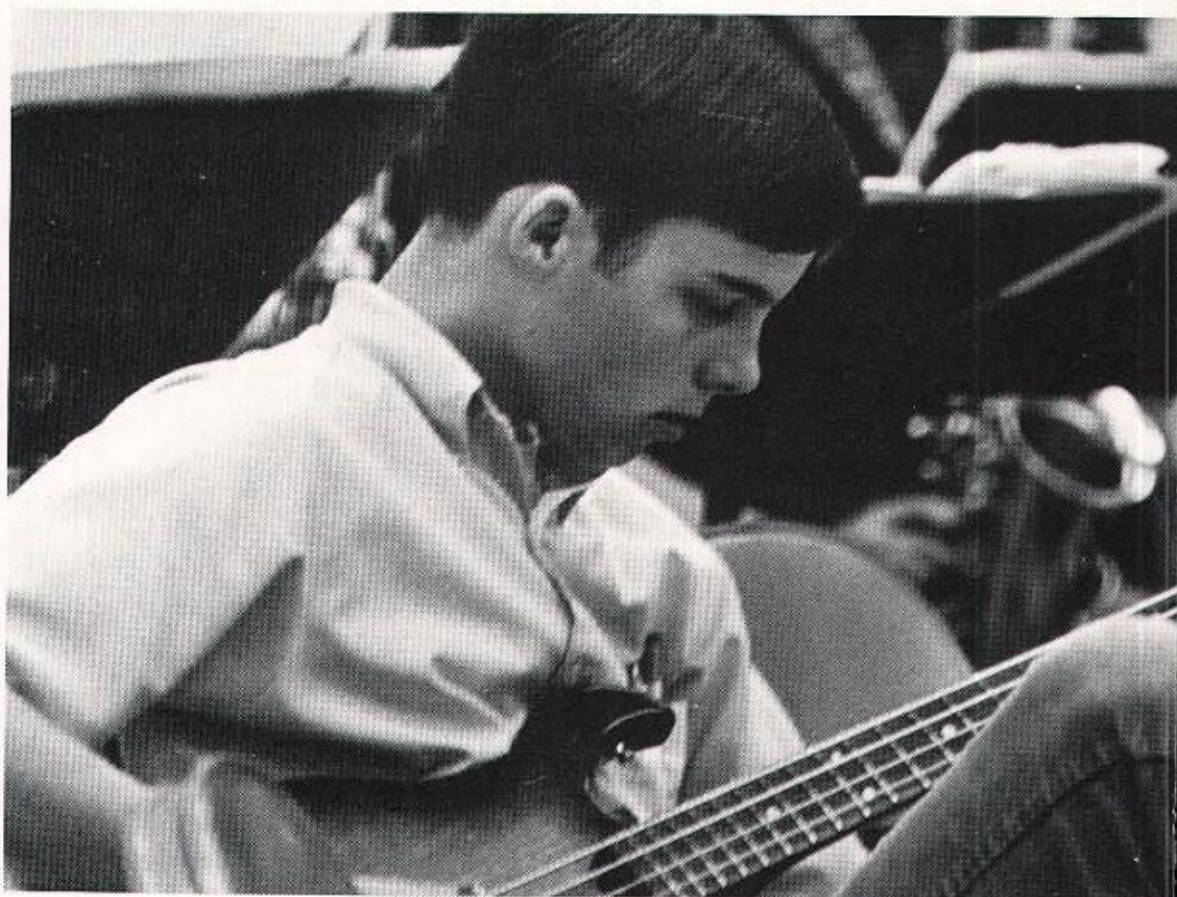

"The pay was low, but the applause was worth more than money," commented Powell.

NEWSPAPER

Hi-Spots Lands Second Consecutive "All-American"

The second time in 44 years of publishing, the Hi-Spots won the highest national rating available, the coveted "All-American," under Larry Kott who has advised the student bi-weekly for three years.

Denise Pierce, editor, expressed her optimism, saying, "We've got a great staff, a lot of new blood and lots of talent."

Last year's staff, under the direction of Kathy Nicoli, editor '68, received Tigard's first "All-American" rating in 41 years.

The rating is conducted by the National Press Association at the University of Minnesota. Over 1,200 schools nationally competed. Newspapers are evaluated for content, writing, coverage, page makeup, headline style and photography. The Hi-Spots received the maximum amount of points in 23 out of 25 categories.

Journalism classes had their second year at THS. They are a training ground for Newspaper or Yearbook. Much of their work is printed in the school of four community newspapers which are fed weekly releases by a student-operated news bureau.

The Hi-Spots has increased in quantity as well as quality. From eight editions a year in '66-'67, the publication is now out bi-weekly. There were several 8-page editions and one 12-page paper for graduation.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Team Has Handicaps

Many factors contributed to the Tigers posting a 5-17 win-loss record. Inexperience, lack of size, inability to score consistently were the team's major handicaps.

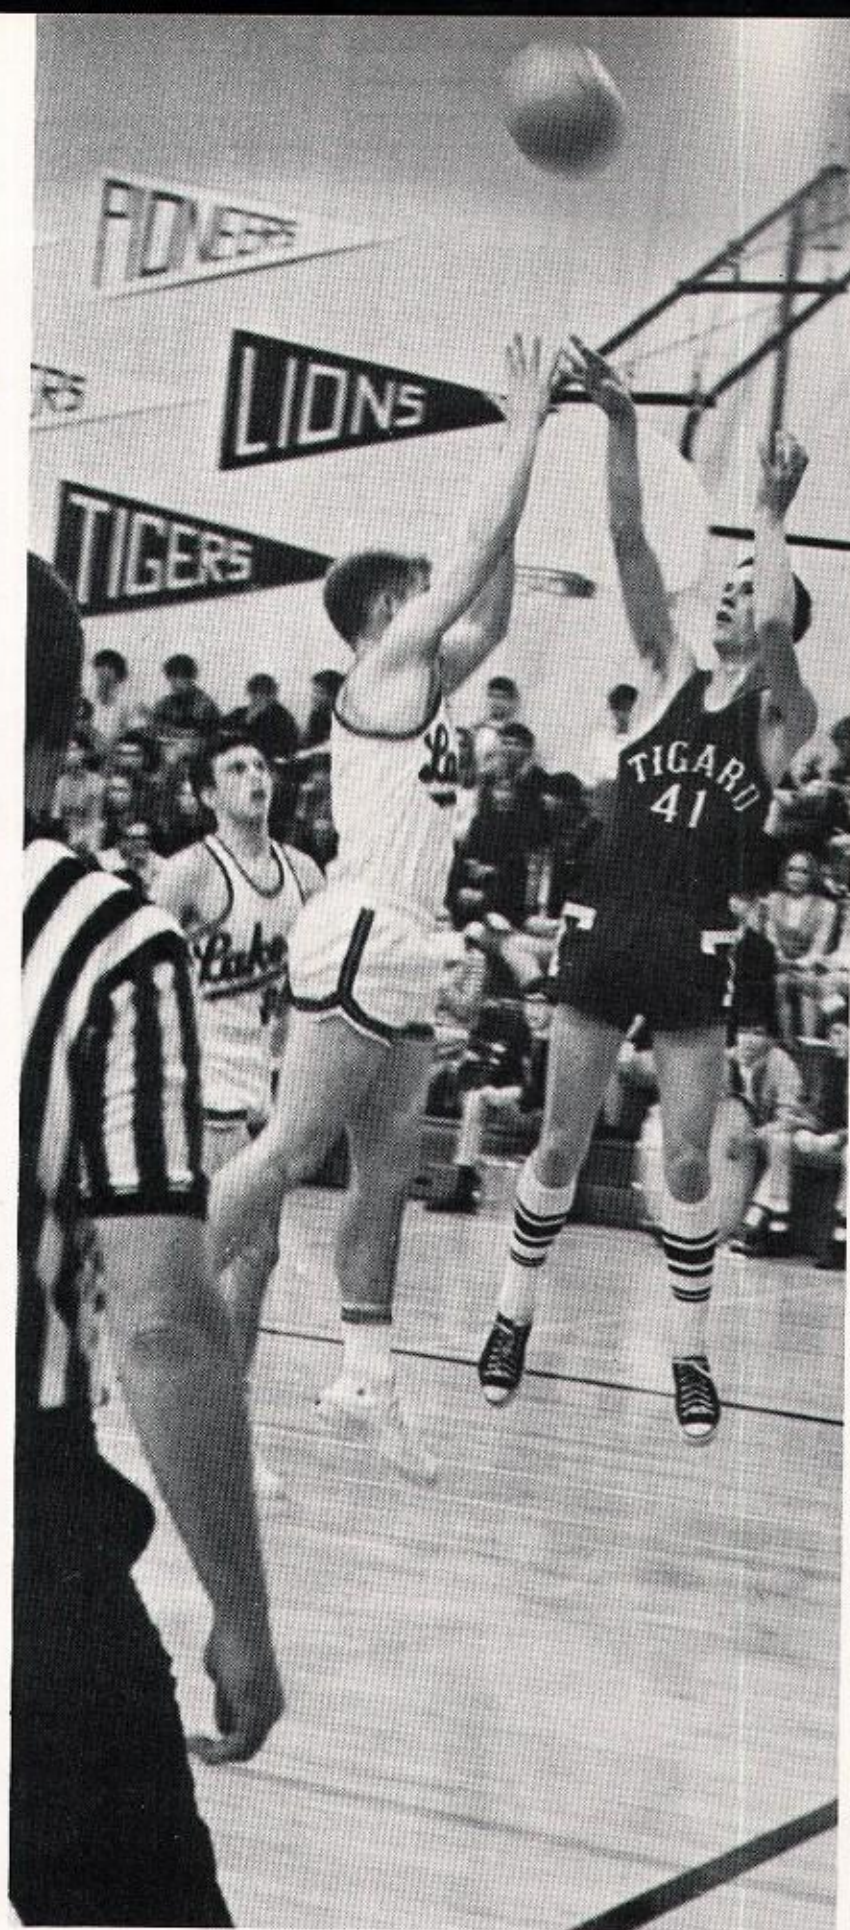

Seven juniors and only four seniors made up a varsity squad of 11. Four juniors were consistently on the starting line-up. They were: Bruce Kroese, Larry Miles, Paul Garrett and George Stevens. Other juniors who started occasionally were: Steve Ohm, Pete Hughes and Duane McDougall.

Senior captain, Doug Vaday, was usually the only Senior starter. He was named to the first team All-TYV League, the All-Star Team and also received honorable mention status in All-Star ratings. Doug led the squad in almost all statistical categories. He was named Most Valuable Player at the end of the season.

Seniors playing their last season for the Tigers were Jon Karr, Neil Beauchamp and Scott Forrest. At season's end, Larry Miles, always a hustler, ran off with the best defender award.

Hot Shots Hit Bucket

Consisting mainly of juniors, this year's JV basketball team collected a 13-5 record.

Their hot-shooting and fierce rebounding gave them first place in the opening round of play and second in the final nine game schedule.

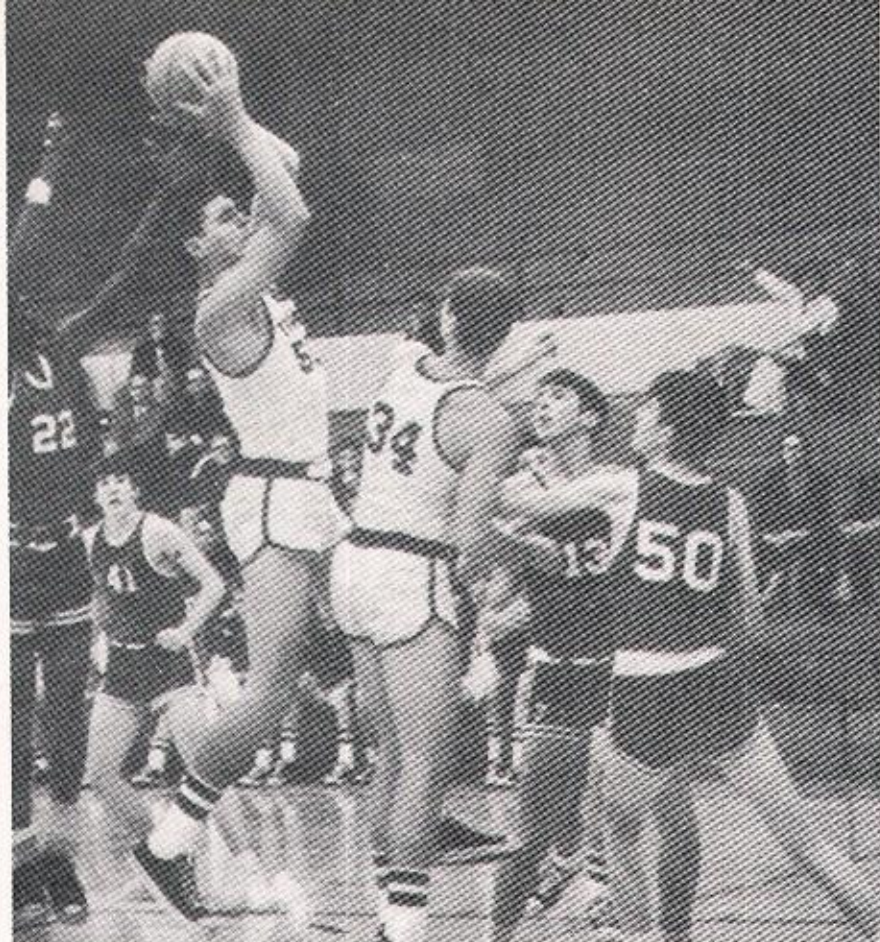

In his second and last year at Tigard, Coach Tom Smythe led the locals to a fine season record.

Under the leadership of Coach Gary Gentemann, the sophomore basketball team steadily improved throughout the season.

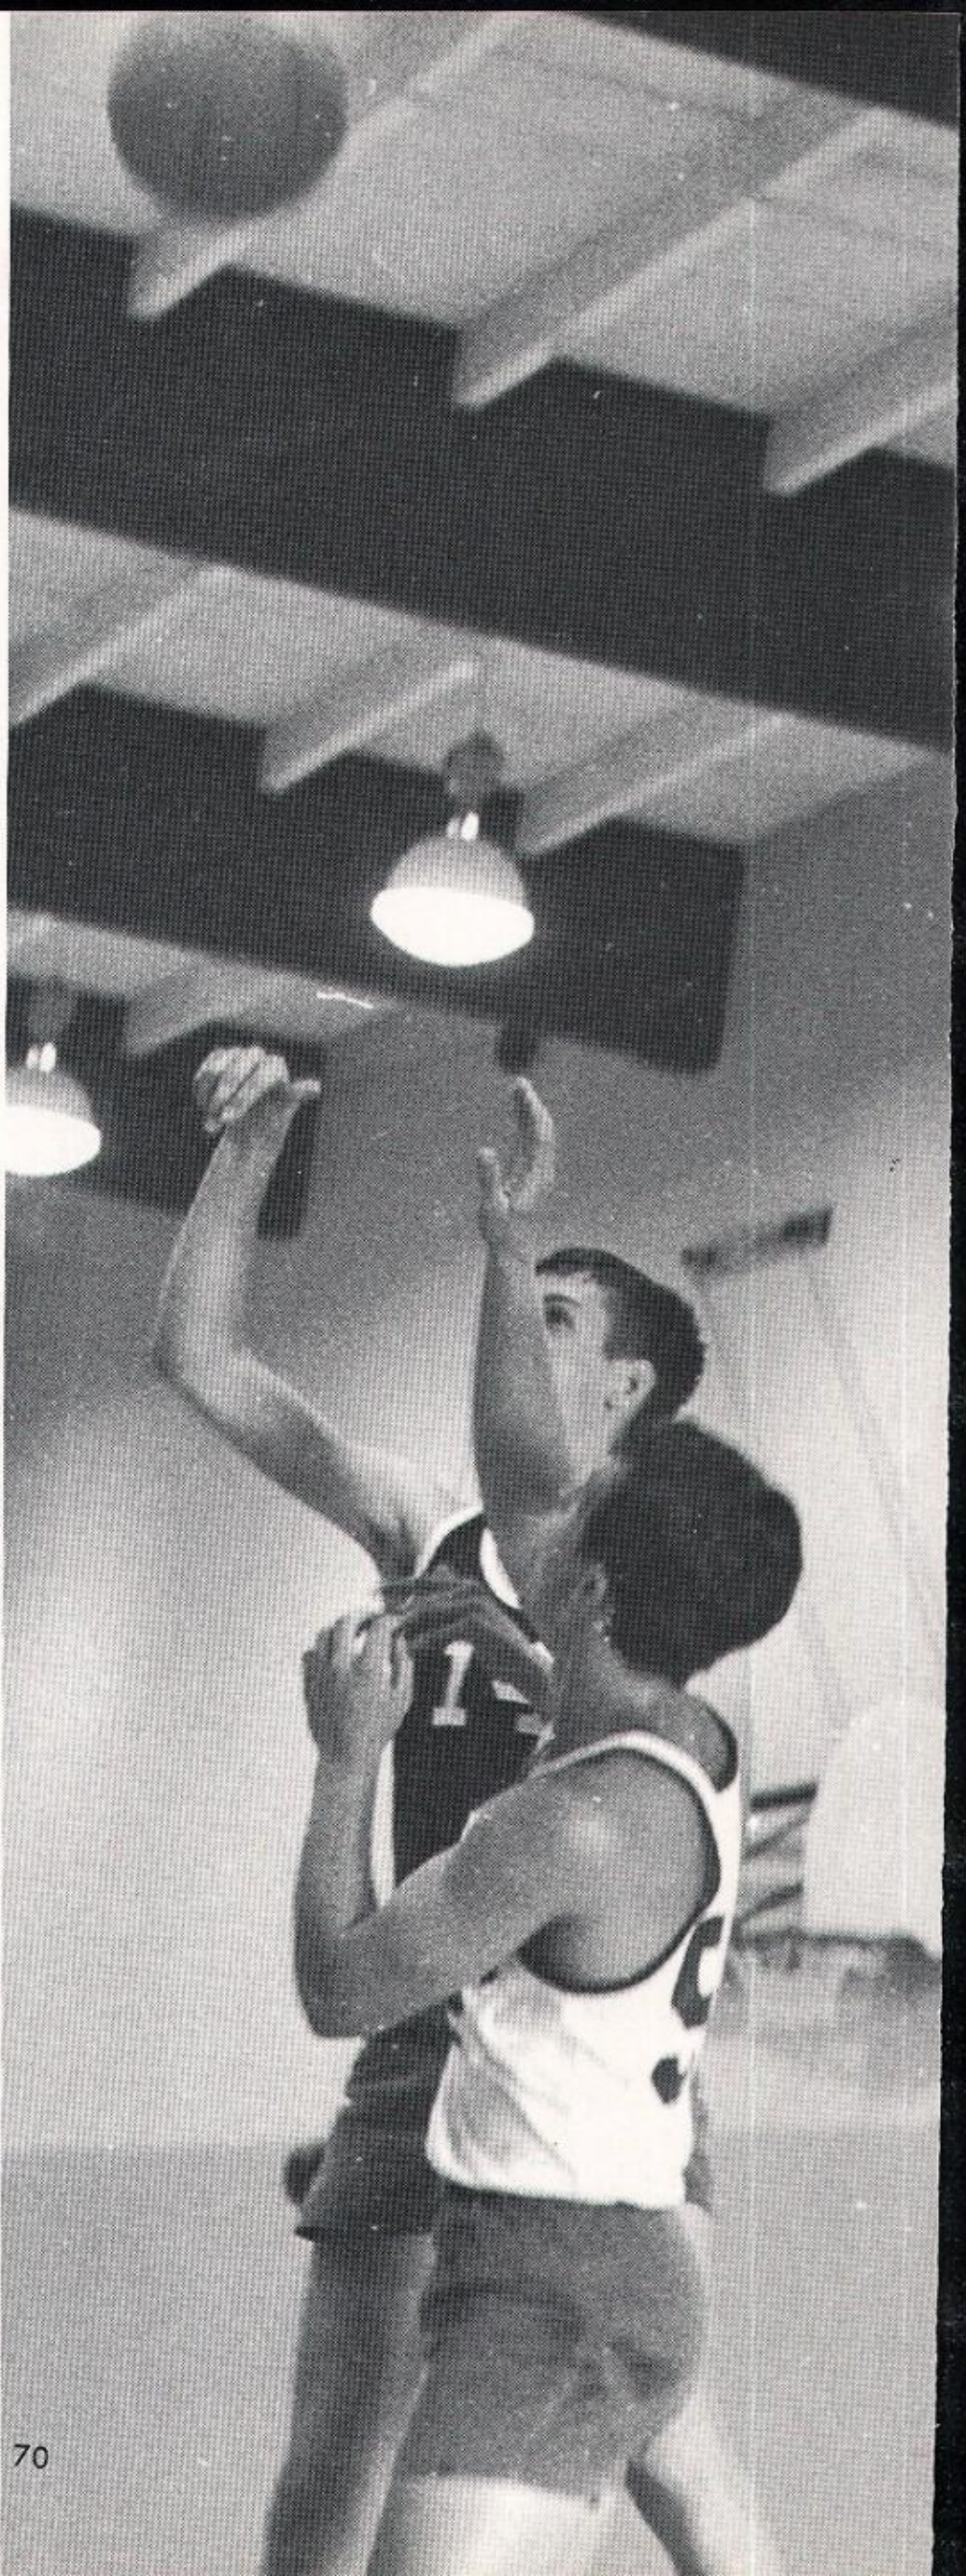

Playing against larger schools, Tigard's sophs gained experience through the year and were winning their share of games by the end of the season.

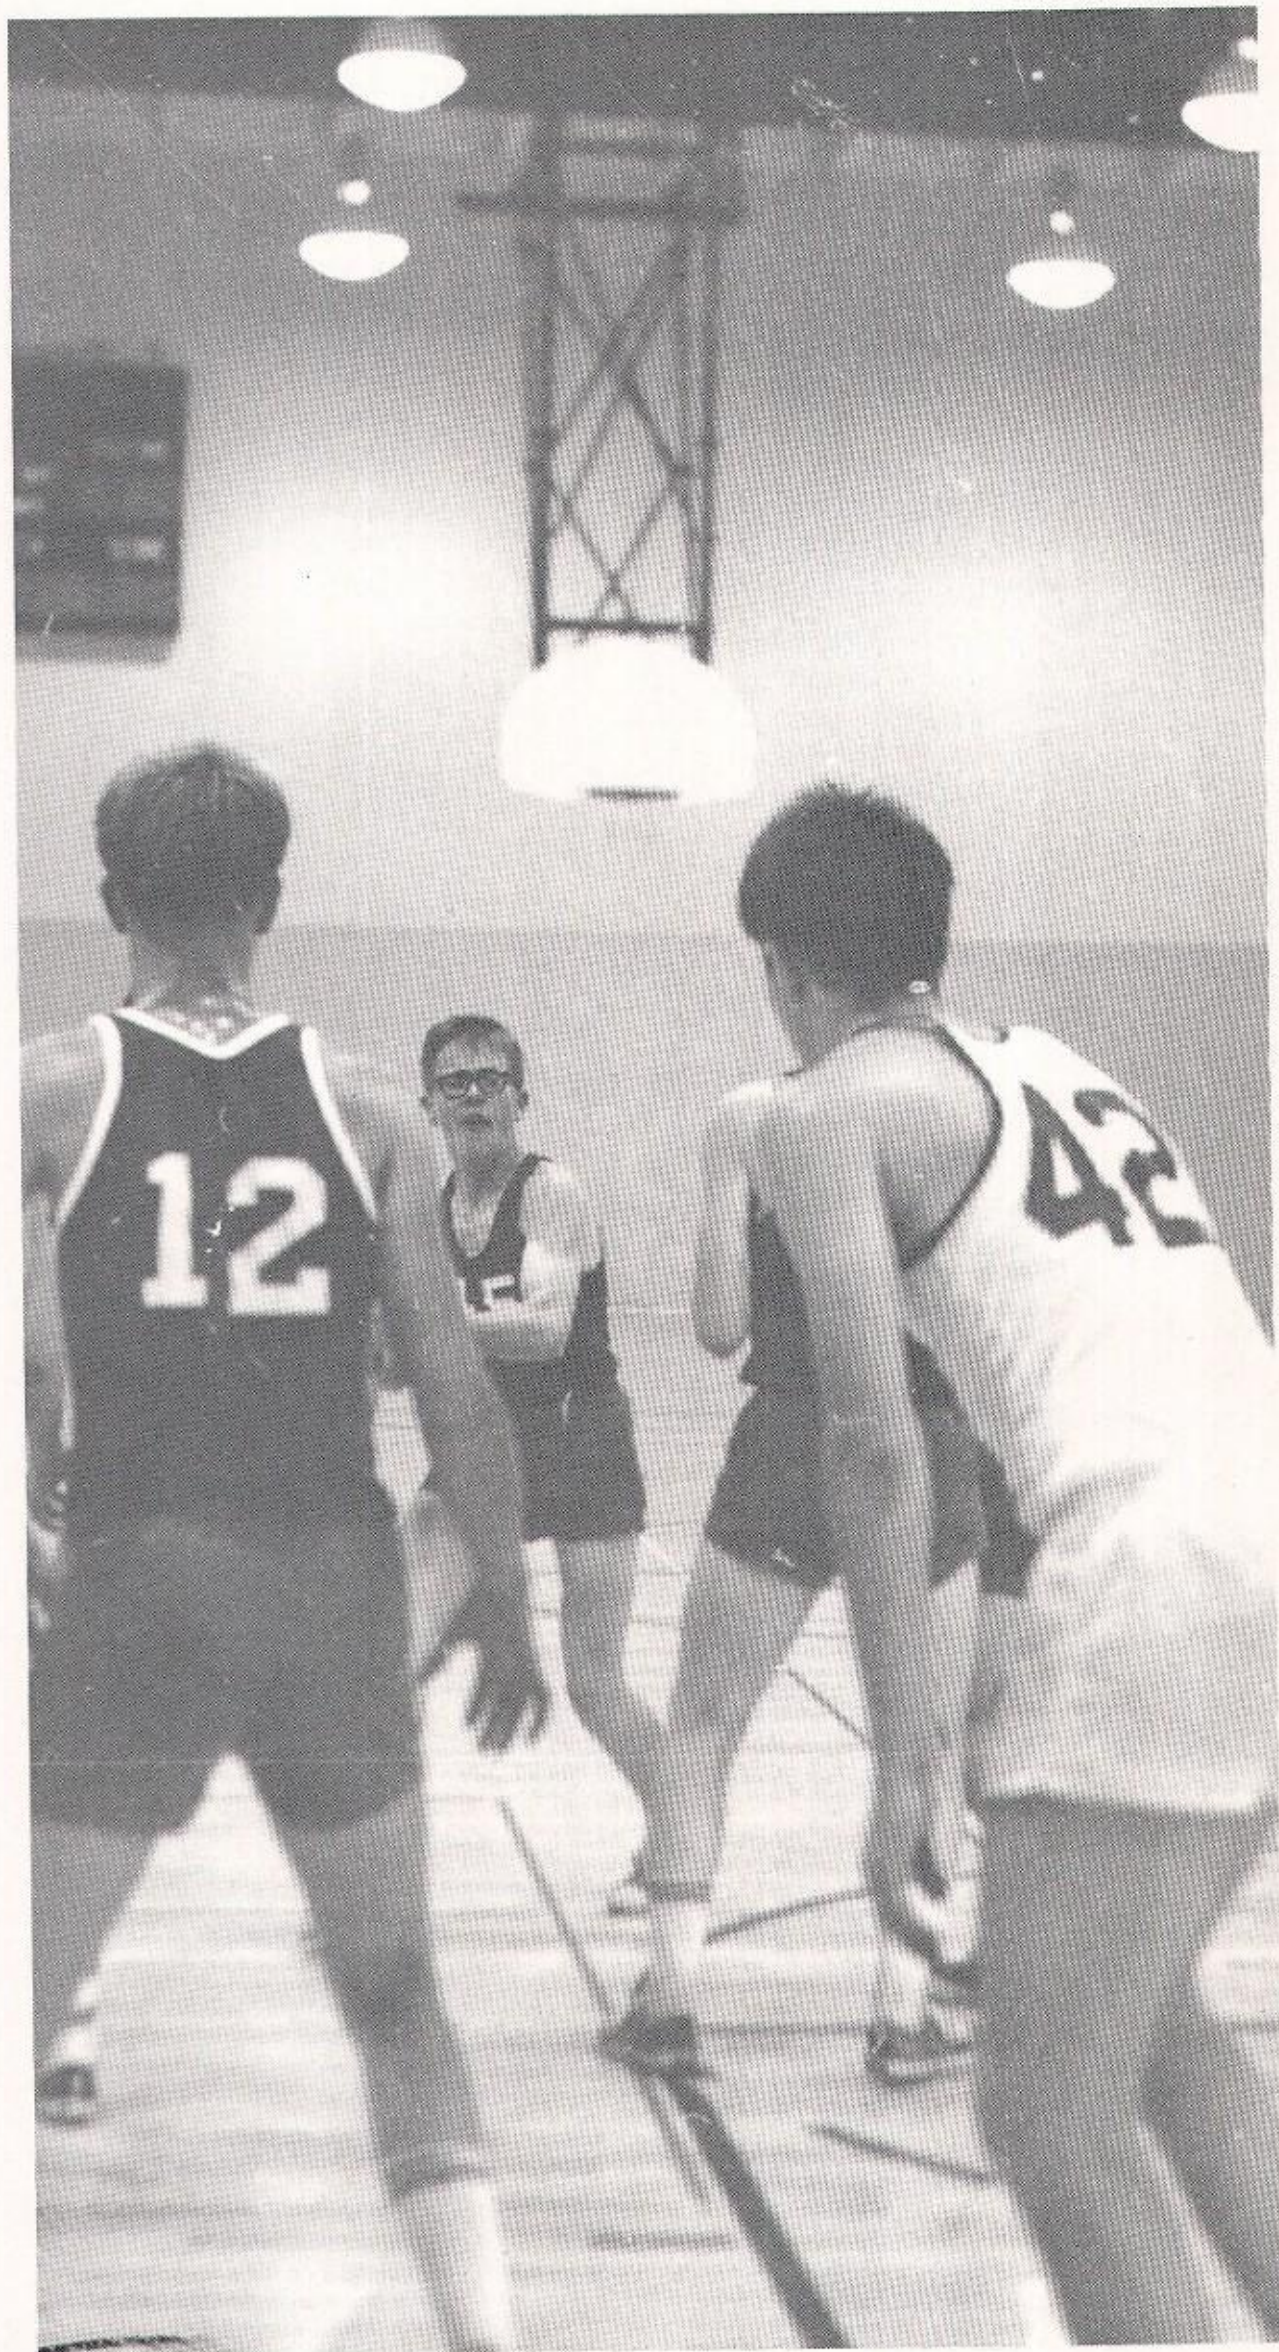

When Coach Gentemann takes over the reins of the JV squad next year, he will provide continuity working with this same group of players.

VARSITY WRESTLING

Matmen Boast 9-0 Record

Tigard's Wrestling team completed one of the most successful seasons in Tigard High wrestling history. The squad captured the district Dual Championship.

Coach Don Hedgepeth commented on the reasons for the team's success, following the District win. He said, "The boys have worked hard this year and I am proud of their performances. They put-out 100% for all their matches, which brings on success."

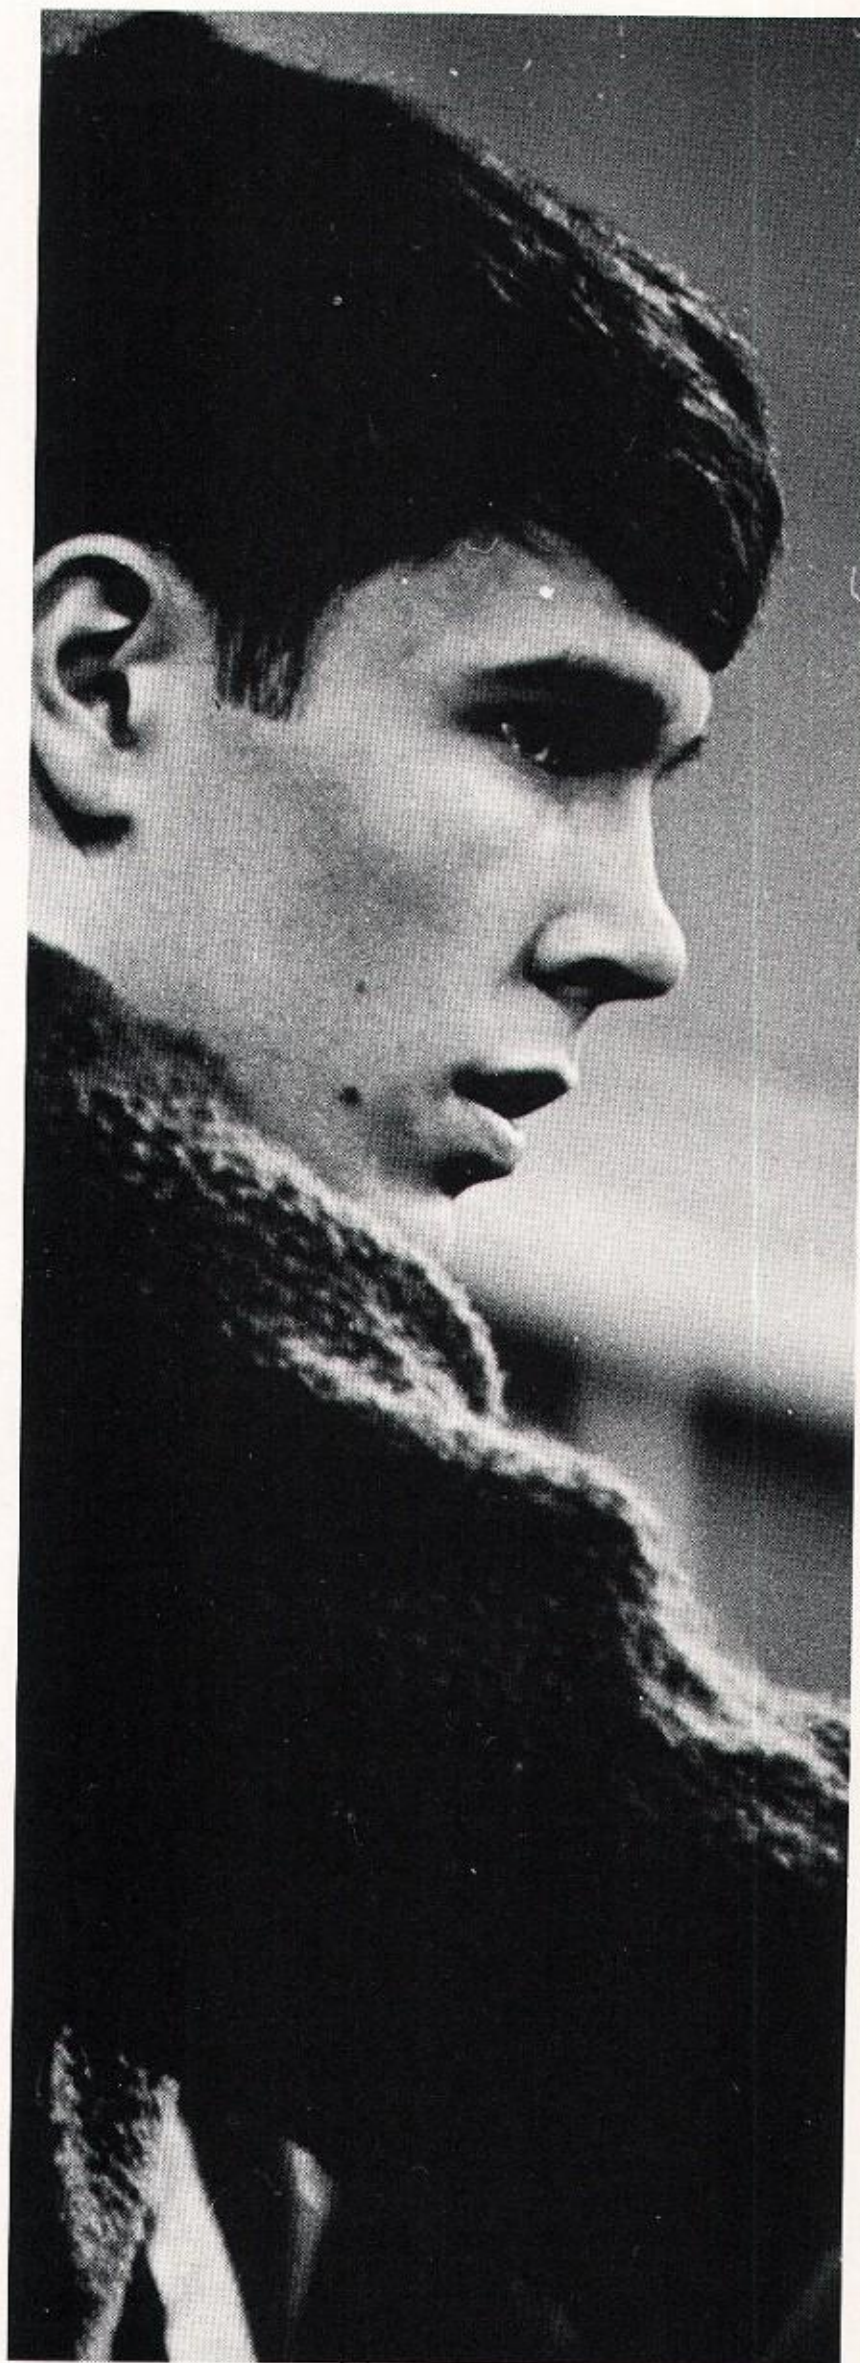

Tigard grapplers played in four tournaments in addition to the regular season matches. In them, Tigard earned one first place and three second place ratings. The matmen took first in the Tigard hosted wrestling tournament and second in the Estacada, South Eugene and District matches. The state tournament saw three Tigard wrestlers compete, Dick Barth, Robert Strong and Lloyd Kinnan. However, they lost to the outstanding wrestlers at state.

JV WRESTLING

Strong Squad Varsity Calibre

"Many of our JV wrestlers were varsity material," proudly pointed out Coach Jerry Grossen in summarizing his team.

He continued, "Tigard's JV squad can boast of having the largest turnout of any TYV school. There was keen competition for varsity positions.

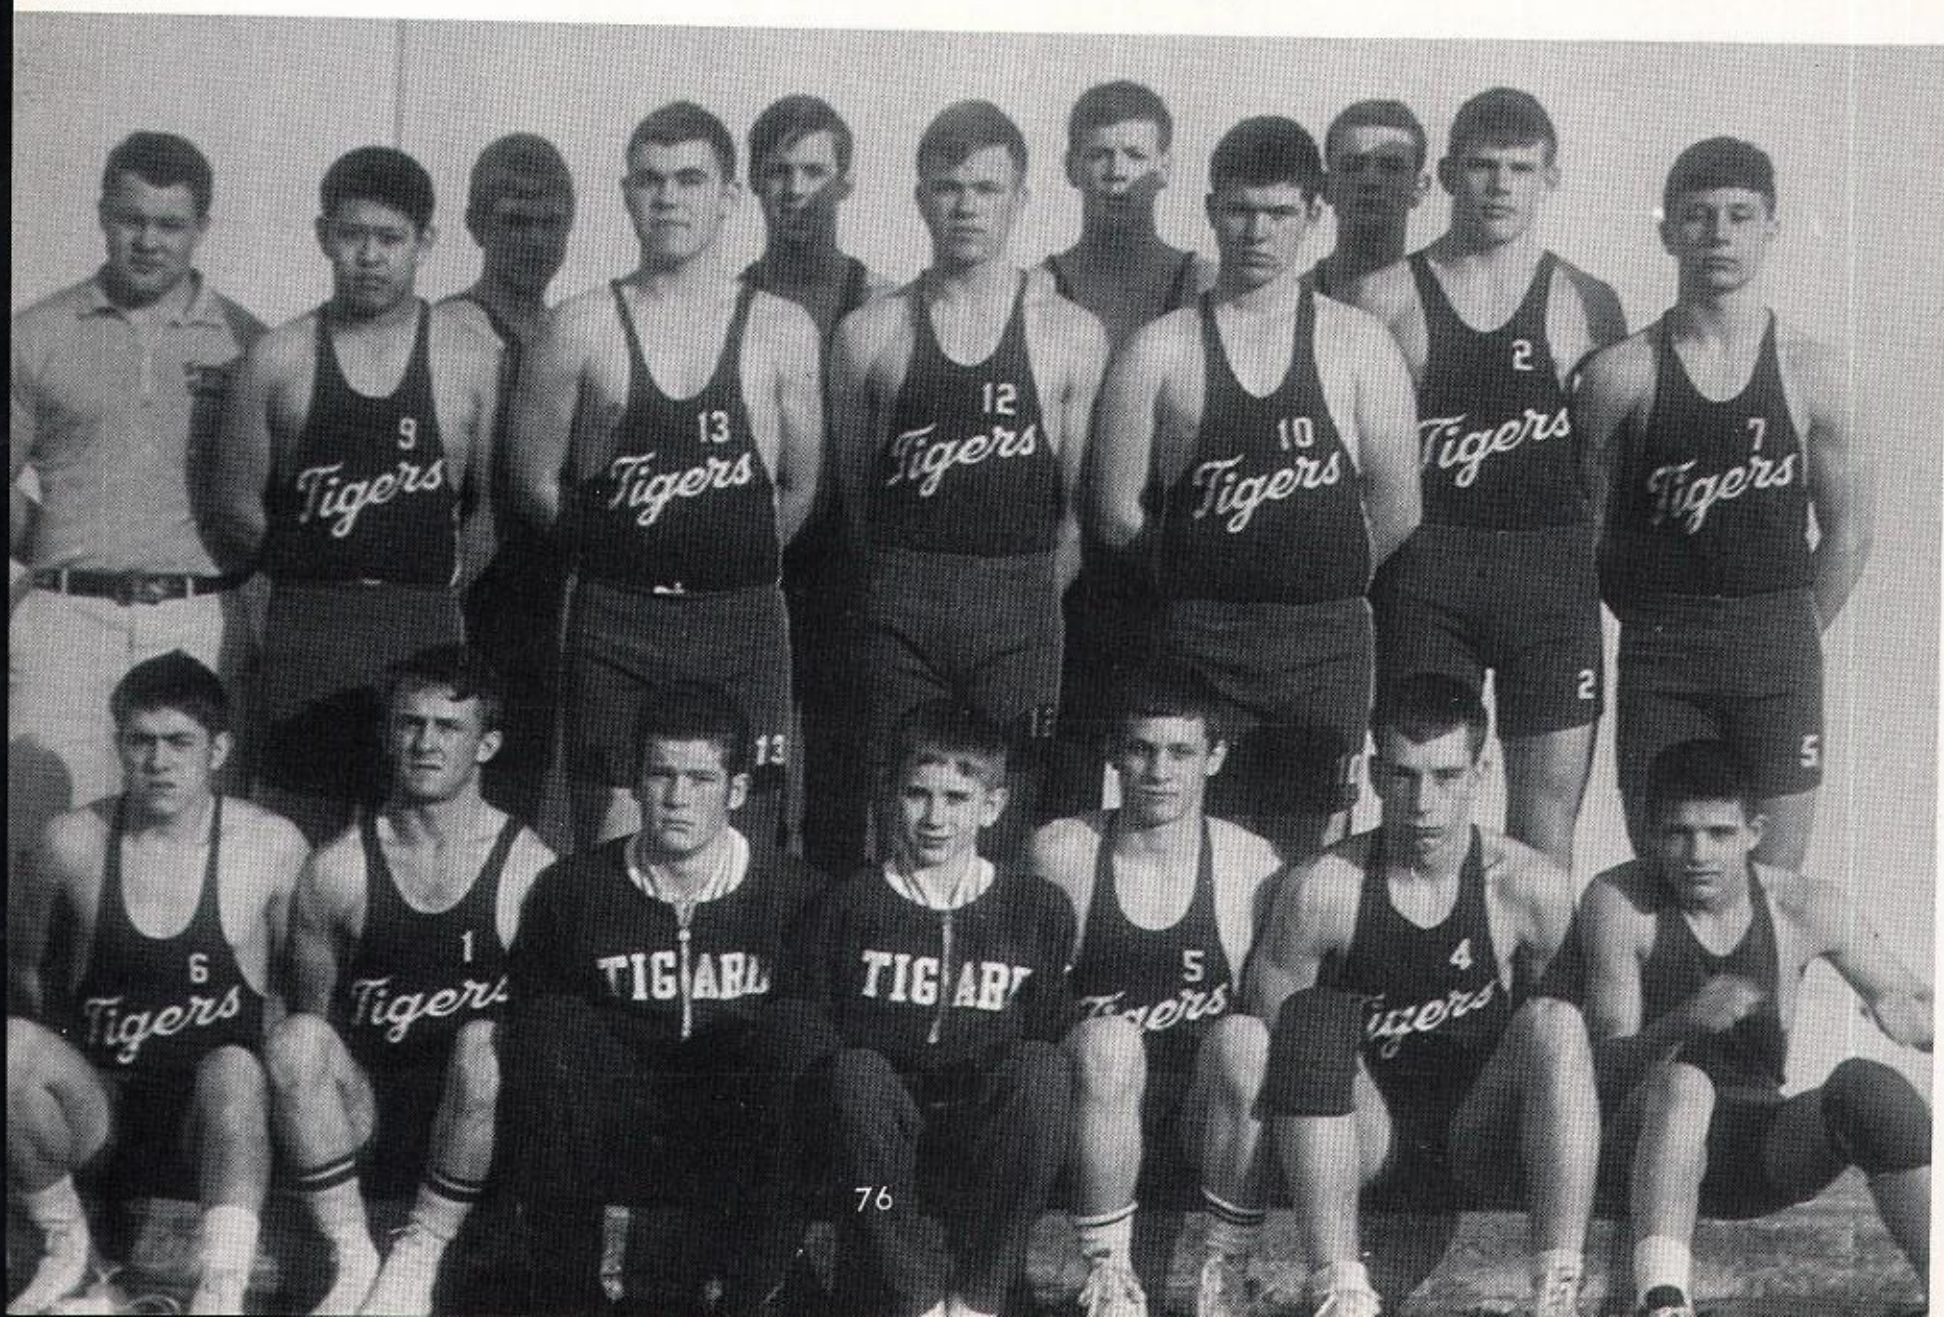

Coach Grossen and his team started the wrestling season with an excellent record. The team won the first seven consecutive dual meets.

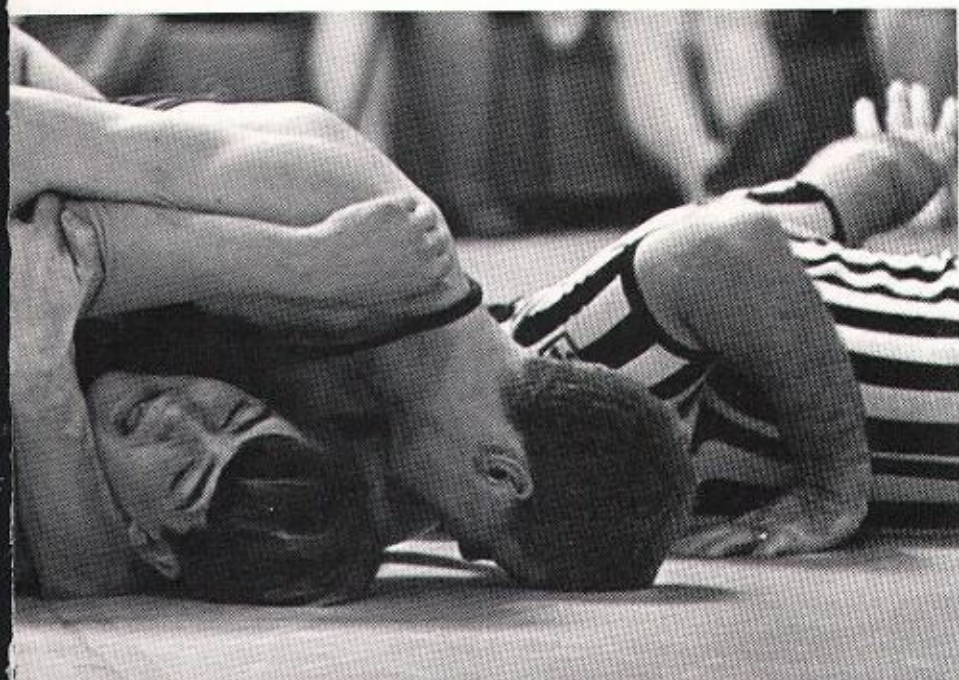

They dropped the last two matches, one by a mere three points. Looking to the future, Grossen sees, "excellent potential for next year's squad."

GIRL'S SPORTS

It's A Girl's World

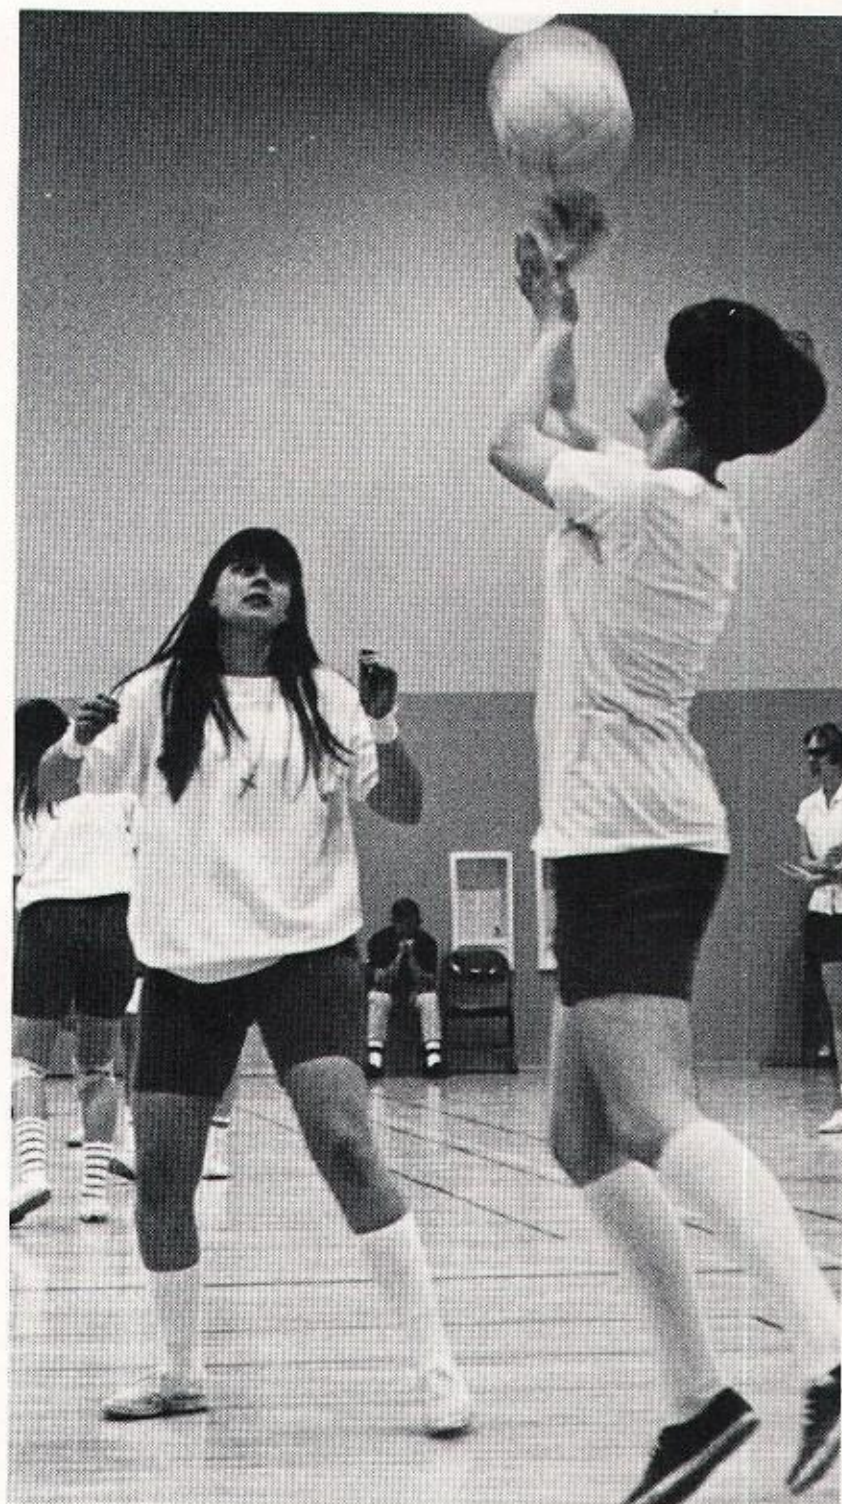

Through a broad and ever increasing program of activities, meets and games, girl's sports offer something of interest for all.

The girl's basketball team was always a group of avid participants, traveling often this year to compete with many schools in the TYV League and in the Portland area.

Many long hours of practice were devoted to the graceful sport of gymnastics. The art requires, not only practice, but a strong sense of balance, coordination and concentration.

The volleyball team, also dominated by female participants, has witnessed a very successful year. Pre-requisites include agility, skill and a desire for fun.

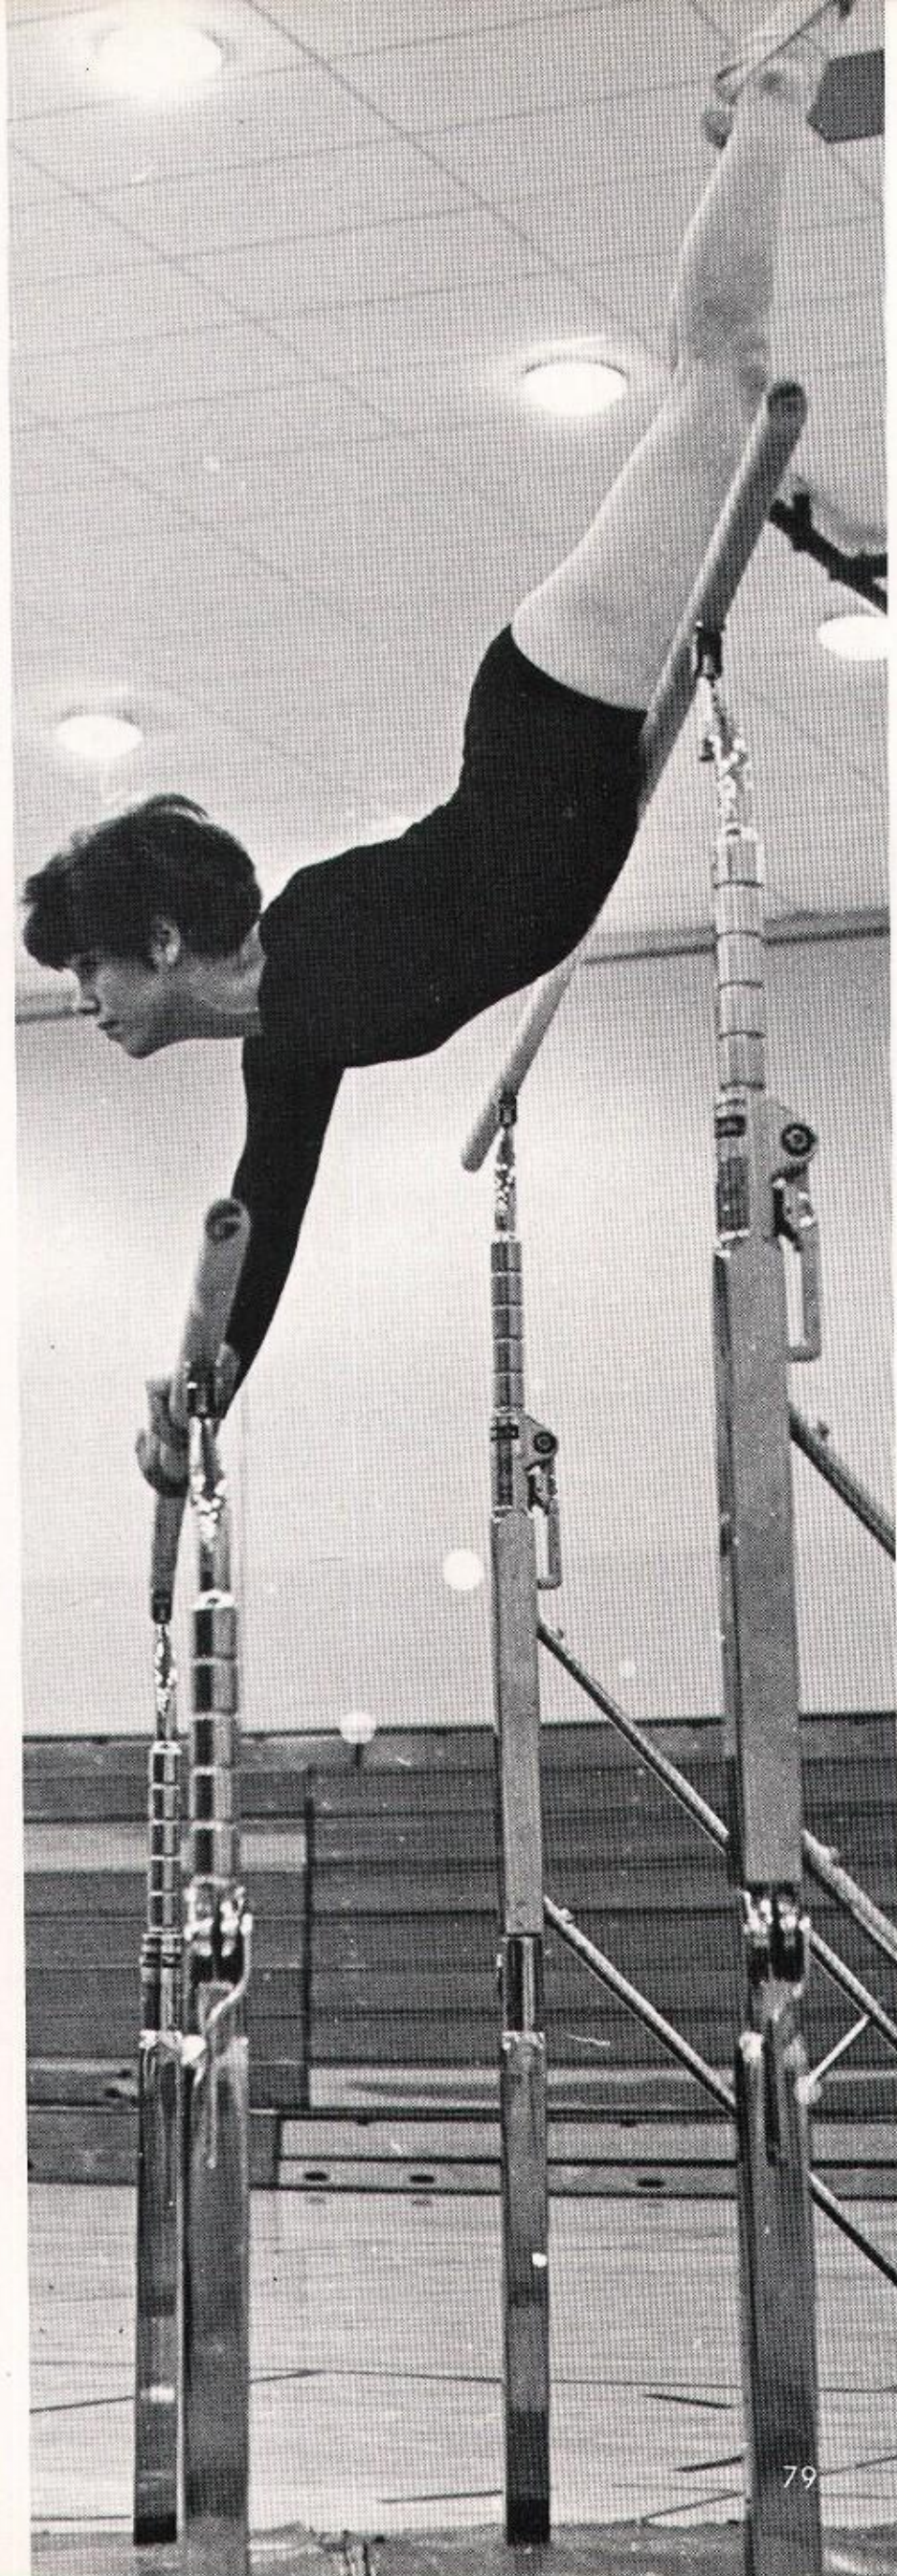

With the success and ability demonstrated by all the teams and the return of many teammates next year, the girl's sports will continue their high rise trends.

SKI CLUB

Slat Group Snowed By Full Treasury

An over-abundance of snow was ski club's only 'problem' this year. The ski season for the club's 50 members lasted through May. During April and May, Mt. Hood Meadows paid each club member 75 cents if a bus was brought up.

The club's treasury was always full. $96 was left to ski club from the previous year. $50 came in from dues. Each member also paid $16 for the six trips up. Out of the extra money ski movies and the big ski party at the end of the year were paid for.

Ski officers were: Bill Baker, president; Mark Carpenter, vice-president; Jeri Groce, secretary-treasurer; Dick Holgate, sergeant-at-arms; Whitney Cayton, racing representative.

TIGERETTES

Dancing Troope Adds Spice To THS.

Parading, dancing, kicking and smiling, the Tigerettes spent another year entertaining THS. Their imaginative dancing and costumes were seen at Homecoming, Christmas, May Fete, various football and basketball games.

After picking new members in May, the girls spent the summer practicing their routines. At the Miss Oregon Pageant in Seaside last summer they were awarded a blue ribbon for participating.

President Cinda Mawhirter; Vice-President Carmen Dalthorpe; and Secretary-Treasurer Gwen Miller make up most of the Tigerette's dances.

Miss Yvonne Dallmann, the advisor, is on hand to help. They go over their routines every Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 7:00-8:00 in the gym.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

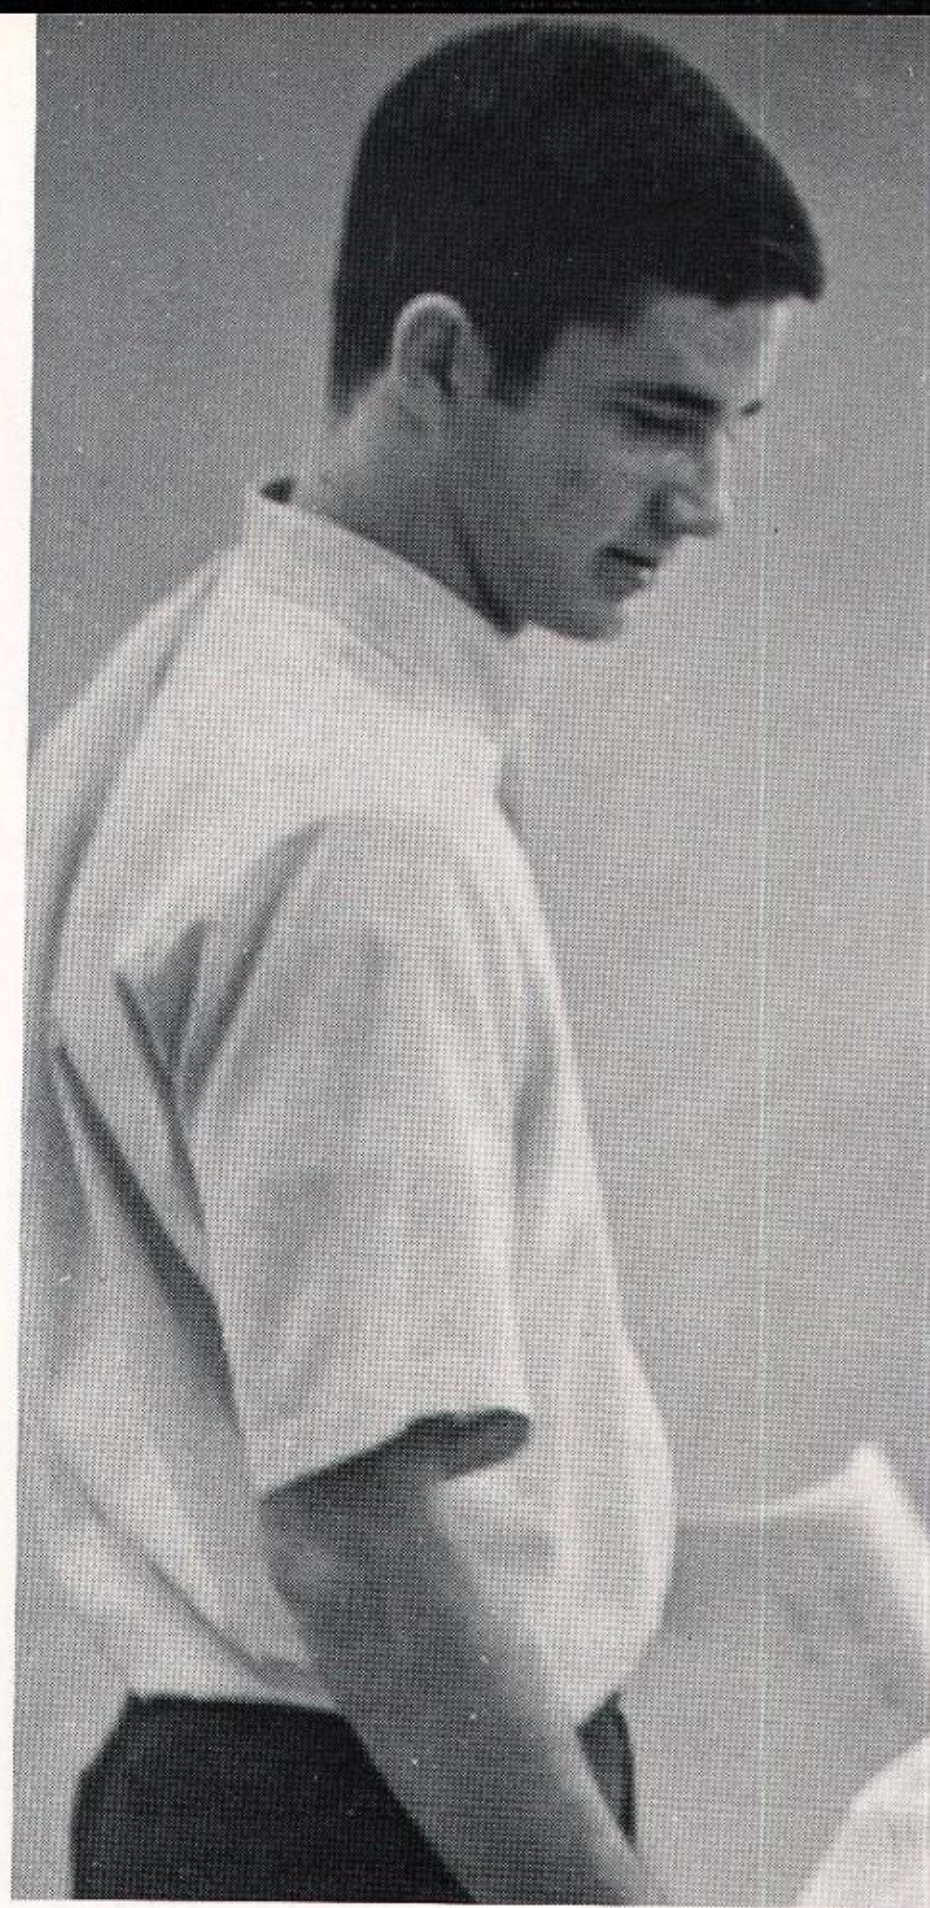

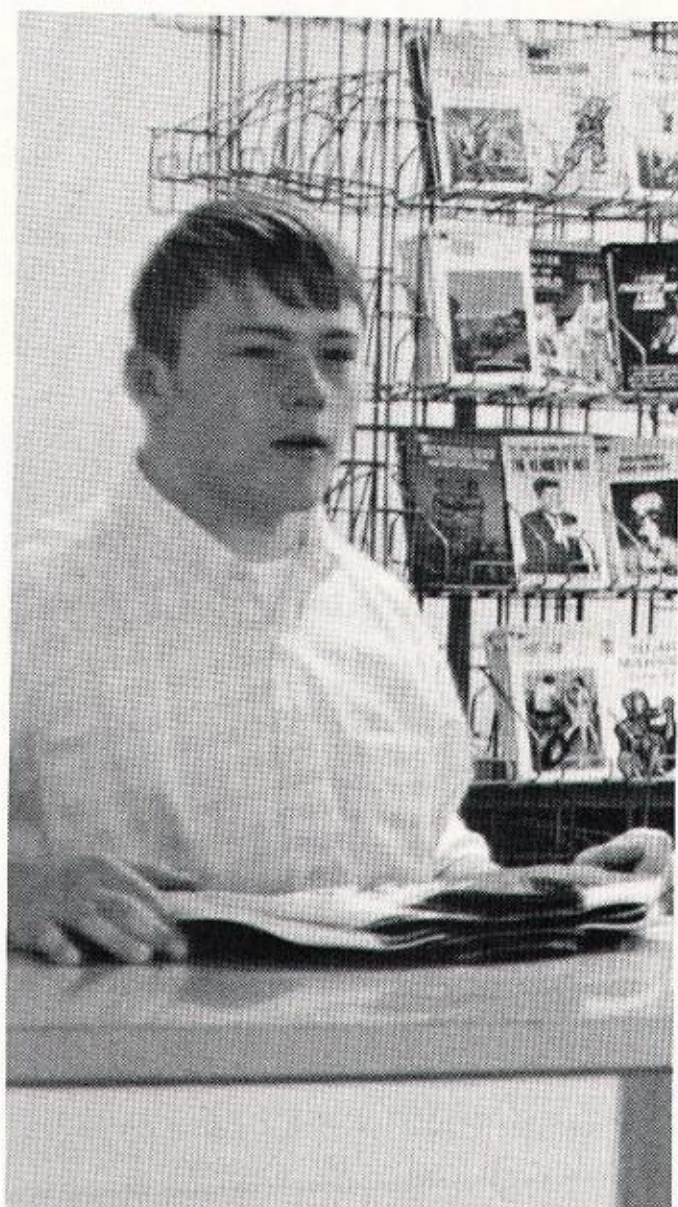

"Jock's" Maintain Routine Jobs

Lettermen's club was a service organization. Club members maintained order by holding the ropes during all assemblies. Funds were raised through ice cream sales every noon.

The jobs were often routine. President Bruce Webber commented: "We had to do them because no one else would."

One of the club's purposes was to earn enough money for athletic equipment. Profits came through sales of green traveling bags and from the homecoming dance. $176 was made when the Lettermen brought the Harlem Clowns to THS.

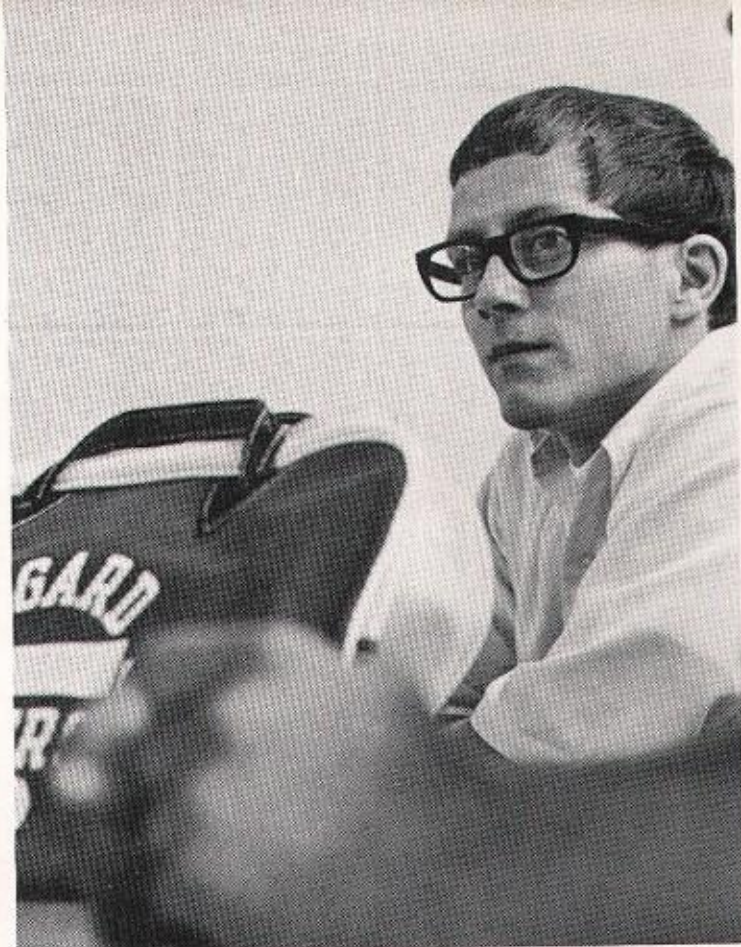

Club officers were: Bruce Webber, president; Don Silvey, vice-president; Al Schmidt, treasurer; Chuck Miller, sergeant-at-arms; and Dick Barth, public relations.

PEP CLUB

School Promoters Gain Membership

Pep Club's goal to promote student unity and to support the rally gained many followers this year. Membership grew from 15 to 50 active members.

Leaders devoted to their goals helped bring about this change. President was Judy Vopat; vice-president, Julie Stretch; secretary, Joyce Zadow, treasurer, Sandi Adkins; and advisor Mrs. Nancy Lewis. They worked tirelessly to promote interest-through-active programs.

Pep Club was divided into four 10-girl squads. Each squad earned $25 during the year. This money went towards buying rally uniforms and helped pay rally costs to camp during the summer. By Christmas, the squad, headed by Leona Simkins had raised over $100.

To belong to the club, certain rules were followed. A member must attend all home games, wear the club uniform on all game days, go to all meetings and root in the club section during the games.

INNOVATIVE IDEAS by President Judy Vopat sparked a year of experimentation in spirit organization.

RED CROSS

Red Cross Helps Needy

The THS Red Cross club's biggest service project was started at the beginning of the year. Red Cross sent nearly 100 friendship boxes to disaster areas. Toys, trinkets, soap and toothpaste were included.

Money for the club's activities came from the Valentines and Christmas dances. A bake sale to Mom's and Dad's Club brought in $35.

Every summer THS's Red Cross sends two members to the Red Cross Leadership Conference Camp. Emphasis is placed on Red Cross involvement in the school and community levels.

Tigard's Red Cross club is a member of the Portland Trail Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Officers were: Lorrie Voorhees, president; Nita Flores, vice-president; Diane McCabe, secretary; Mickey Kelley, treasurer; Chris Polinsky, committee coordinator.

Students Teach

Tigard's Future Teachers of America was a serious club. Future teachers learned about their profession through lectures and experience.

President, Cliff Lehman; vice-president, Mike Smith; and treasurer, Jane Hodges, initiated several practical programs.

At Templeton, FTA tutored slow students. Each member went for one period a minimum of two days a week. At Twality, FTA members first observed classes, then took over a class for a period.

From the concession stand and club dues, FTA raised money for the week-long Summer Seminar Program at Oregon College of Education. Three members attended.

SPEECH CLUB

Forensics Fortified

Contributing to the success of Tigard's active Forensics squad was Speech Club, backing and promoting THS's speech ventures.

The club's first activity was the annual Student Congress. Making mock decisions on modern problems facing the U.S. was the purpose of the congress.

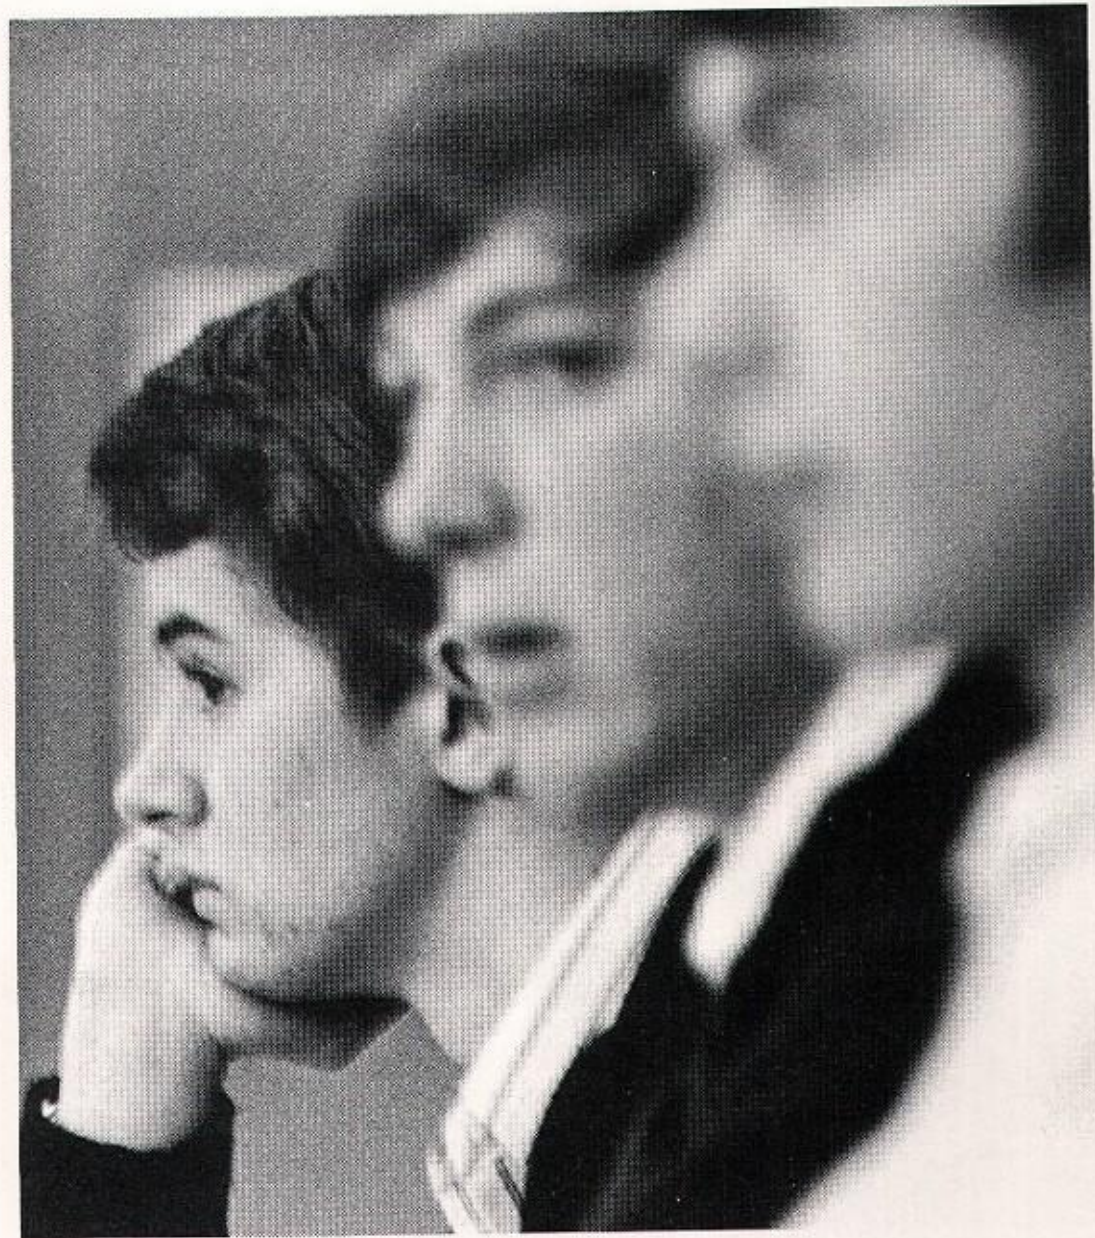

February, the club hosted a huge speech tournament. Some 300 students from 25 Oregon schools attended. Over $250 was made in entrance fees.

A junior high speech tournament was held by Speech Club in April. Its purpose was to give future Forensics members experience. 250 students attended!

To insure the future of Forensics for underclassmen, Speech Club awarded seven scholarships ranging from $20-$40.

DELIBERATING OUTCOME of Speech Club sponsored Junior High tournament are judges Karen Dreeszen, Lowell Prickett and Bernadette Fairbanks.

LEADING SPEECH CLUB TO SUCCESS in many ventures was president John Brosy. Among projects were annual Student Congress and speech tournaments.

SPRING

UN-TALENT SHOW

IRL Show Colorful, But Controversial

Using Tigard High talent, the IRL Club sponsored a "Laugh In" style talent show to raise money for the American Field Service.

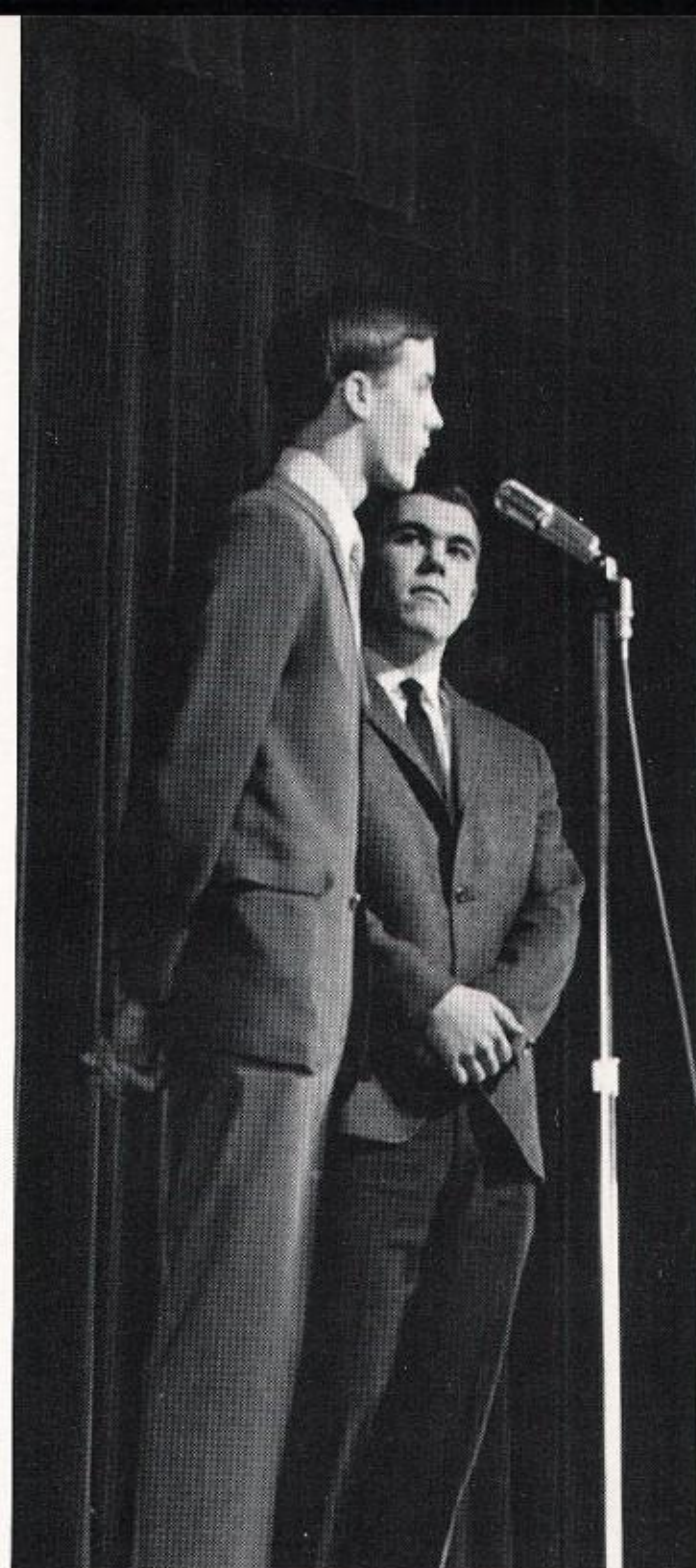

The talent show was held in the THS cafeteria. Seats cost 25 cents. Admission was limited to 550 people. Tickets were sold out in advance and the public attended.

IRL president, George Hoselton, was head organizer of the program. Other club members responsible for program organization, stage management, and script were: Donna Hartig, Colleen Sweeney, George Helmick, Cliff Lehman, Terry Leiser, Patty Smith, Dean Clark, John Palm and Cliff Cox.

Entertainment included folk songs, a dance number, piano playing, skits by rally and running humor by the MC's.

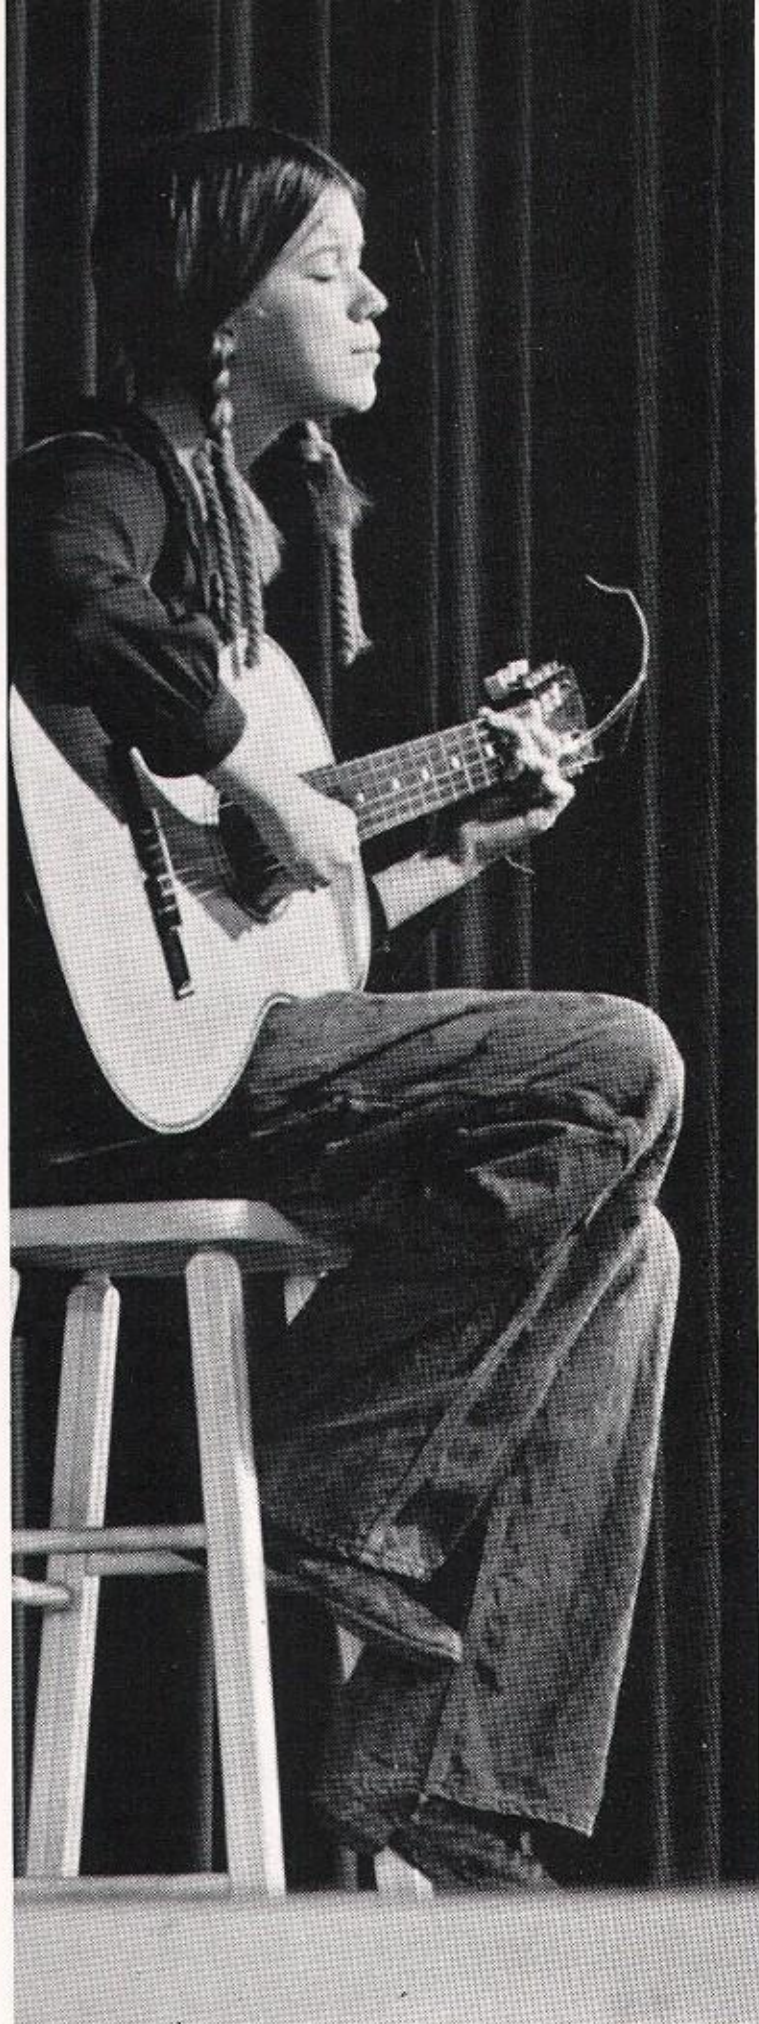

The pseudo-sophisticated show had a typical slapstick ending as a pie smashed in the startled puss of MC Dean Clark.

Prom Couples Double

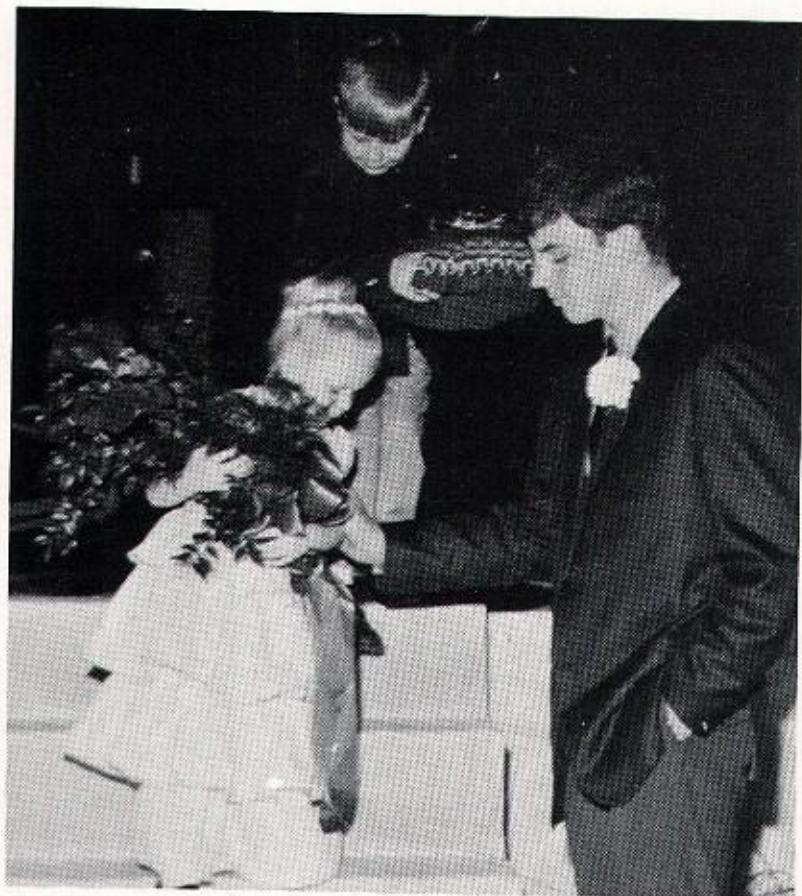

"A Moment to Cherish" became a reality on a balmy April night reserved for the Junior-Senior Prom in the ingeniously decorated THS cafetorium.

Blue and green streamers walled the dance floor from "night-club" tables and candles. Splashing colored lights from an eight-foot fountain heightened the total effect.

Disraeli, a nationally known recording group, set the mood with such songs as "What Will The New Day Bring", and "Say You Love Me." Disraeli performed before an enthusiastic THS assembly earlier in the year.

ROAR OF THE GREASE PAINT SMELL OF THE CROWD

'Game Of Life' Draws Crowd

Tigard's drama department portrayed the "Game of Life" with their production of the Broadway musical, "The Roar of the Greasepaint-The Smell of the Crowd."

Director Larry Daw felt "the students brought together a delightful musical." Cast members rehearsed eight weeks every day after school for two or three long hours in an effort to present something new and different.

The setting was a series of platforms and ramps surrounding a large game area from which Sir and Cocky played the "Game of Life."

On a stage floor in bright colors and numbered like a hopscotch board, a character who symbolized the nation's power group called the rules and a 1965 Everyman hopped, skipped and jumped according to his leaders commands.

Joe Hill portrayed Sir, the rule-maker, who could only stand to win, Greg Yock as Cocky represented society's constant loser.

He tries again and again, unsuccessfully, to play the game and with every defeat he was forced to write new, restrictive rules in the book of life. Desperate as Act I closes, he pleaded to heaven in "Who can I Turn To?"

In Act II, Cocky began to assert himself more and more with Sir. With new confidence he played the game and won for the first time. Cocky realized the phoniness of Sir's rules and rebels.

The musical ended on a clash of conflict even though the foes had pledged in song that they will see "The sweet beginnings of the new co-operation through to the bitter end."

MAY FETE

Sophs Take Trophy

Parading their legs during the first day of the dress code change, knobby-kneed sophomores upset careful prognostications of a senior victory by winning 20 pep trophy points during May Week.

As a kick-off to the 1 1/2-hour Wednesday outdoor program, four sky divers zeroed in on the playing field.

Following the aerial exhibition, sophomores beat both junior and senior efforts in the tug'o war. The sophs also won the bicycle relay with seniors placing second.

The May assembly was held Friday morning. Following the court review, the May Court was introduced and May Queen, Anita Flores, crowned. Tigerettes and Lassies performed and Mary Silvey gave a humorous speech summarizing the year's activities.

CONCERT CHOIR

New Mixed Ensemble Makes Public Sounds

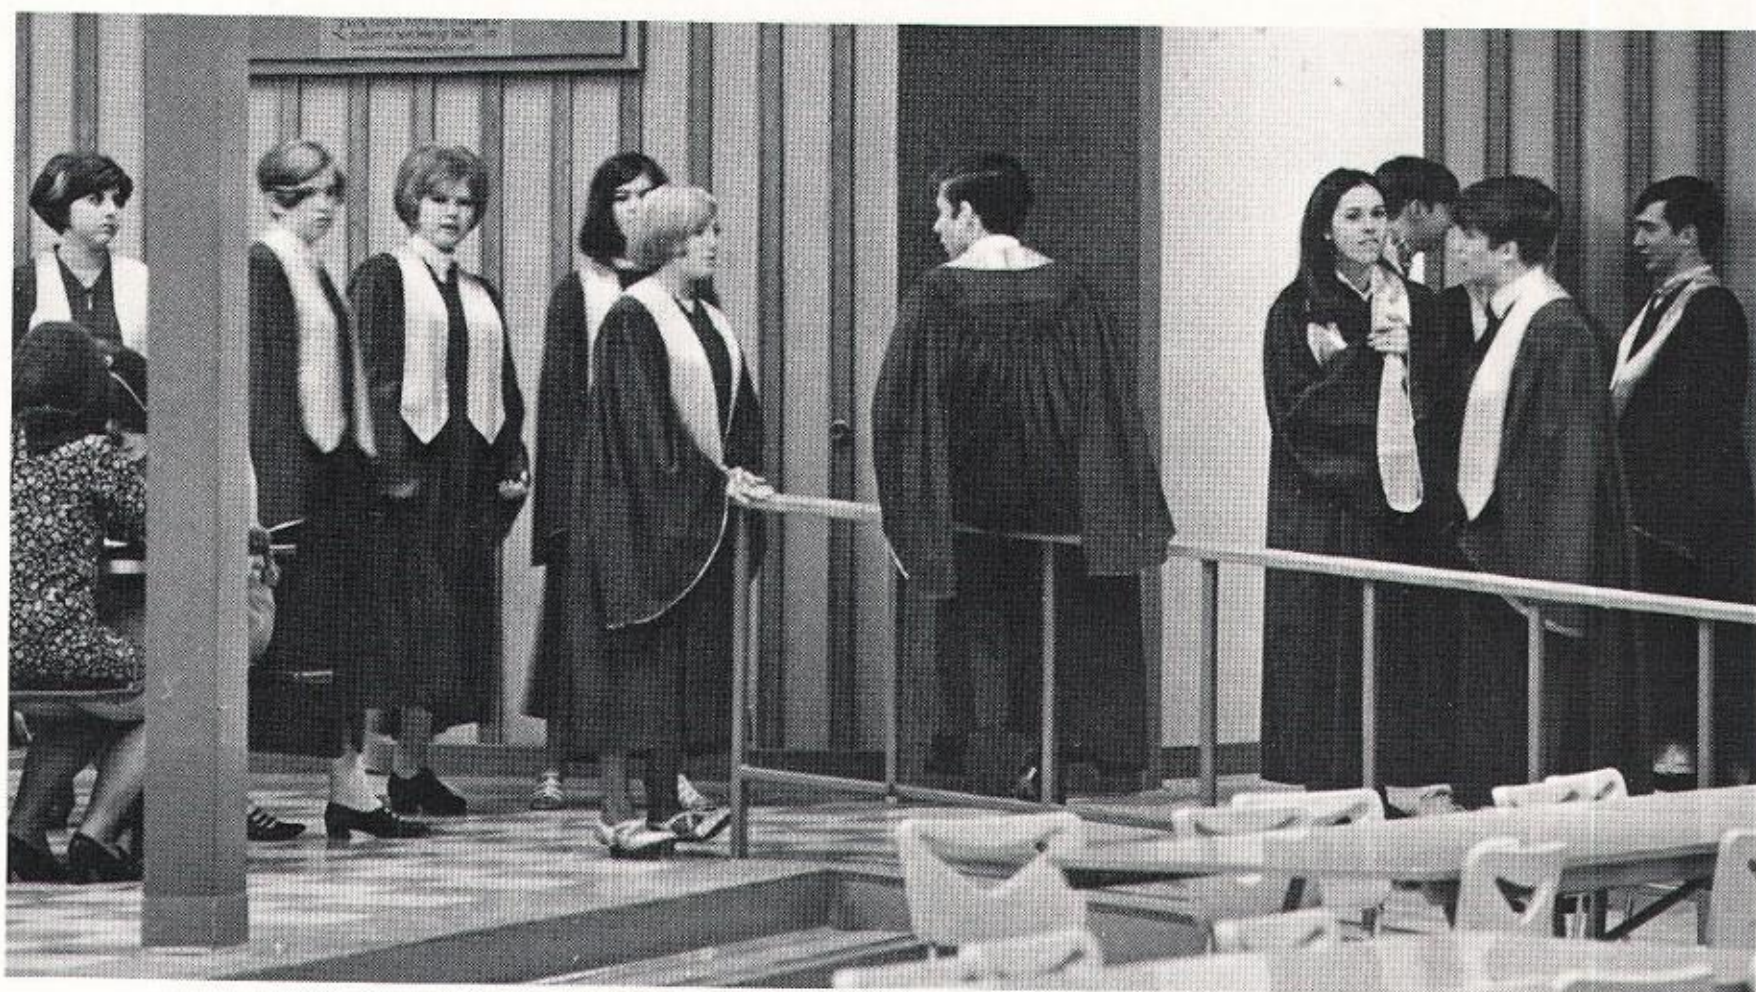

A special addition to the music department was a newly formed concert choir directed by THS instructor, George Koch.

Thirty-five top singing musicians met one period daily to rehearse. A wide variety of music was enjoyed by attentive audiences at various community and school functions.

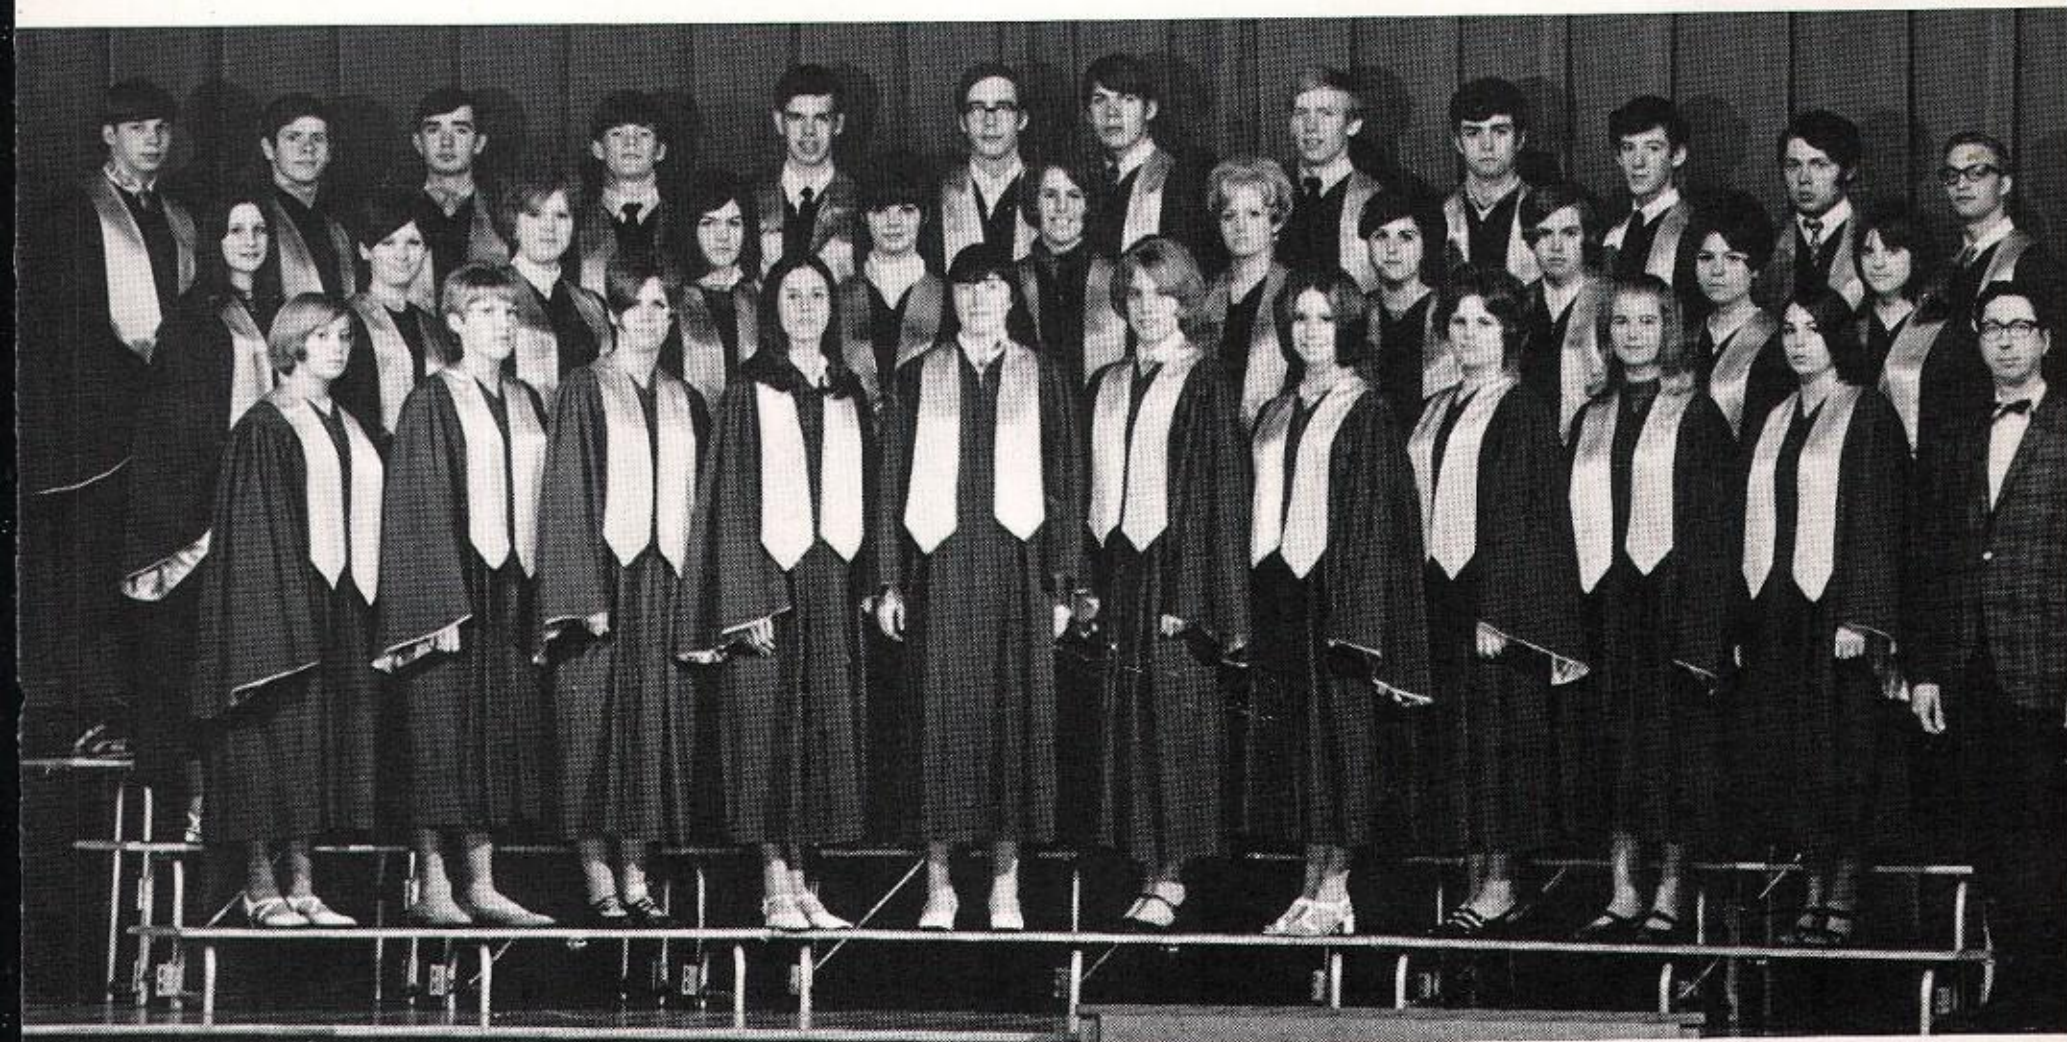

The mixed ensemble spent hours preparing for several Thanksgiving and Christmas engagements. Some interesting programs included a Masonic lodge meeting in December at the IOOF Hall, a Christmas appearance at the Lloyd Center and a performance for King City residents.

The concert choir's finale was their appearance at Baccalaureate. Their medley of spiritual songs pointed up the poignancy of the ceremony.

HARD WORK ENJOYED BY ALL was what the Concert Choir strived for. The group made appearances during their first year.

GRADUATION

First Day Of The Rest Of Our Lives

Wearing navy blue and white robes, a procession of 282 graduates ushered an end to four years of high school study at the commencement exercises.

Giggles and guffaws from slipping hats and hot robes were quickly stilled as Steve Thornbrue read the invocation. With bowed heads, the graduates thought of the good times and the friends they might never see again.

Gail Matthias, valedictorian; Linda Muller and Denise Pierce, co-salutatorians; and Rebeca Maldonado, foreign exchange student from Ecuador, turned thought to the future and the class motto, "Tomorrow is the first day of the rest of your life."

After baritone soloist, Joe Hill, sang "I Gotta Be Me," senior class president, Eric Knudsen, dedicated the "Class of 1969" to the audience.

Diplomas were issued by Principal Darwin Shinn, Superintendent Delbert Fennell and Board member, Warren Forsyth.

The benediction and recessional closed the ceremony.

SENIOR GAIL MATTHIAS represented her class as Valedictorian, speaking on what the future held for her class and what the world could expect from them.

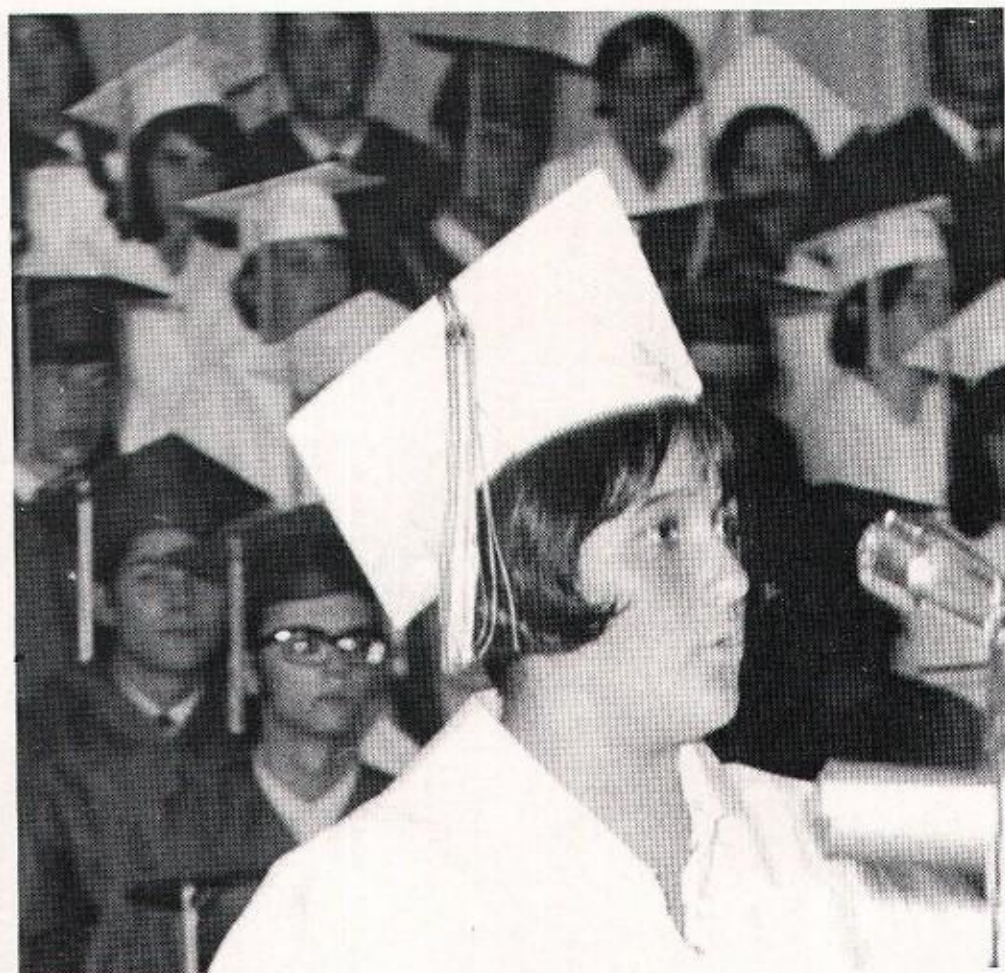

THE LAST MILE--Happy seniors move swiftly along as proud parents try to capture commencement candids of their offspring.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE co-salutatorian, Linda Muller, presented her speech topic.

TRACK

Thinclads Take Third

Third place was captured by the Tigard thinclads in the annual TYV District Track meet to highlight the seasons activities.

Tigard was represented in the state competition by Steve Thornbrue in the pole vault and Don Hall in the long jump. Hall leaped his way to fifth in the state-wide meet.

With the coaching of Tex Whiteman, Don Hedgepeth and Ron Parrish, sufficient improvement was made by team members to set seven new school records.

Many individuals made tremendous improvements, and the young track team has many participants returning next year.

A talented freshman class will add many first class trackmen to an already good team.

From the long distance crew, which includes everyone who runs the 440 or a longer race, Tigard will lose only two men. Those that remain make up the strongest field of runners that Tigard has had.

The field events will lose only two individuals from their ranks. Two graduates from the hurdles will hurt the squad, but the presence of Tom Mardock, who finished third in the low hurdles in district, will be back to carry the load in that event.

In the Central Relays, a 16-team invitational, the Tigers finished second bringing home three first place trophies. The only other non-league meet Tigard participated in was the Centennial Invitational where the locals tied for seventh.

Looking to the future, all signs point to one of the best track teams in years at Tigard.

FINAL EFFORTS PROVE REWARDING as Tigard hurdler Tom Mardock strains for a cross-eyed first place.

GIRL'S TRACK

Successful Spikers Streak To State

Undefeated in league play, the girls track team ended their season by winning the district meet and qualifying six girls for the state meet.

Throughout the season Tigard girl spikers overpowered league opponents and placed high invitational meets. This year seven of the twelve school records for girl's track were broken.

New records were set in the 100 and 880 by Gail Tyson; Carol Somers established new javelin and shot put records; the high jump record went to Janet Zimmerman; Lori Knebel set a new long jump record; and the 440 yard relay team of Janice Schroeder, Diane McCabe, Joyce Nelson and Gail Tyson set another new school record.

Thus ended the most successful season for the girl spikers in the four years that the sport has existed at Tigard.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Slow Season Dubbed "Building Year"

A building year was in store for the Tigard's varsity baseball team.

With only four seniors and one sophomore, the balance of the team were juniors who will rejoin Tigard's varsity baseball ranks again next year.

Although not having a winning league season, 4-9, the Tigard varsity came through with identical 1-0 wins in the last years last two games.

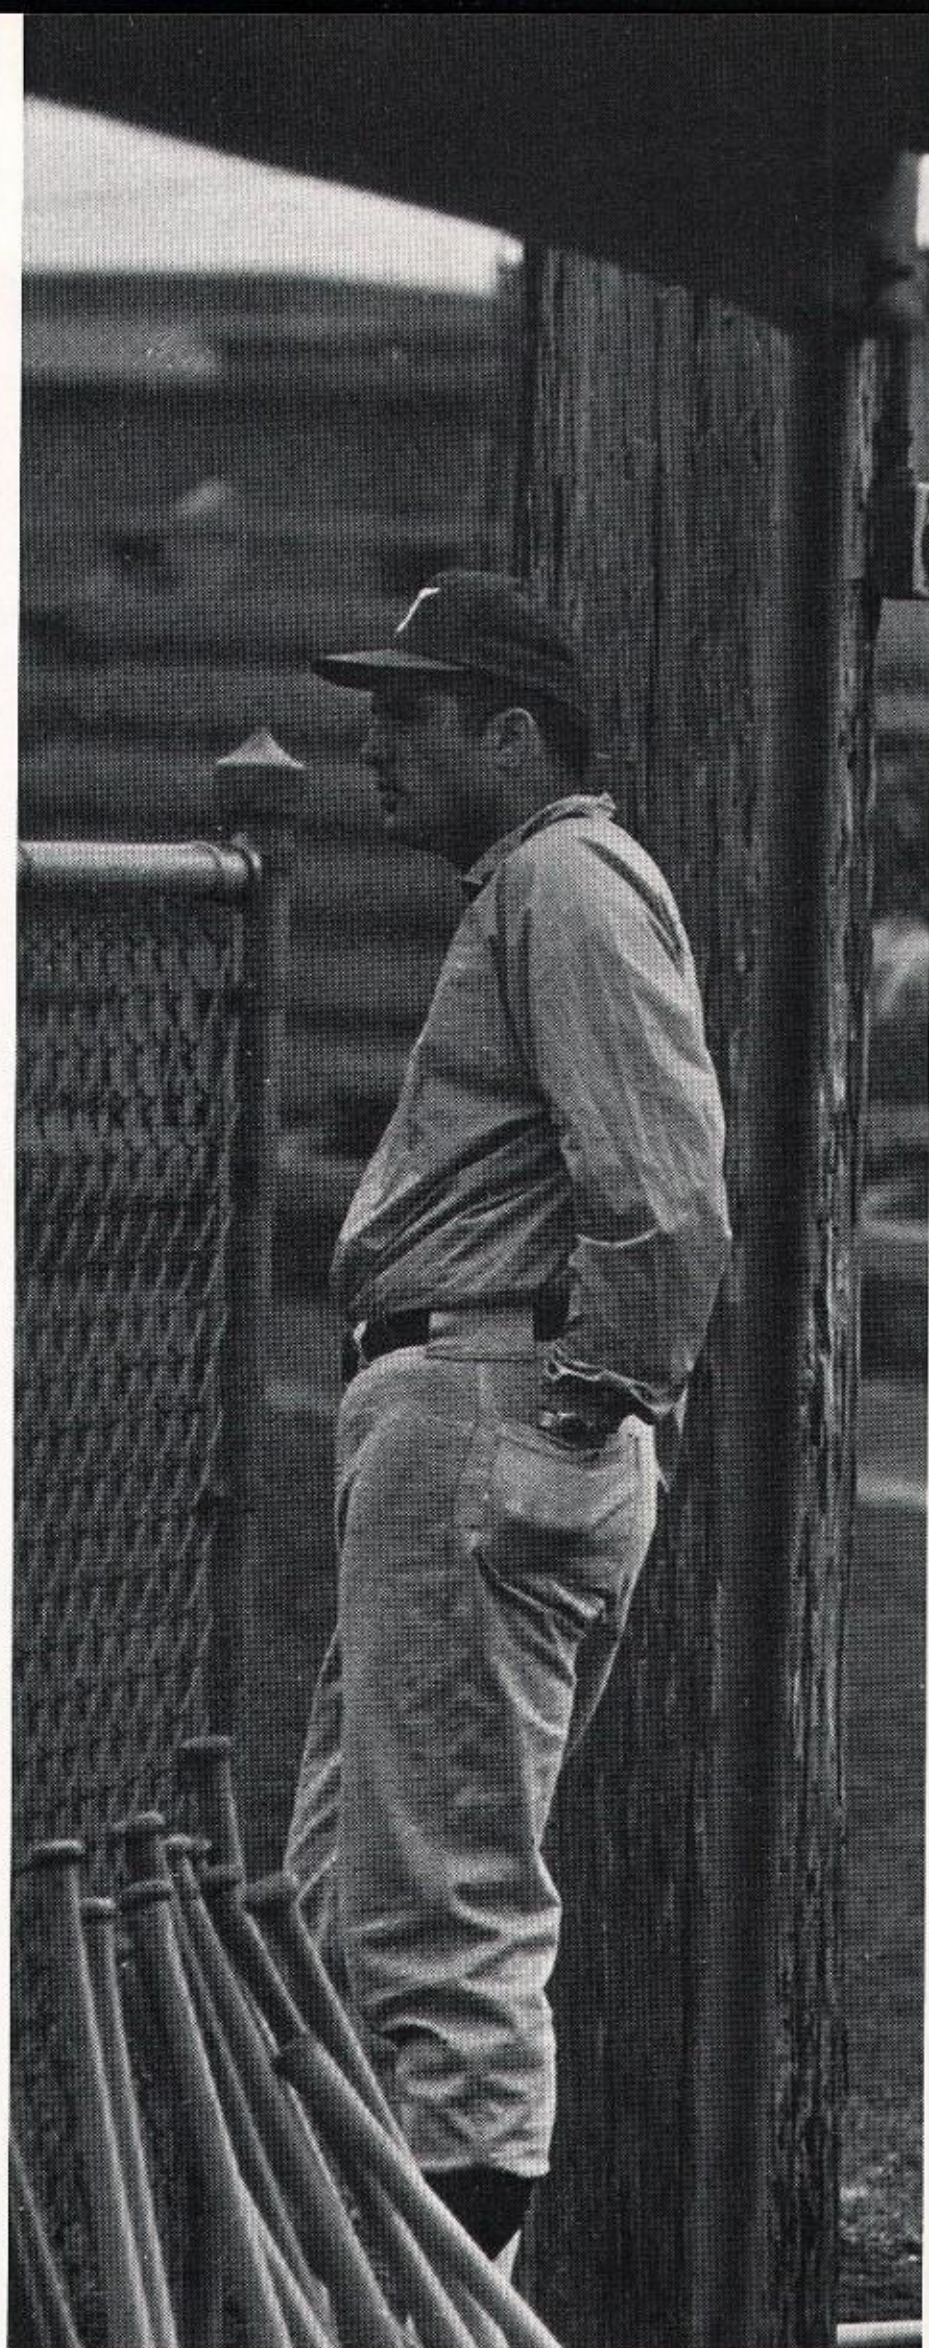

Coach Wayne Peterson believes that next year will show a great improvement over this year's meager win record.

Tigard's main problem came in their inability to score. An overall poor batting average kept Tigard to few base runners and when the Green and White were on the basepaths, the lack of hitting hindered scoring.

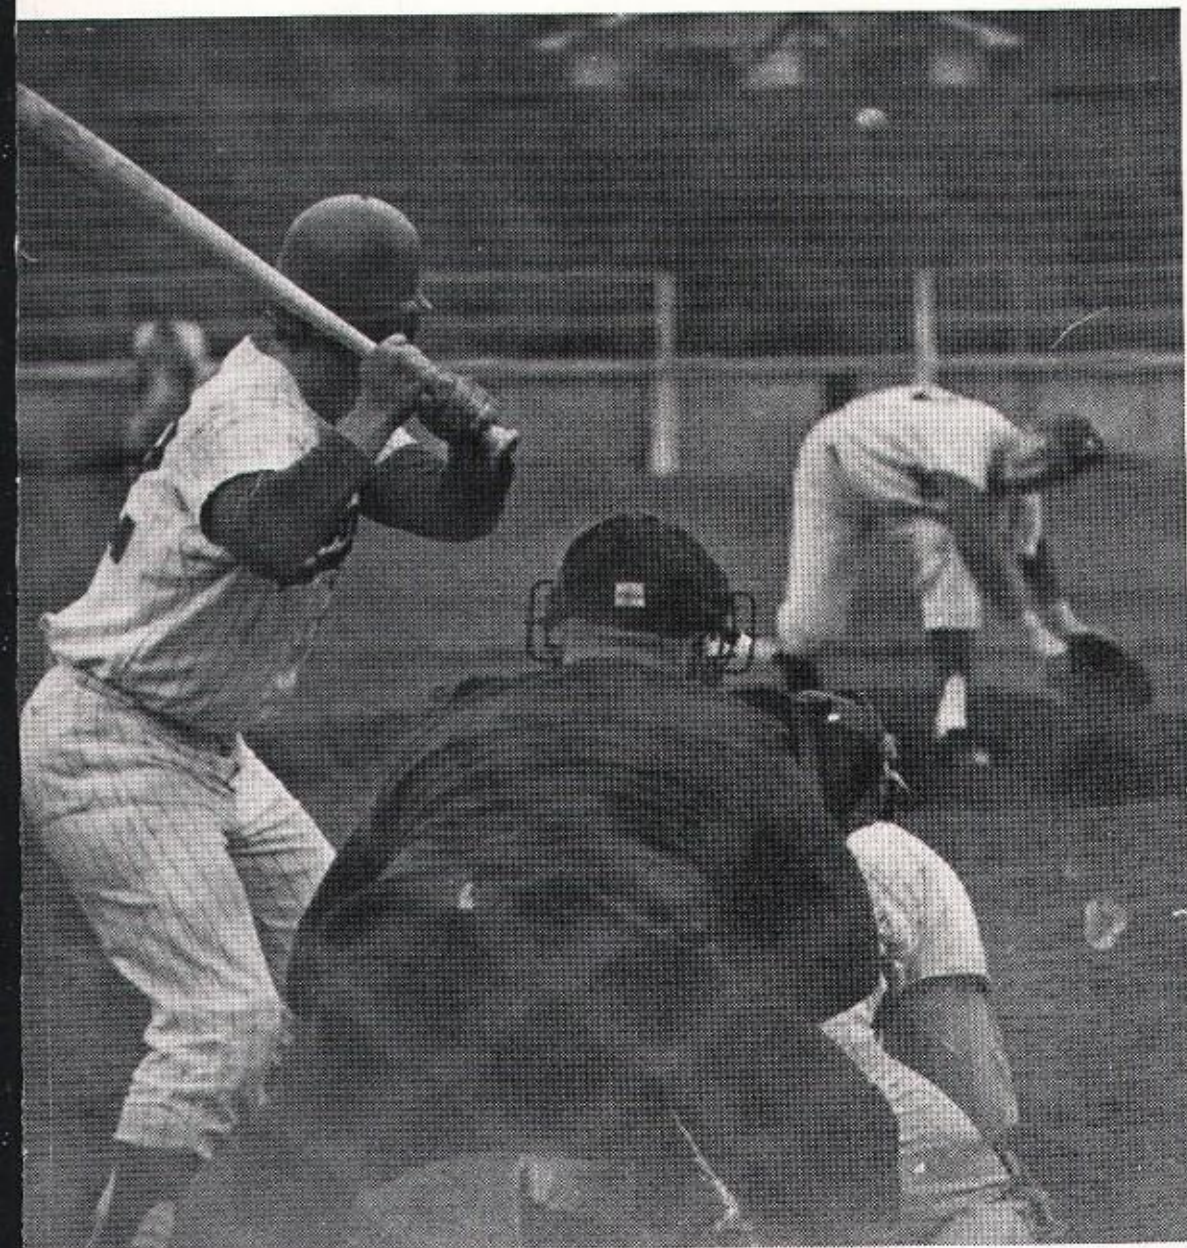

Four Tigers received All-Star TYV spots. On the second team were sophomore pitcher Ron Noyes and senior Garland Jasperson in center field.

Selected to Honorable Mention positions were catcher Rob Beringer and Tom McGuire, Tigard's first sacker.

Receiving the Most Valuable Player award for Tigard was McGuire and fellow junior, Beringer, was selected Most Inspirational.

POLE LEANING, Coach Wayne Peterson keeps an eye on the action of the game.

9 Game Win Streak Bags TYV Second

Compiling a 10-3 league season and a 12-6 overall record, the JV diamond crew led by Coach Royce McDaniels, finished second in the TYV standings.

After winning two of their last three pre-season games, the junior Tigers won one and lost two on the regular league play. Then began the JV's nine game win-streak that lasted until the final confrontation of the season.

Behind the spirited coaching and determined play, Tigard's JV squad often overcame scoring deficits to claim victory in the late innings.

The all-sophomore team vastly improved their performances from the previous when they won but three games.

Most Valuable selection, Randy Loeks, pitches his way to a 5-1 league record while batting over .400. Most Inspirational choice, catcher Bill Olson, also hit above the .400 mark.

McDaniels believes that many of the junior batsmen will be successful in varsity with the type of hustle and determination they exhibited this year.

TENNIS

Feminine Team Racks 14-0 Record

The undefeated season experienced by the girl netters was terminated as they seized the 3rd-in-state title. Their record of 14-0 maintained the top-spot of TYV champs.

State slots were gained by district leaders, Jan Carey, District champion singles and Cinda Mawhirter and Peggy O'Farrell District second doubles competition.

The state action showed slack except for the THS singles perfectionist, Jan Carey. Miss Carey achieved the runner-up spot for her singles match.

Coach Elva Coombs continued her onslaught of league opponents as she racked up another undefeated season.

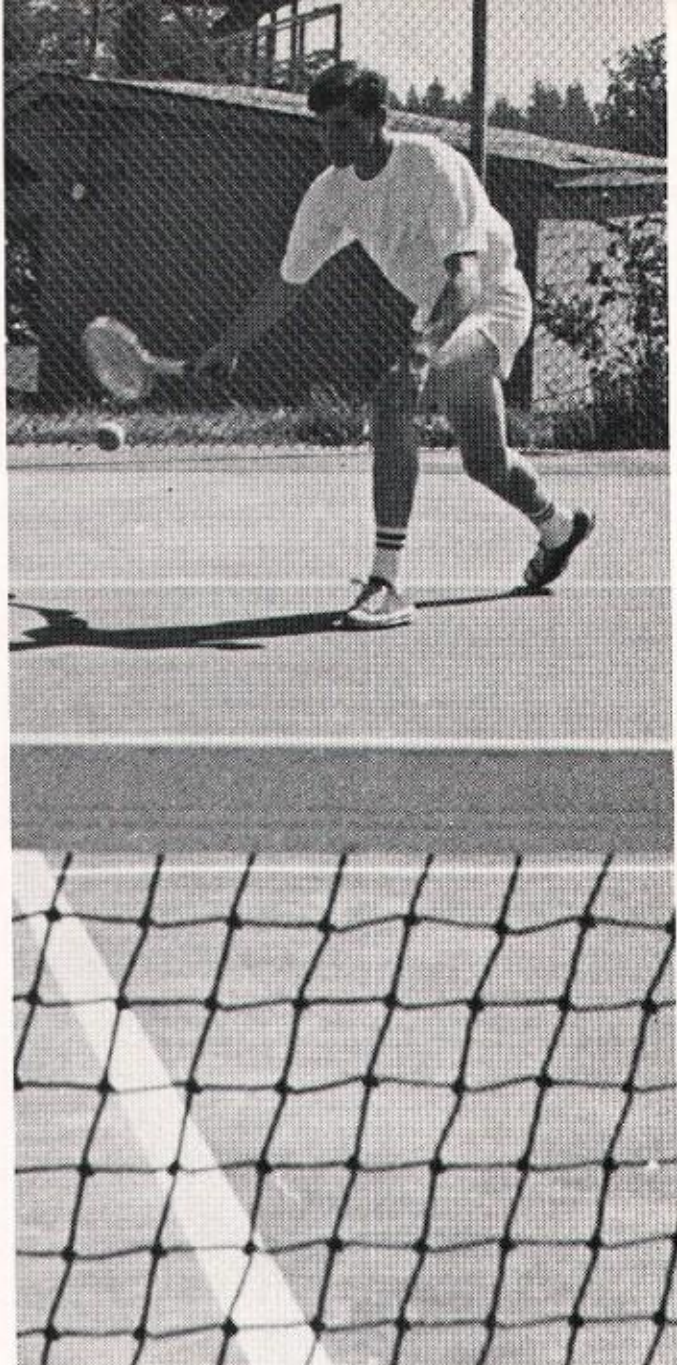

THS boy's tennis team sparked for fifth in the district tournament at McMinnville. John Brosy won the No. 1 round, however, succumbed to Forest Grove in the second round. Doubles team of Matt Meyer and Bruce Etling lost their first round, won two and ended in defeat with the fourth match. Meyer and Etlin were the only teammates to finish with a .500 percentage over the season.

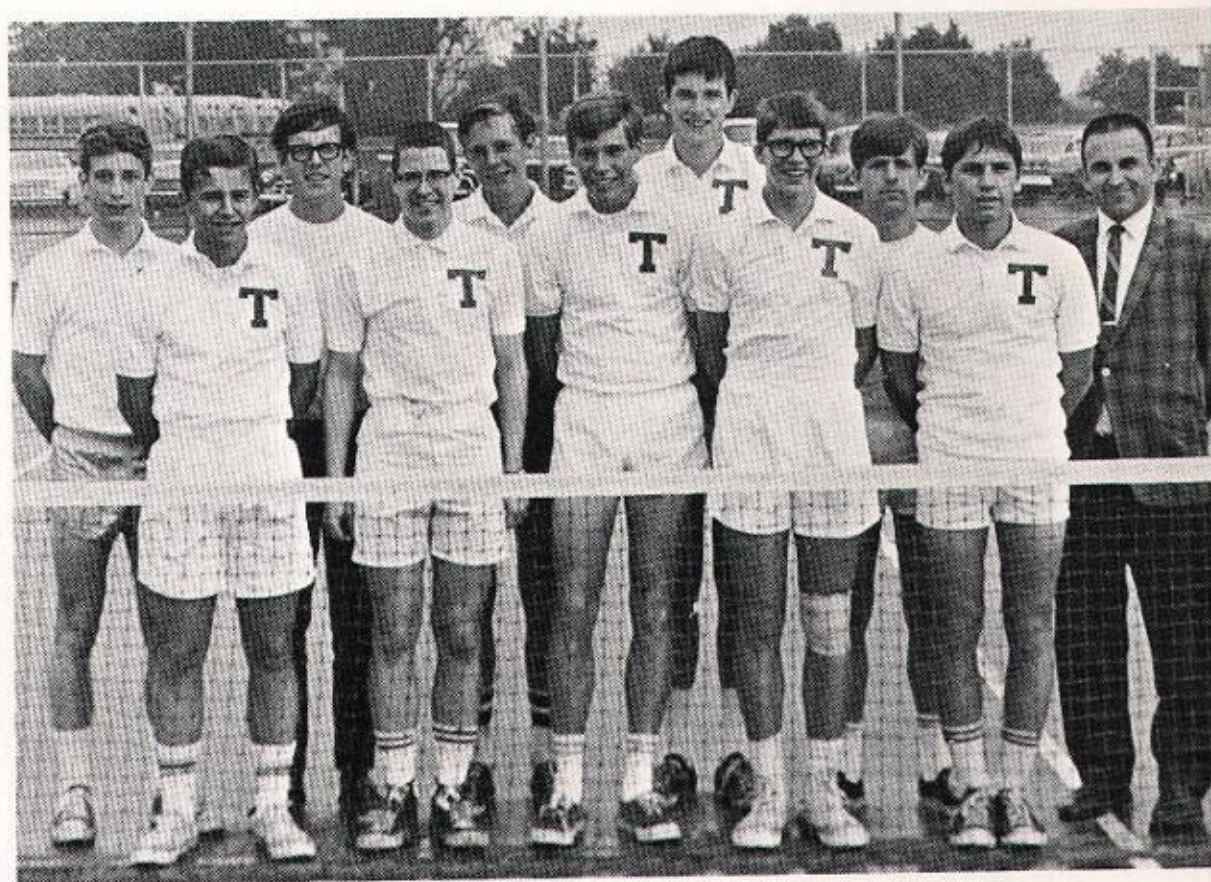

STATE SINGLES RUNNER-UP, Jan Carey soberly concentrates on a return in the warm-up rally before a match. Jan achieved the highest placement of any Tigard girl in the history of THS sports.

GOLF

Divot Diggers Gain Ground

Boasting an improved record of 9-6-2, the THS golf team greatly bettered the winless season of last year. Their record gave them a tie for fifth in the league standings.

Coached by Alex Hoffert, the squad is quite optimistic for next year as they are losing only two men through graduation.

The JV golfers also had a respectable record going 9-4, which shows the depth in Tigards golfing ranks.

HONOR SOCIETY

'Eggheads' Hatch

Combining the talents of all THS's "eggheads" into one group was Honor Society. The club's purpose, stated President Conrad Pearson: "to make enough money so that every member could bribe his teachers into giving him straight A's."

Seriously NHS supported many worthwhile projects during the year.

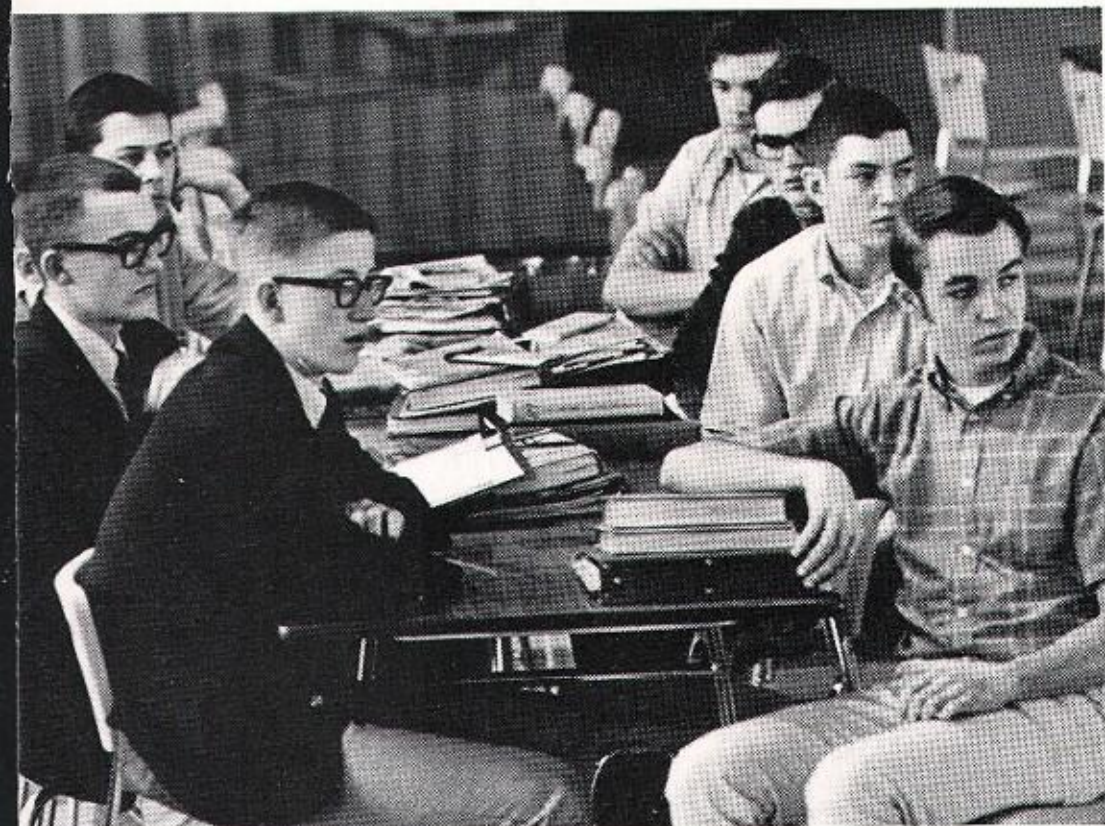

Adopting an orphan in Greece added a sense of purpose. For $12 a month, Christos Sartjetakis received medical care, schooling and loving letters from Honor Society members. Replied Sartjetakis in Greek: "I will try to be a good boy!"

Another first for Honor Society in international relations was the honorary induction of Tigard's Ecuadorian exchange student, Rebeca Maldonado.

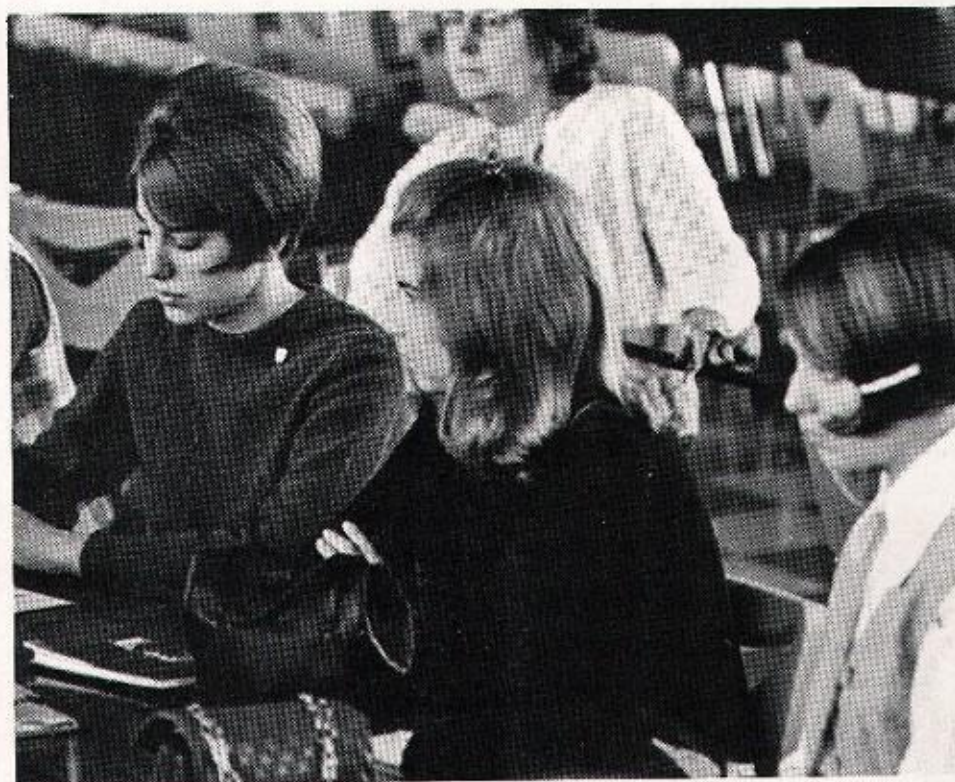

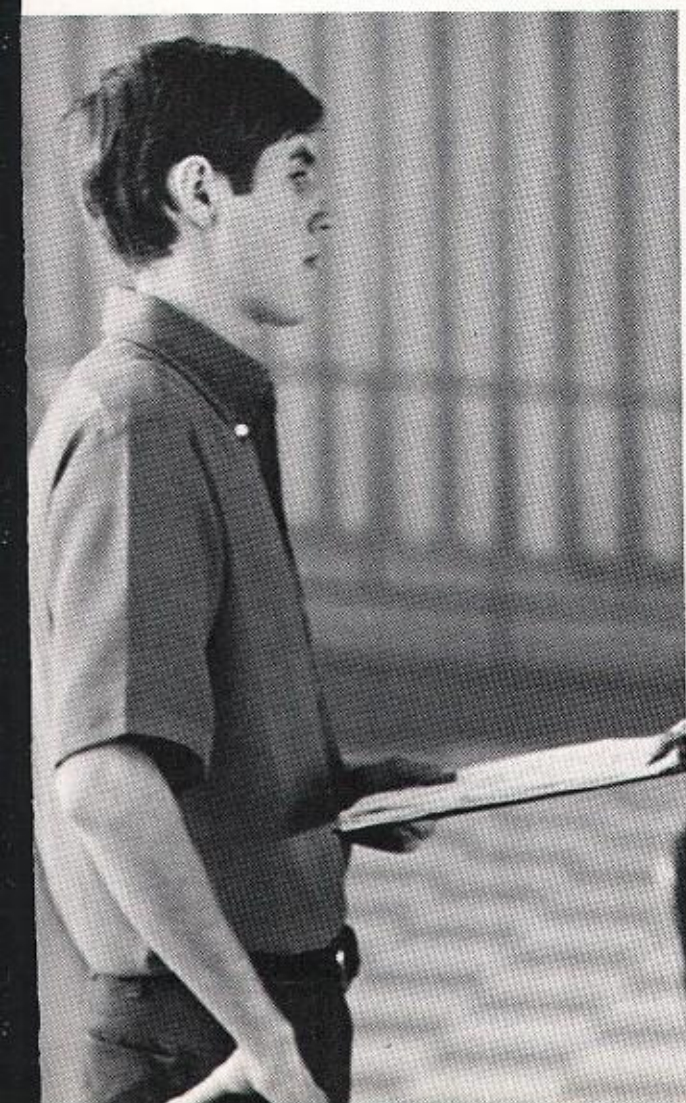

Because of the high GPA required to join Honor Society, just belonging was a privilege.

The club sold tickets at all football, basketball and wrestling games. They also put on a mixer during basketball season and co-sponsored the Christmas dance. Advisor was Mrs. Margaret Bergseng.

TRI-HI-Y

'Fun' Group Provides Service Projects

The purpose of Tri-Hi-Y was "to have fun doing our service projects," stated Kathy Benz, president.

Gail Bieker, vice-president; Patty Smith, treasurer; and Judy Helms, historian, echoed this idea.

Tri-Hi-Y affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association, provided access to "Y" facilities and activities.

The club's first community service project culminated on Thanksgiving. A needy Tigard family was given a full dinner.

During Christmas, gifts were given to two Tigard families. The girls also collected $80 by selling candy for the YMCA World Service program. Proceeds went to impoverished overseas "Y's."

New members for the club were chosen in the spring. Juniors and sophomores had to collect "service points" by doing odd jobs for teachers. A committee of the old and incoming officers decided membership.

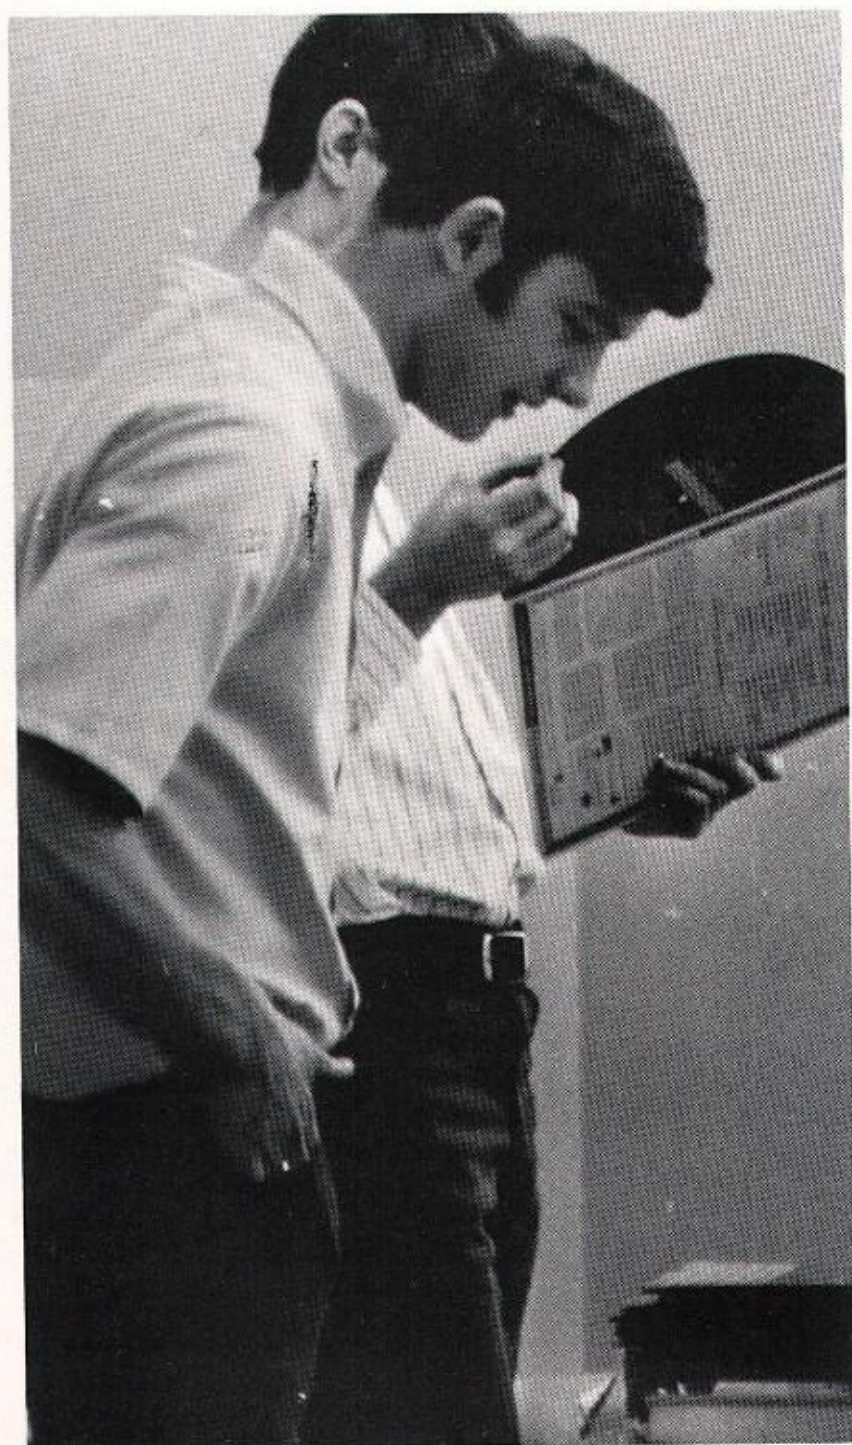

Three THS Tri-Hi-Y members were elected to important positions for the YMCA sponsored Youth and Government. This program is held every year in Salem to acquaint students with Oregon's state government. Helen Bishop was elected secretary of state; Barbara Evelsizer, committee chairman; Joleen Gedney, senator.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Influential IRL Club Loses 5-Year Adviser

IRL was Tigard's biggest and busiest club. Although called the International Relations League, the club was equally concerned with school and community.

John Ulwelling was the club's adviser. He kept things moving fast through his IRL classes, first and second period.

After five years at THS, the dynamic young instructor was social studies department head. IRL Club his "baby." Three years ago it was named the top in the state.

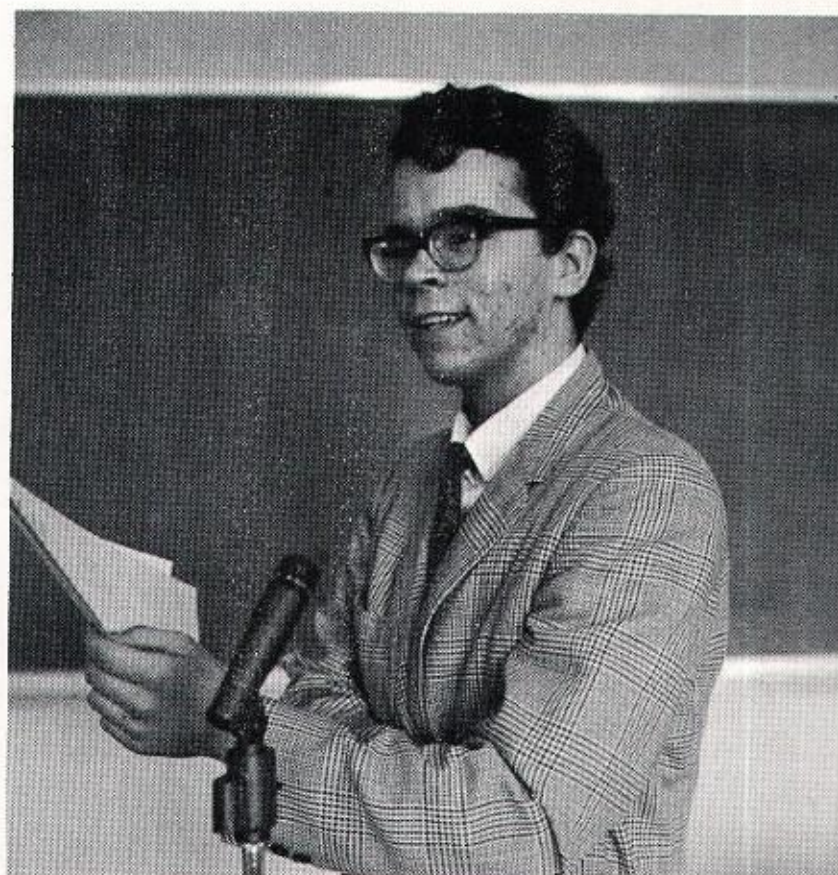

Ulwelling had achieved his goals at Tigard. He resigned to either teach at the college level or to enter the business world.

Supporting Tigard's AFS program was the club's main purpose. They contribute $650 yearly. IRL also helps find homes for the foreign students.

Many unusual activities paid the club's preceding year's debts and put them $900 ahead. A trip to the Riverview Abbey Cemetery and Crematorium started things off. Next, the group made and sold Christmas wreaths and candles. They put on a talent show. Making the most money was a concert held by the New Oregon Singers in April.

Other non-profit activities provided fun and learning. IRL brought senate candidates Robert Packwood and Wayne Morse to speak to the student body. Also, they took a field trip to Mt. Hood during Christmas to gather boughs for wreaths.

Club officers were: George Hoselton, president; Linda Muller, vice-president; Colleen Sweeney, treasurer and Lynn Torland, secretary. Jordis Hoyt was in charge of the scrapbook.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Jobs Goal Of Business Group

Preparing students for future job security was the purpose of Commercial Club.

An offshoot of THS's business department, the club was advised by Mrs. Margaret Berseng. President Vicki Gunderson, and vice president, Jan Chavez, were business students.

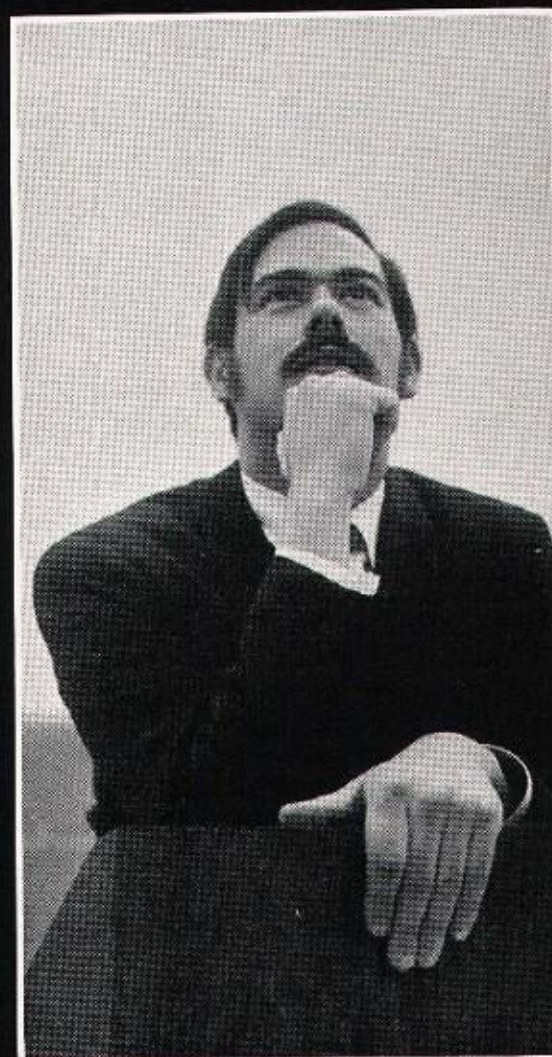

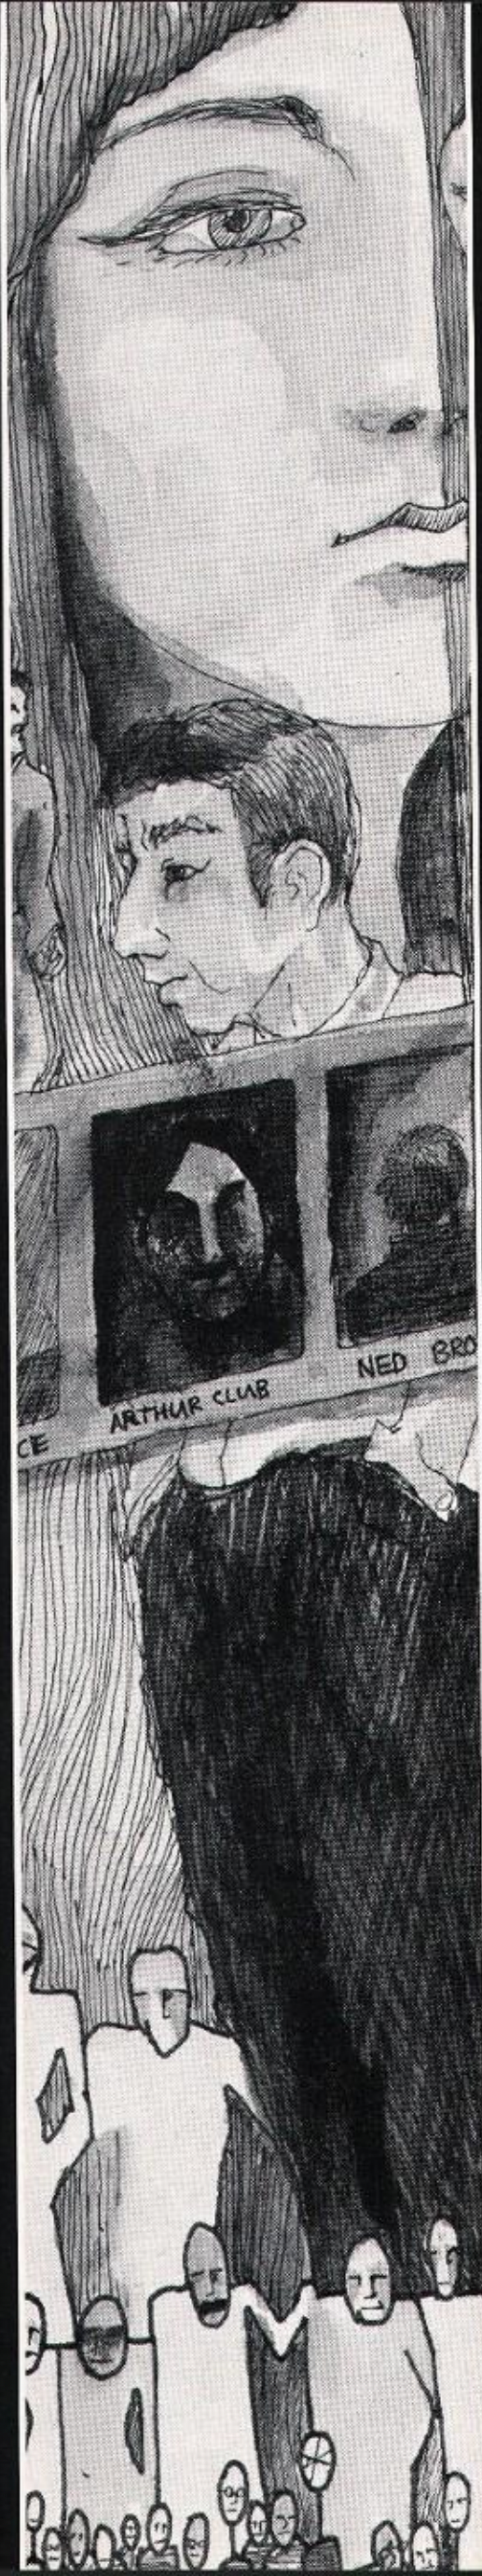

Mrs. Berseng prepared members for the federal and state civil service exams in April. The material in FBI placement exams was also studied. Actual job placement was one of the important club activities.

SERIOUSLY CONCENTRATING, job applicant Ann Stites fill out interview form.

IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE, April Bennett asks adviser, Mrs. Margaret Berseng to clarify a statement.

PEOPLE

ADMINISTRATION

Its What's Up Front That Counts

Life was never dull or easy for THS's administrators. Being the mind, heart, and pocketbook for over 1,000 people was a wearying responsibility.

The duties of principal, Darwin Shinn, carried him all over the school. He spent hours walking through the building.

Vice-principal, Bill Bieker, kept in contact with the students through his varied responsibilities. He was in charge of discipline and managed the school's money. He was also activities manager.

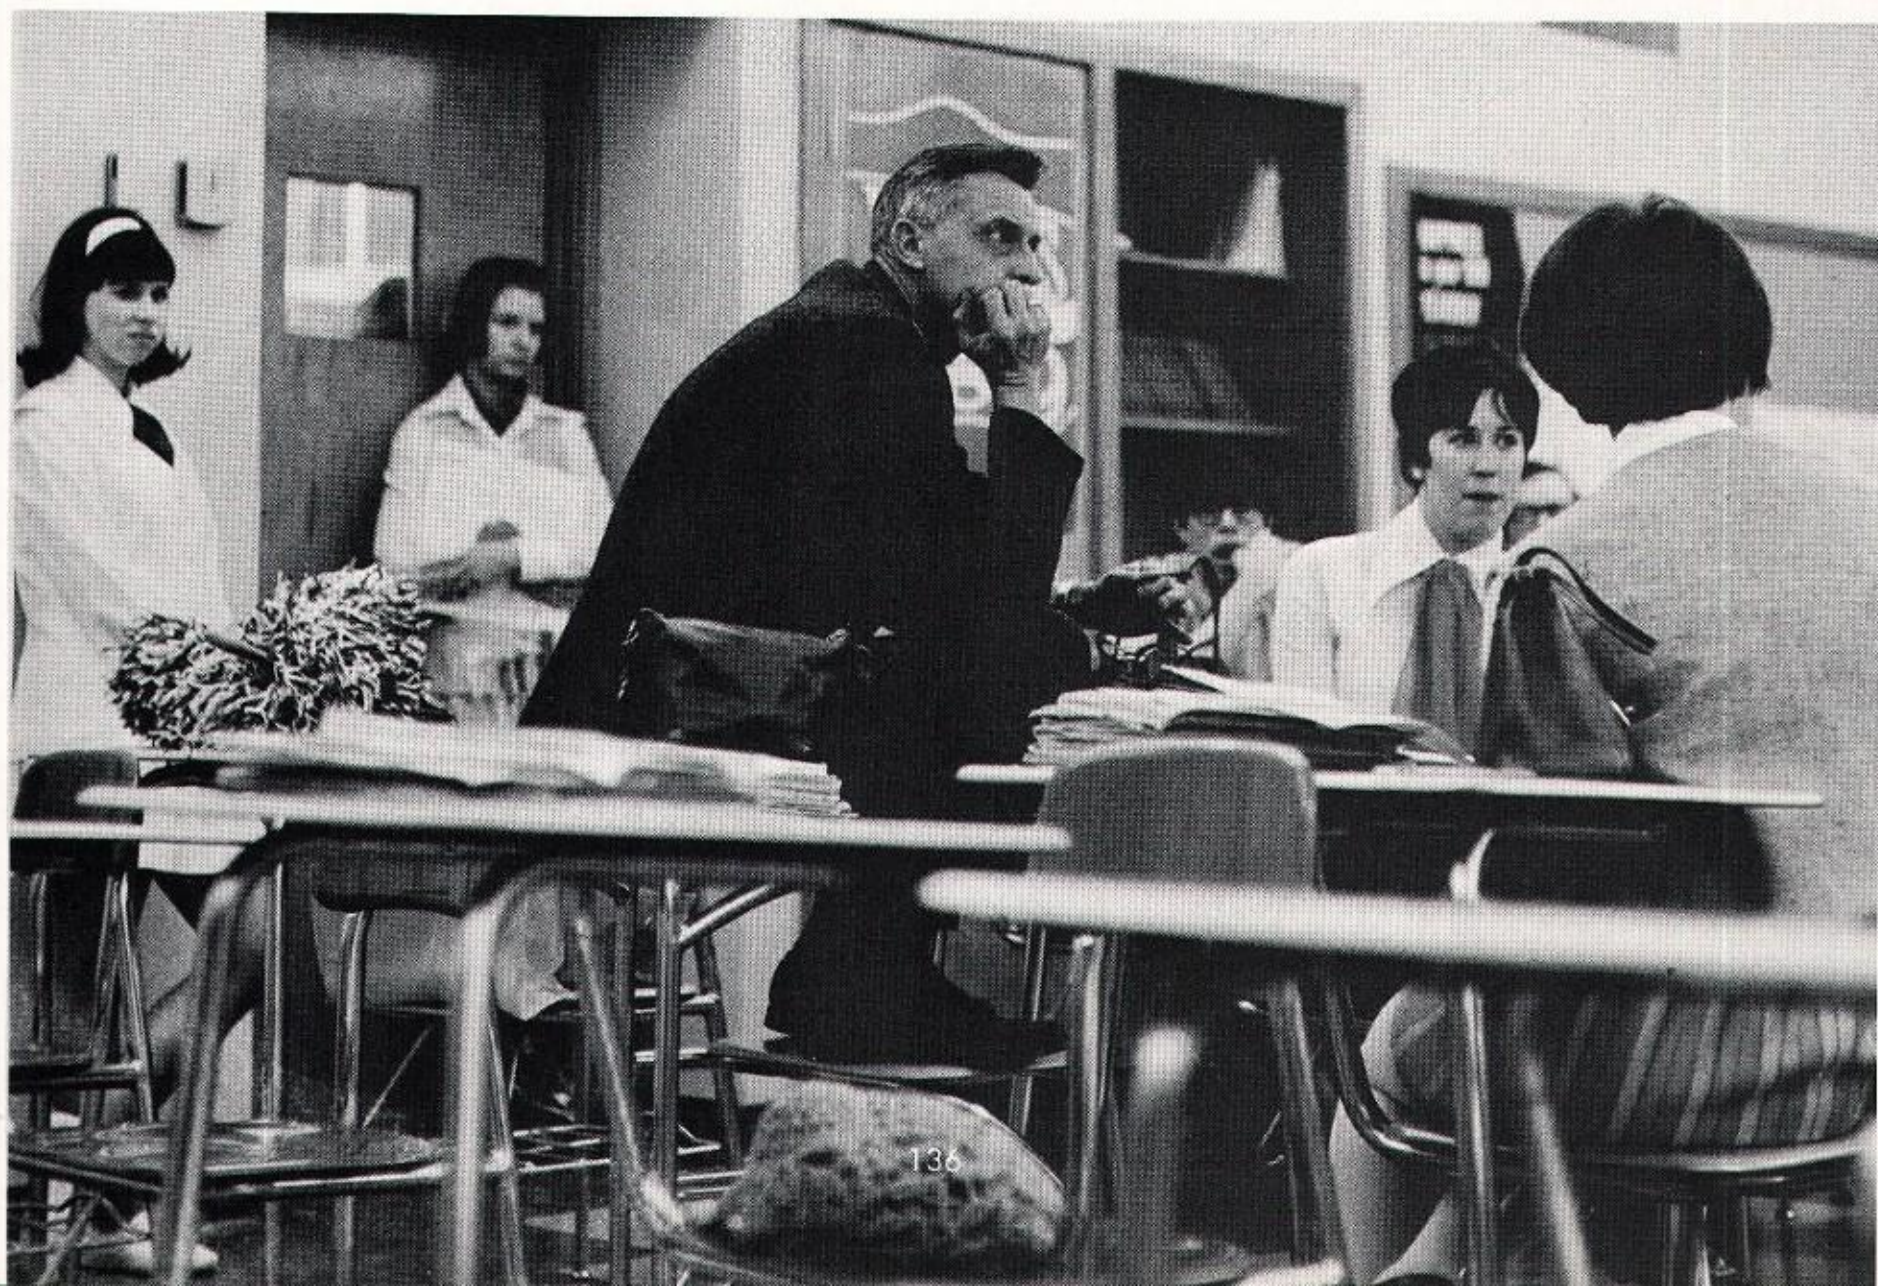

Because of a lack of time to handle all these jobs, Modern Problems teacher, Bill Hill was named activities manager for the following year.

The jobs of principal and vice-principal frequently overlapped. Resulting problems were aired through an open system of communication.

UNDERSTANDING a 17-year-old is the job being tackled by Vice Principal Bill Bieker.

BRIDGING THE COMMUNICATIONS GAP, Principal Darwin Shinn goes to students for answers to school problems.

SCHOOL BOARD

Merger Nets Broad Educational Base

To build broader educational services, five school districts, Elementary and High, Metzger, Durham, and Tualatin, merged into one unified district.

Previously, there were four elementary districts whose students attended the two junior highs and THS. Each of these districts was under the jurisdiction of separate boards of directors.

The new, unified-district put everything under the direction of one school board. This gave the elected board a heavier work load but provided community advantages.

Continuity in curriculum will be provided. Extended special education facilities can now become more practical.

DECIDING ON PLANS for Tigard's proposed pool, Superintendent Delbert Fennell and Assistant Superintendent Al Pietla seem to wonder how soon anyone will be able to go swimming.

LISTENING to fellow school board members is, Vice-Chairman; Larwence Johnson.

SECRETARIES AND COUNSELORS

People-Workers Provide Listening Post

Keeping a cool head was one of the first requirements for being either a secretary or a counselor at THS. They are battered daily by hundreds of phone calls and requests for aid by Tigard students and parents.

The satisfactions from 'lending a hand' are great. The secretarial staff was always there to lend a dime or a willing ear to a complaint. The counseling team stood ready to do the best they could in helping surmount personal problems.

Drudgery was also part of the life of these dedicated people. For the secretaries, typing and filing took up much of the day. The counselors had to take time off from their important people-work to attend to the scheduling of over 1,000 students.

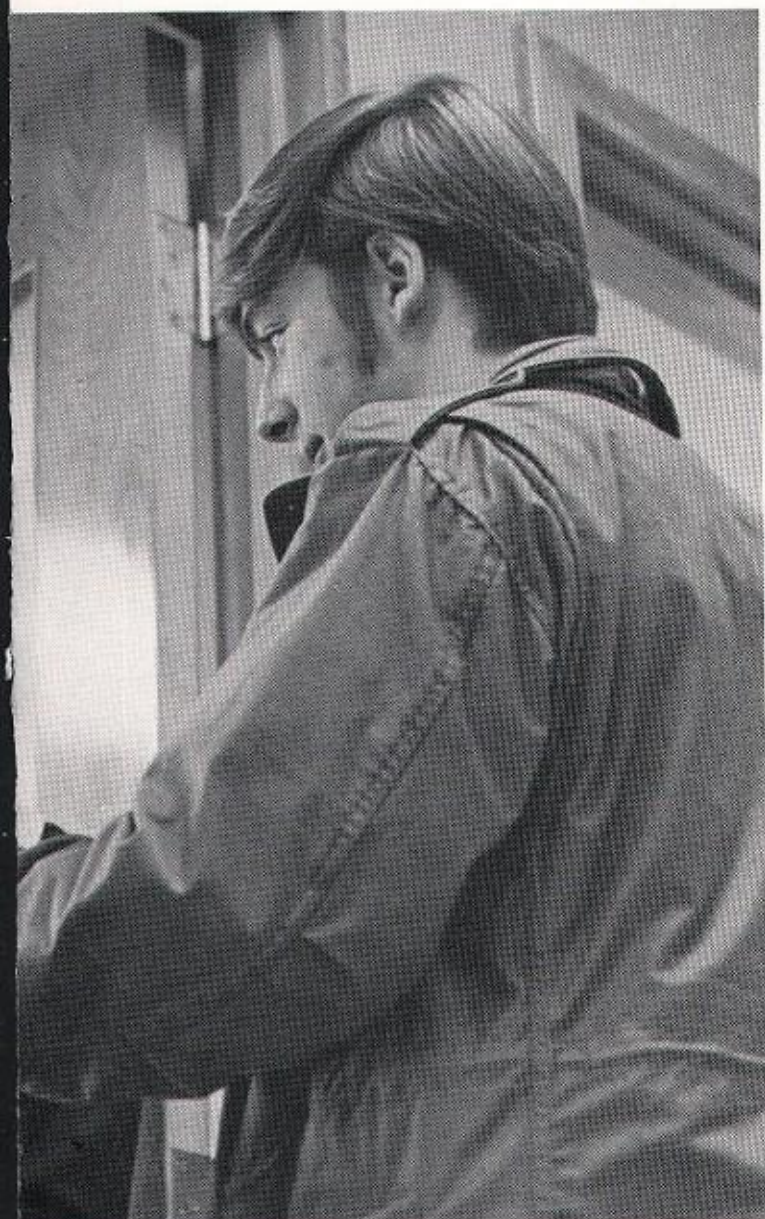

"SEEMS TO ME I'VE HEARD that song before," (above right) is the reaction of attendance secretary, Lois Larter, as Jerry Lynch launches his explanation.

GIRLS COUNSELOR Mrs. Grace Galvin is available for college counseling as well as personal chats.

SECRETARY Luann Lamper is kept busy by demanding duties.

FRONT OFFICE SECRETARY Flora Knox flashes a photographic grin.

COOKS AND CUSTODIANS

Staff Supports Students

"The only time you notice a good janitor is when he isn't there," commented head custodian, James F. Bishop.

THS never had any reason to complain. With the building and campus clean and working smoothly, the janitorial staff stayed behind the scene.

Waxing miles of halls, washing hundreds of windows, and mowing acres of lawn were just a few of the duties that keep the team busy. It wasn't the 'interesting' work, however, that kept Tigard's custodians at THS. They were interested in people.

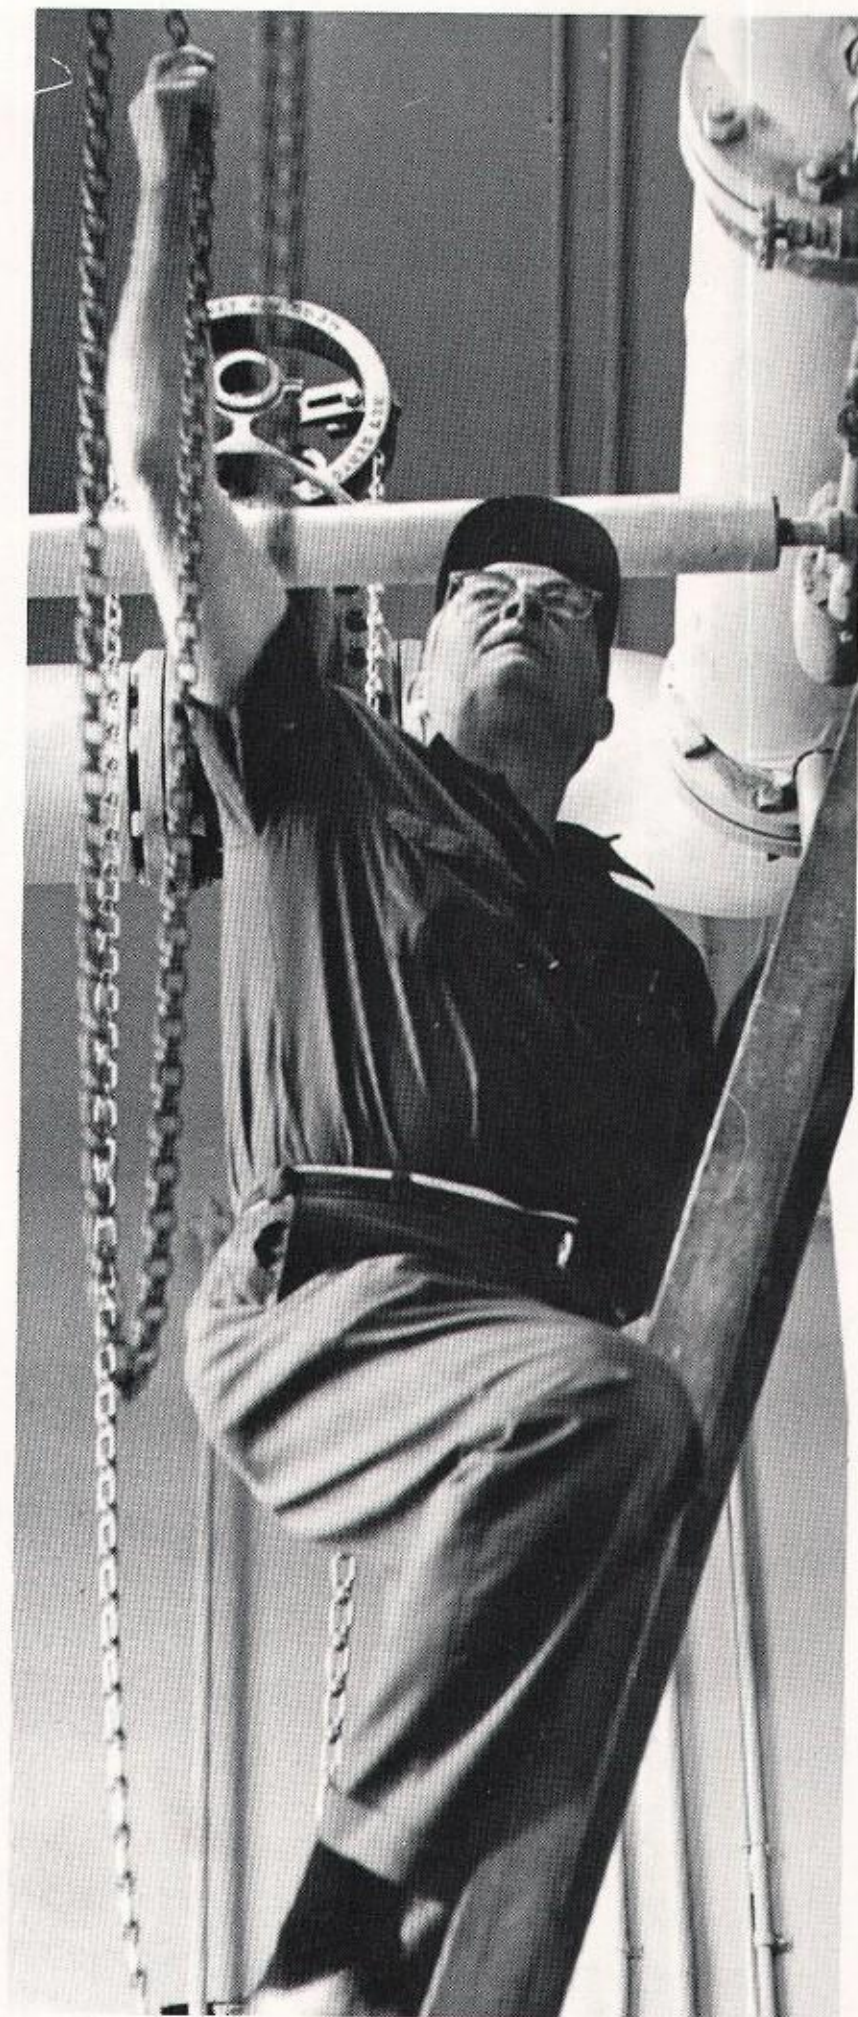

Being insulted every day was part of the job for Tigard's cafeteria staff. They accepted it all in fun, however, and shared in the laughter.

"Working with and for students is very rewarding," said Kathryn Ankersmit, head of the kitchen staff.

With state-supplied food, they fed an average of 600 students with a hot, nutritional lunch daily.

MAMOTH COOKING POT is handled by head cook, Kathryn Ankersmit.

CUSTODIAN JACK O'BRIEN is personally charged with keeping the class rooms at the right temperature.

COMPLETELY IN CONTROL, head custodian Jim Bishop keeps the school in working order.

WITH FRIENDLY SMILE Charlise Wenzinger performs one of duties as school matron.

FACULTY

Teacher's Job Has Many Facets

The course of a person's life may be moulded by his teachers. A teacher that can make the wonder of knowledge come alive to a student gives a priceless gift.

This is the job of Tigard's faculty, making facts alive and relevant. . .one of the hardest, yet most rewarding jobs today.

Tigard's faculty has grown with the student body. Sixteen instructors have boosted the total teaching staff to 51, a 20-1 student ratio.

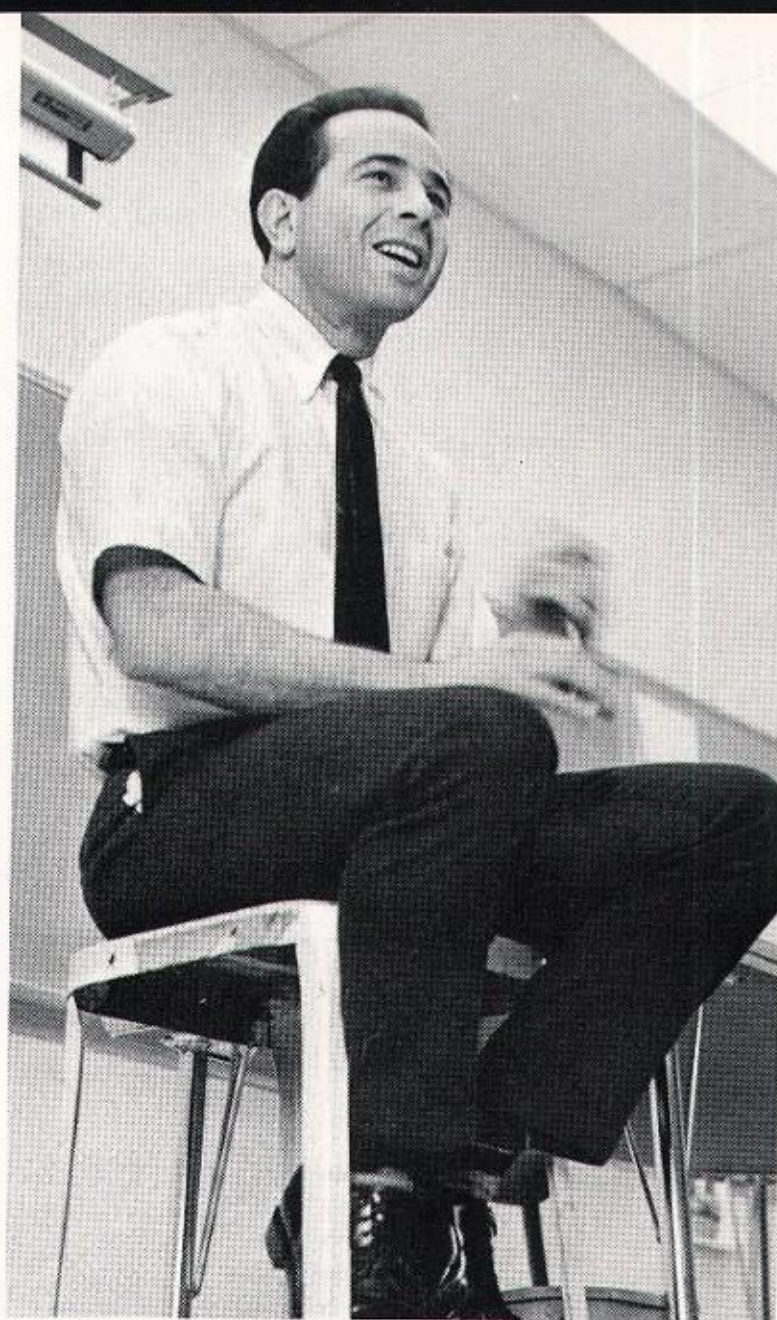

Although their job officially lasts from 7:45 to 3:45, there are numerous other commitments for Tigard's faculty.

They prepare lesson plans, correct papers and make up tests. The majority serve as advisors. There are many faculty, parent and departmental meetings. Professional conferences are scheduled throughout the year.

A survey during the school year showed that the majority of THS teachers are also enrolled as students. They are working for higher degrees, for self-improvement, or for more preparation in their subject areas.

BOY & GIRL OF MONTH

Top Tigers Shape School

Tigard High's "Boys and Girls of the Month," were individuals not overly concerned about the need for creating an "individualistic" image.

Active and interested, they were builders!

These recognized leaders excelled in a potpourri of areas: academics, activities, athletics. They made outstanding contributions to politics, speech, journalism, spirit and science.

The osmosis of their individual personalities progressively shaped the unique personality of the 1968-1969 THS school year.

Highest honors for service to the school were accorded Conrad Pearson and Gail Matthias, who were voted "Boy and Girl of the Year" by a faculty committee.

President of National Honor Society, head of the bookstore committee, business manager of the literary magazine, vice-president of Thespians, Conrad played another role: Prince Charming in "Cinderella."

He also served on the student lounge committee and was chairman of ICC's Poor Peoples Committee. He attended Beaver Boy's State last summer.

Conrad was president of his Explorer Post and was "skip" of a curling team. This fall he plans to attend Portland State College.

The summer before, Gail Matthias scoured student newspapers throughout the state to discover new activities for Tigardites. These she implemented during her senior year as the powerful activities manager.

Homecoming, Christmas Week, March of Dimes and May Week were the biggest in Tigard's history. Attendance at the Junior-Senior Prom doubled over the prior year.

Class Valedictorian, (3.89 GPA), Gail was active in IRL, FTA, FHA and Tri-Hi-Y. For two years, she ran a student public information bureau feeding dozens of THS news and features weekly to the Tigard Times.

Recipient of the $500 metropolitan scholarship from the Portland Panhellenic Mothers Club, Gail will attend Oregon State University majoring in math.

SENIORS

Upper Classmen Launch Successful Prom

Some 280 Senior Tigers combined talents and enthusiasm to provide the mainstream of '68-'69 spirit.

Outstanding individuals immersed specialists in numerous fields; Doug Vaydy, Don Hunt, Steve Thornbrue were highly recognized athletic champions; Linda Kamstra took second place in National Typing competition; class president, Eric Knudsen, gained recognition as one of the states top speech students and competed with debate partner Randy Fennell in Washington D.C.

But the class of '69 was not only a class of individuals. Teamsmanship was evident through competitive drive during inner-class activities.

The prom was a major success due completely to organization of this class.

A FIRM HANDSHAKE between honored senior Chuck Manke and Tektronix representative William Webber takes place as Chuck receives the Tektronix scholarship.

PROUD SENIORS praise and congratulate their classmate, Doug Vaday, who, due to his outstanding competition in sports, received the Outstanding Athlete Award.

HONORED SENIORS watch Larry Kott two-step back up to the podium and move to follow (l. - r.) Gail Matthias, Public Information Award; Peggy O'Farrell, Editorial-Feature Award; Linda Dean and Doug Kuns, co-Yearbook Editor Award.

JUNIORS

Leaders Come From Tiger Ranks

Tigard's 1968-'69 Junior Class was an involved and active group.

There were more Juniors on the cross country squad, swim team, football, basketball and baseball teams than ever before.

More juniors were top-ranking student council members. Scholastically, the junior class led the way. They had the largest number on the honor roll.

To contribute their share to the Junior-Senior Prom, the juniors had many money raising activities. They sold homecoming bumper stickers, ran the concession stand during basketball season, put on after-game mixers and sold hearts and suckers on Valentines Day.

One of the brightest moments of the year happened at Christmas when for the second year in a row, the class of '70 won the canned food drive. They collected 1,427 cans, or 3.96 cans per person. Junior Princess Marilyn Ems and her escort Steve Steinke were crowned King and Queen of the "Winter Fantasy".

SOPHOMORES WERE DETERMINED to work their way in and to lead them were class officers (l.-r.) Carol Johnson, class representative; Mary Silvey, secretary; Mike Mudrow, vice-president; Carol Summers, sgt-at-arms; Bill Olson, president.

SOPHOMORES

Underdogs Snatch Covited THS Pep Trophy

After a year-long battle, sophomores gained possession of the THS Pep Trophy by fighting their way to victory in the final class competitive events.

They were able to upset the senior lead by gaining an eight-point advantage over the class of '69 on the May Week field day. The classes total of 93 points were made during Homecoming, Christmas cannedfoods drive, 181 March of Dimes, May Week and pep assembly competition.

Sophomore class president, Bill Olson was aided by officers: Carol Johnson, Hope Weise, Mike Mudrow, Mary Silvey, and Carol Somers.

Starting the year in good financial standing, money matters steadily improved. A successful mixer, and a Tigard vs. Lake Oswego faculty basketball game more than paid for yearbook pictures and other expenses.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Limited Ability Students Provided Personal Touch

Helping its students to reach their maximum potential was the goal of the first THS Special Achievement class.

Newly formed by Mrs. Katherine Lutes, the program aided students to compete in the everyday, but often complex, society. After finishing, students were able to enter a trade school or junior college.

The textbooks which they studied from were made attractive for limited ability students. Standard basic arithmetic and English textbooks were used.

The pressures of getting work in at a deadline were removed because assignments were given by the month. Also, functional abilities were stressed rather than academic achievement, and students were encouraged to find hobbies which they could enjoy.

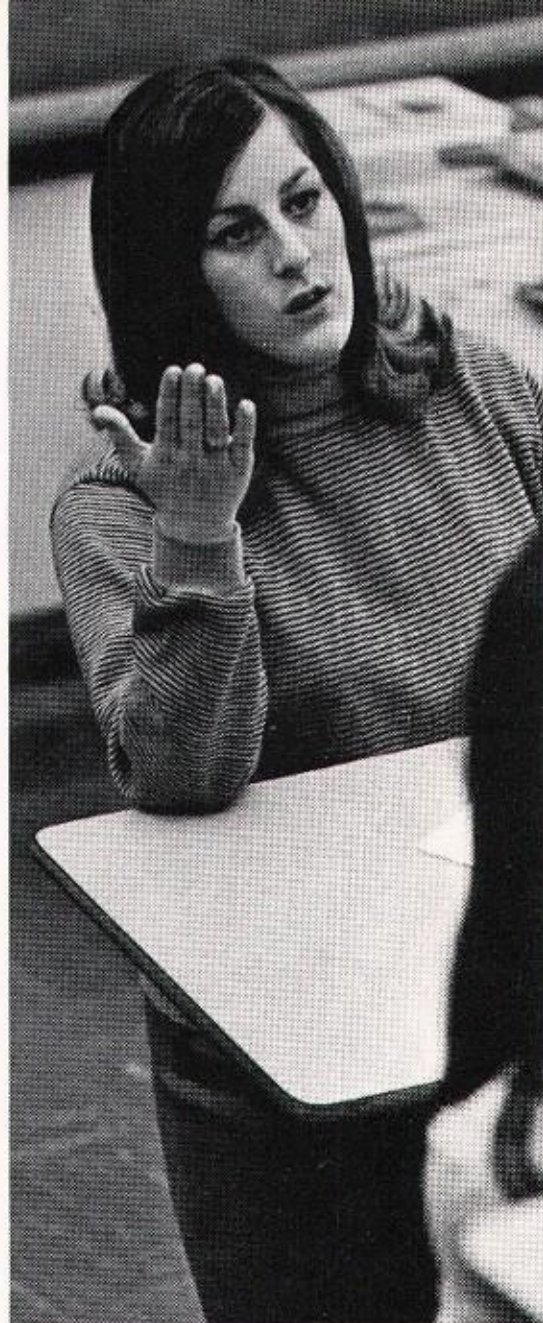

The pioneer effort handled 15 students giving each an opportunity for individual understanding.

PRACTICAL TRAINING for work bound students is included in Special Education program.

CARD SHARPS (below) gain mathematical and logical training while spending a fun hour with special student assistant Barbara Masters (far left).

FIRST-HAND ACCOUNT of duties at her new job are given by Sue Cooper, a D.O. participant.

BUSINESS DISCUSSIONS in the D.O. classroom help the students work out on-the-job problems.

A FEW TIPS FROM THE BOSS are received by Doug Seeber. Employer Robert A. Gray also helped four other Tigard boys go into house-building business for themselves.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS

Job Corps Implimented

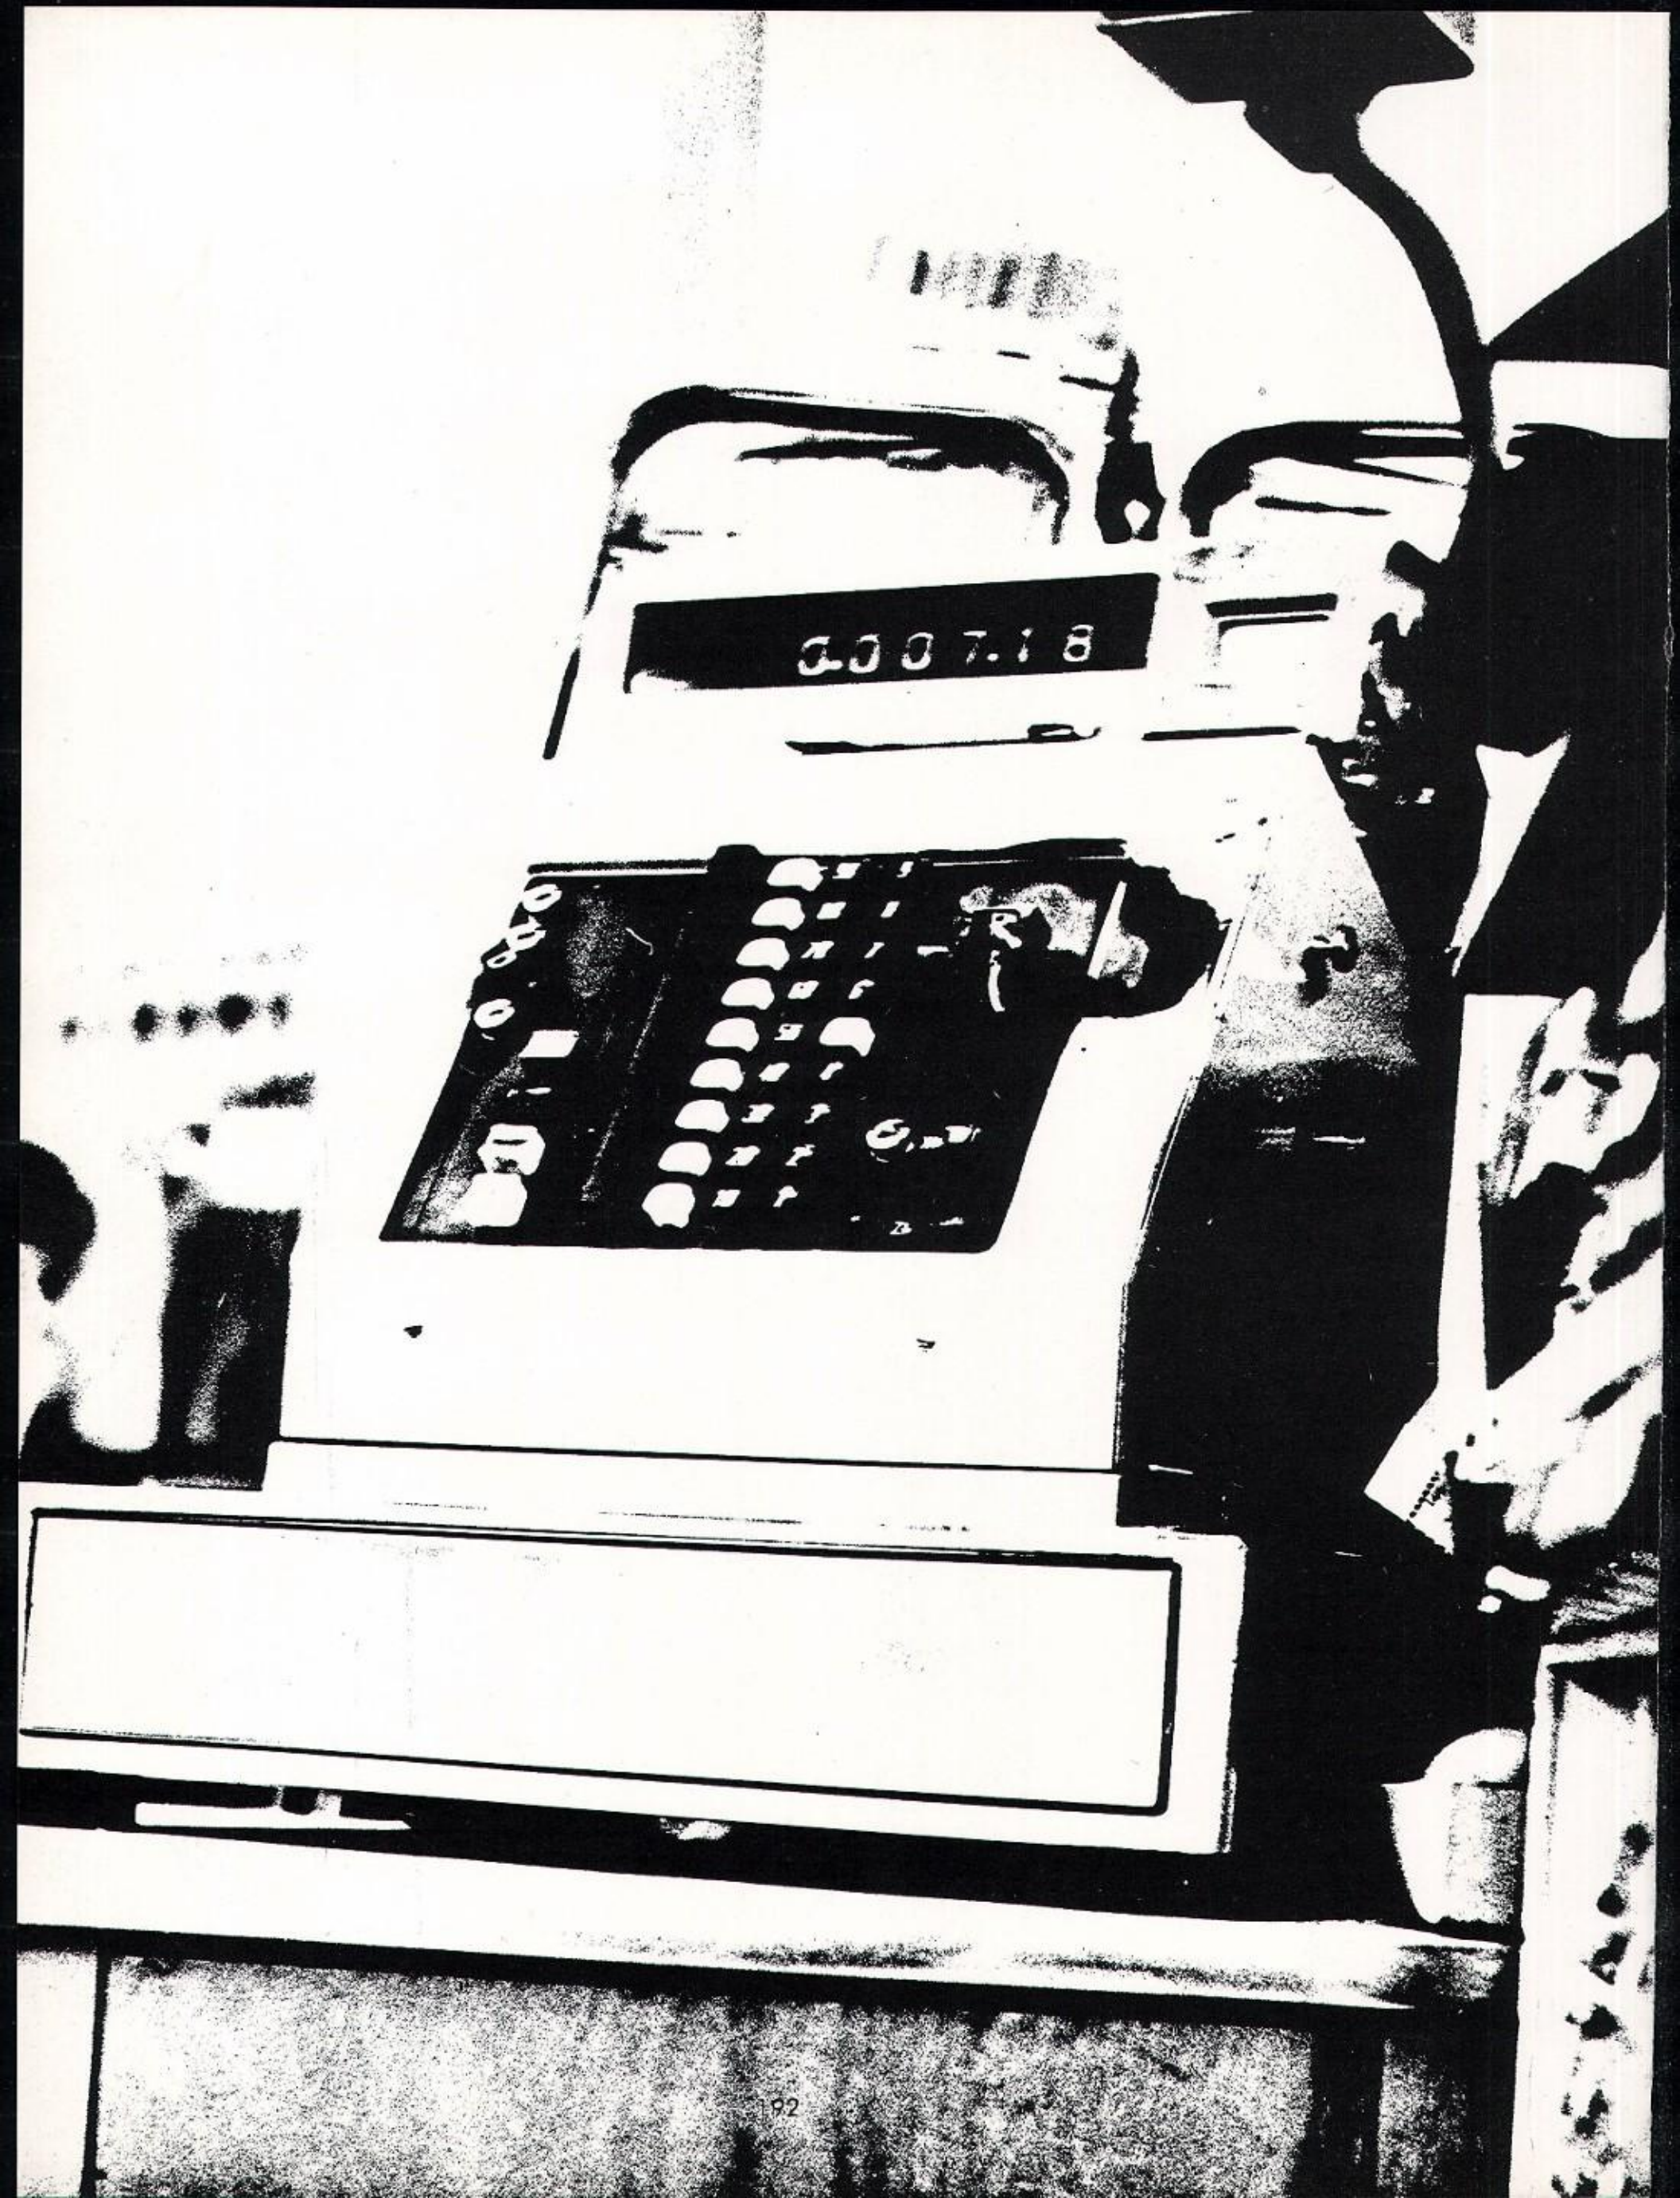

The newly-instituted D.O. program has several important aims. Students learn to accept responsibility, to find and keep employment, to confirm to business standards and to decide on future occupations.

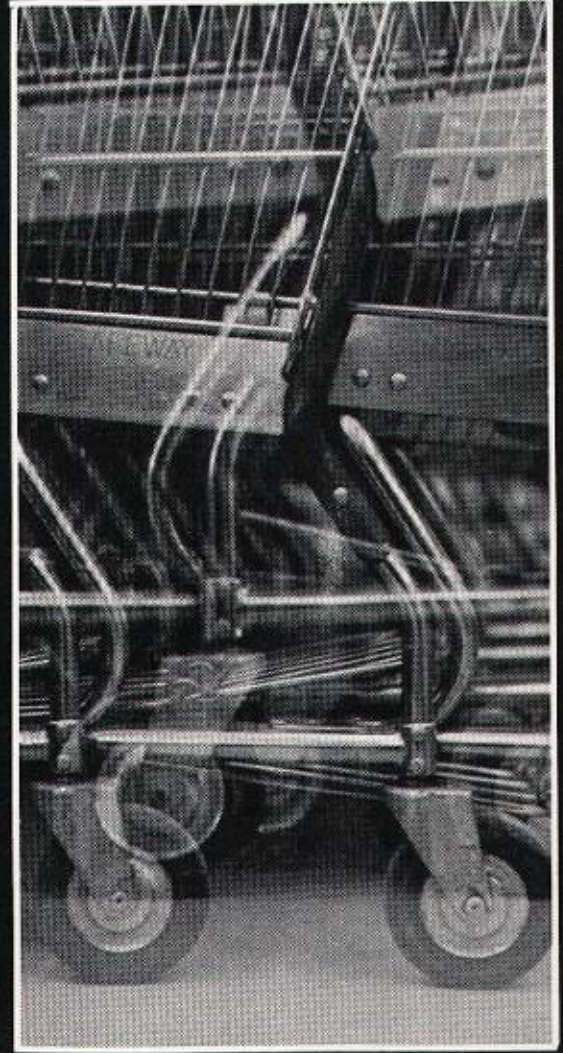

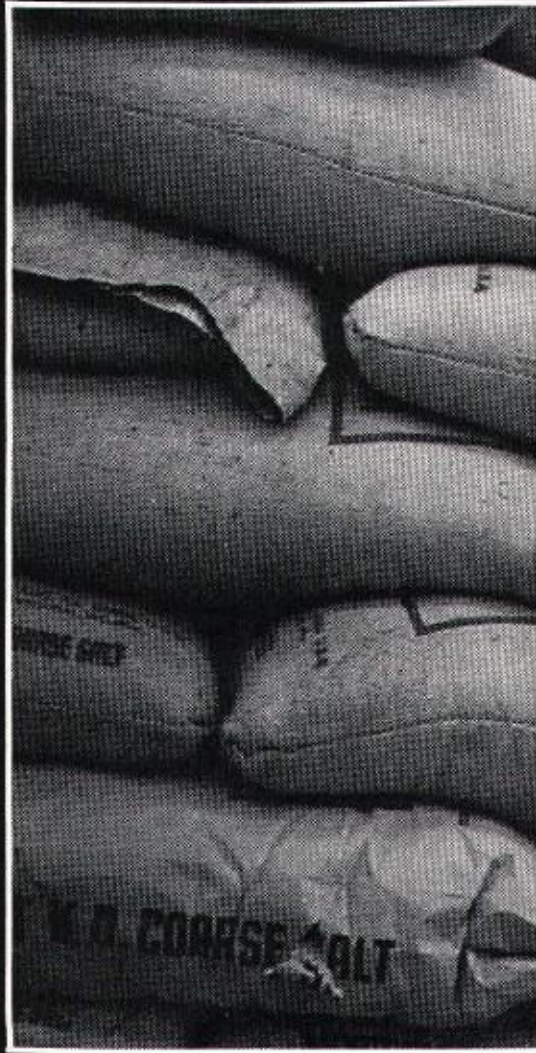

Psychology and business math are featured, as well as administration, methods in applying for jobs and personal grooming.

Of the present 29 participants, three are self-employed and do contract work. The other 26 are placed in downtown businesses where they receive on-the-job training.

The program offers high school graduation credits. One credit will be given for the academic work in class and one credit for on-the-job training.

This workexperience program is open to all seniors. . .including college-bound students.

YEARBOOK

Scribes Strive To Capsulize '69

The purpose of a yearbook is to record the events of one school year; the trend of change in students, in teachers, in administration, and in the activities.

This is one of the most tedious jobs of a school year. Yet it is rewarding.

The staff does not see the overall effect of the book until the rest of the student body does. And then they hold their breath asking themselves: have we done it?

A staff member cannot describe to anyone how a book is produced. One would have to work on the book to understand. Even then, he doesn't know everything. A yearbook is too complex for any one person. Each page is the effort and talent of several persons and many ideas.

When the final product is presented, there is pride in every member of the staff, and hope that the year has been recorded to be a lasting memory.

BOUNTIFUL BOUQUETS to Chuck Winningham who cut costs equipping a THS dark-room; Photo Bug Wayne Field and Mrs. Phyllis Hahn for constantly calming teen-panic; Bob Paffrath for frequent fatherly advice; David Koski who had strong designs on the book; Hi-Spots staffers for last-minute copy: Steven Ohm, Jane Hodges and Peggy O'Farrell.

And our very special gratitude to the "extra curricular" staff parents who fed us, transported us in the after-hour excursions!
